STARTING LONG SEASON
VEGETABLES INDOORS

Directions from A. G. Turney, Provincial Horticulturist, for Raising Plants in the House — Helps Towards Greater Production.

There are some factors, such as essential of gardening, planning the garden, varieties, seed supply, etc., which, ordinarily, should be considered first. But since some of our readers may desire to prepare for some long season vegetables by starting seed indoors—and that start must be made immediately—we must consider that subject at once—and treat of the others later.

Our average garden will contain comparatively few celery and tomato plants, and early cabbage and cauliflower, and they may be bought from the local florists or growers early in June. However, those who wish to do so, may raise their own plants of these vegetables by proceedings as follows: The seed box or flat, which is kept in the house, is the most practical device for the home gardener to use for this purpose. It should be not deeper

NINE BOILS

Kept Coming on Neck One After the Other

Anyone who has ever suffered from boils, knows how sick and miserable they make you feel.

When you think you are about cured of one, another seems ready to take its place and prolong your afflictedness. All the poulticing and jarring you may do will not cure them and stop more coming.

Boils are simply bad blood coming out, and the bad blood must be made pure before the boils disappear.

Burdock Blood Bitters is the greatest blood purifier known. It cleanses the system and removes every particle of foul material from the blood, then never another boil comes and the cure is permanent.

Mr. Geo. Ayers, 302 Gloucester St., Ottawa, Ont., writes: "I wish to tell you what I know about your wonderful Burdock Blood Bitters. In the spring I suppose my system needed cleaning out for I had nine boils come on my neck one after the other. I quickly got a bottle of B. B. B., and before it was half finished I felt a great change, and it certainly put an end to my boils. Otherwise I might have had a lot more. I recommend B. B. B. to all I can, for I know it to be a great remedy."

than three inches, from twelve to fourteen inches wide and about twenty to twenty-four inches long. Finnan had die boxes answer the purpose well. Place a layer of about one inch of gravel or cinders in the bottom of the box, and then fill to the top with garden soil. A finer seed bed may be procured by first passing the soil through a small sieve of about 1/4 inch mesh. Press the soil down firmly with a small piece of board. Crosswise of the box, mark shallow drills or furrows, 1/4 to 1/2 inch deep, and two inches apart. Sow about eight seeds to the inch in the row and cover nearly level with the surface pressing the soil slightly with the hand to firm it. Celery seed should not be covered more than 1/2 inch. Water a little and set in a warm light place, preferably just inside a sunny window. Give water from time to time, enough to keep the soil moist but not wet, but not enough to leak through the box. If the box is in a window, after the plants are up turn the box each day to prevent them growing in one direction towards the light.

When the plants are 1 1/2 inches high, thin out to two inches apart in the row. This gives them space enough to make a strong stocky growth. If you want to keep the plants which are thinned out, set them two inches apart each way in similar boxes or "flats." When the tomato plants are about five or six inches high thin out to four or five inches apart in the flat. The plants thinned out may be set, one each, in berry boxes. Then, when finally planted in the garden, the bottom of the box is cut away and the box sunk in the soil in the permanent location. This gives the plants an excellent start as the roots around the roots is not loosened or disturbed. When the cabbage and cauliflower plants begin to crowd again after first thinning out, thin out and transplant again 3 1/2 to four inches apart each way. Leave the celery plants at two inches apart. Further directions on the after handling of these plants will appear later.

For the seed, a packet of each vegetable should be plenty. The following varieties are recommended: Tomatoes, Alacery, or Early Jewel. Cabbages, Early Express or Jersey Wakefield. Cauliflowers, Early Snowball or Dwarf Erfurt. Celery, Golden Self Blanching or Perfected White Plumbe. Brussels Sprouts, (handle same as cabbage). Anager Market. Peppers, (handle same as tomatoes), Chinese Giant. Get seeds put up by a well known reliable firm. See that the packets are stamped 1918. Celery seed, particularly, is practically worthless if more than a year old. Label the rows of seed planted with name of variety and date. Approximate time required for germination: Celery, ten to twenty days; cabbage and cauliflower, five to ten days; pepper, nine to fourteen days; tomato, six to twelve days.

HOME NURSING CLASS.

The home nursing class which is being held in the Natural History rooms was last evening given a lecture in their course by Miss Gertrude MacKinnon, who is the government lecturer on health subjects in the free courses now being held in the city. Miss MacKinnon's address was greatly enjoyed, as it was given in such a clear and concise manner.

"YOU'RE LOOKING YOUNGER EVERY DAY, MOTHER"

Gray, faded hair turned beautifully dark and lustrous almost over night, is a reality, if you'll take the trouble to mix sage tea and sulphur, but what's the use, you get a large bottle of the ready-to-use tonic, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at drug stores here. Millions of bottles of "Wyeth's" are sold annually, says a well-known druggist, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has happened. You just dampen a sponge on soft brush with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. Those whose hair is turning gray, be-

A good friend and a bad enemy as free as the wild lands in which he lives. This is the description of Durand in his character of "Durand of the Bad Lands," as seen in the Fox picture, at the Star last evening. This is a regular old-time western Mexico story, Mexico being the refuge

FREE COURSES

The government free courses in Home Economics are not only being well attended they are almost crowded as every seat is taken and those present are enthusiastic over the benefits they are deriving from the excellent instruction given.

Though the weather has been stormy it has not dampened the ardor of those who enrolled and their places have been filled at each class.

It seems as if these courses will fill a long felt need and this beginning may lead to greater things in the future.

BUILDING DESTROYED.

An interesting structure was razed to the ground yesterday to the regret of those who saw its foundations laid. Much care and thought had been spent upon this building and its graceful outlines have been much admired. People used to speak particularly of the beautiful color of its walls. It had to go in the rush of progress, however, and the little boys of Princess street will know their snow fort no more this winter.

Akarley as president, has sent away $300 worth of goods to the soldiers at the front.

TO RACE AT FREDERICTON.

Fredericton horsemen are looking forward to a match race between Roy Volo, owned by Bert Lint of that city and Nancy Winston, owned by Robert Brown of St. John. The St. John horse is fast and Mr. Lint is said to be quite anxious to match his horse for a race on the Fredericton ice.

for Durand when the Bad Lands grow too hot for him and the attentions of the sheriff too pressing. It was a very popular picture as shown by the frequent applause which greeted the exploits and adventures of the gallant Durand. As well as Dustin Farnum, who is always such a favorite in the picture are Winifred Kingston, Tom Mix as the Sheriff, and a number of very amusing characters.

For the comedy, a Webber and Fields series of really very funny happenings was the offering. It was perfectly ridiculous and yet one could not help laughing and most of the audience did not try.

The complications were many and varied and the carrying of the murder scene up to the moment of the execution in a burlesque manner as it is so often done in a supposed to be realistic way, was very funny indeed and the trial scene with Ben Turpin in the jury box—a scream.

The musical setting for "Iphigenia" already has been composed by Mr. Damrosch, and during the summer he will write the score for "Agamemnon." Livingston Platt will design the settings and costumes.
