

Big Ben

For 1912—resolve it men,
You're Johnny-on-the-spot—Big Ben.

There's no fun in doing things when you have to—and there's no credit in doing them either.

So instead of squeezing through in the very nick of time, make it a point to punch the clock five minutes before the crowd.

Be at your desk while the bunch is filing in—begin your day's work with a flying start.

It's sure to get around to the old man's ears.—“Five minutes early, sometimes ten, it raises salaries” says Big Ben.

Big Ben is a thin, beautiful and punctual sleepmeter.—There is a true ring to his morning greeting that makes early risers sit up and take notice.

He is easy to read, easy to wind and pleasing to hear.—He calls you every day at any time you say.

A community of clockmakers stands back of him—Westclox, La Salle, Illinois. If you cannot find him at your dealer, a money order for $3.00 addressed to them will bring him duty charges paid.

EASY-ROWING, COMFORTABLE ROW BOATS

Buy one of our easy-rowing, comfortable row-boats for family use or fishing purposes. Light weight, yet built to withstand rough usage, such as is encountered on rocky shores of Georgian Bay and Muskoka Lakes.

Our canoes, too, are staunchly built, yet light weight. On that account they are favored by guides when there is a lot of portaging to do.

His Guess.—New German Governness—“Zo much for zat great genius. And vat also is ze name of ze ozer great genius, always coupled in our minds wiz Schiller?”

Reginald—“Charybdis.”—Punch.

Minister's Usefulness.—Among the members of a fashionable country club of Washington are a doctor and a minister, who delight in the exchange of repartee touching their respective professions.

As they met one day, the minister observed that he was “going to read to old Cunningham,” adding (as he was aware that the old man was a patient of his friend, the doctor), “Is he much worse?”

With the gravest of expressions, the physician replied:

“He needs your help more than mine.”

Off his guard, the minister exclaimed anxiously: “Poor fellow! Is it as bad as that?”

“Yes; he is suffering from insomnia.”—Lippincott's.

Hereditary. — “Grandma,” said Brewster's young son one day, “which of my parents do I resemble?”

“Both,” the grandmother answered. “You have your mother's remarkable capacity for spending money and your father's absolute genius for not making it.”—Kansas City Star.

Unpopular.—“How do you like your new minister's wife?”

“Not very well. She's just as stylish as the rest of us.”—Detroit Free Press.

How the War Started.—General F. D. Grant, apropos of the uselessness of arbitration as exemplified in the case of the Turko-Italian war, said the other day in New York: “It reminds me of a story. According to this story, a war was going on, and one day, the papers being full of the grim details of a bloody battle, a woman said to her husband: ‘This slaughter is shocking. It's fiendish. Can nothing be done to stop it?’ ‘I'm afraid not,’ her husband answered. ‘Why don't both sides come together and arbitrate?’ she cried. ‘They did,’ said he. ‘They did, way back in June. That's how the goldurned thing started.’”

Easily Satisfied.—Amateur Nimrod—“Can you show me any bear tracks?”

Native—“I kin show you a bear.”

Amateur Nimrod—“Thanks, awfully, old chap. Tracks will suffice.”—New Orleans Picayune.

A Good Reason.—Homely Pug Dog—“I guess I know why my mistress takes me everywhere with her.”

Handsome Dog—“Why?”

Homely Pug Dog—“Because it's a consolation for her to have something along with her that's homlier than she is.”

Gave Him a Jar.—“Am I required to exchange wedding gifts in the department from which they were purchased?”

“Not at all,” said the floor-walker.

“Thank you. I would like to exchange a rose-jar for a frying-pan.”—Washington Herald.

Cause and Effect.—“Was her gown cut low?” she asked.

“Yes, indeed. Low and behold,” he answered.—Life.

The Eternal Question.—“My wife made me what I am!”

“Have you forgiven her yet?”—Satire.

Mule Sense.—“Kicking is bad policy. Behold the mule. Kicking never gets him anywhere.”

“That is exactly why the mule kicks. He doesn't want to get anywhere.”—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Just WHY

You Can ALWAYS Have a

Clean Sink

If You
Use

Old Dutch Cleanser

Because no dirt, grease or grime can withstand its wonderful action. The thick scum which often gathers on the sides and bottom of the sink and defies soap-cleaning, disappears like magic when Old Dutch Cleanser is used.

Sprinkle Cleanser into sink; rub briskly with scouring brush around sides and bottom. Then wash off with clean water. No hard scrubbing or scraping required.
