HEART TROUBLE.

A gentleman riding in a railroad train was impressed with two passengers-one a pretty, delicate-appearing young lady, and the other a plain-faced maid. While the mistress was at dinner the gentleman remarked to the maid in a tone of great sympathy: "Your young lady seems very ill." "Yes, sir; she suffers sadly." "Consumption, I should fear?"

SCOURS IN CALVES.

Editor "The Farmer's Advocate": I will give you a splendid recipe for calf scours which I have been using for the past twelve years with entire satisfaction, never having lost a calf since using it. I may say it originated from a V. S. in Woodstock, Ontario.

Take common baking flour, add cold water, stir until lumps are dissolved, When it then boil for a few minutes. cools, give the calf or young pig a few teaspoonfuls of it three or four times daily, either alone or in a little milk. It never does harm, and also acts as F. E. PETTIT. food Oxford Co., Ont.

ALFALFA-FED CATTLE WANTED.

When a train-load of cattle sold in Omaha recently for $20,000, being exactly $8.00 per hundred pounds for every steer on board, the buyers for the South Omaha packing houses said "they were among the finest ever brought to this market and were fattened on a mixture of corn and alfalfa."

The great packers have recognized that the alfalfa-fed cattle are of superior quality, and are doing all that they can to encourage feeders to mix the great protein food with corn in such proportion as will enable the stock to utilize all the carbohydrates and oil in the corn. These they cannot use without waste unless a protein ration is given as a balancer.

To encourage feeders to take up the balanced ration as the best for cattle, the packers are to have exhibits at the National Corn Exposition to be held in Omaha next December, and will show in the cuts of meat the superiority of that from alfalfa-corn-fed steers. It will be one of the most interesting exhibits ever shown at any exposition, and the expense will be entirely paid by the packers .- Live-stock Report.

Wit is not precisely the quality best calculated to make friends for a man, yet, though wit is one of the salient virtues of Thomas McKean, the author of "The Master Influence," and one or two other novels, his list of friends is long and loyal. Among them, however, is no longer numbered a distressingly dull acquaintance who hailed him a month or two ago when he was in a hurry to go elsewhere.

"Say, McKean," he began, "I want to consult you about a scheme of mine. I have a couple of ideas in my head-" "Have you?" said McKean. "And you want my advice? Very well, my advice is: Keep them there. Keep them there, man-they may breed."
