

By some curious mistake, I seem to have left, at Ottawa, the account for the photographs, payment of which I had meant to send at the time of writing. As soon as I get back, I shall see that payment is immediately made.

Meanwhile, I should like you to feel that no acknowledgment could adequately express my appreciation of all that you have so kindly done to give to the victory of 1940, the place it will always have in my memory in association with my grandfather's life and work.

By an interesting coincidence, I placed on my table, the same day, an autographed photograph of the King and Queen received at Christmas but which I had not framed only a short time before. It makes me very happy to think that to this association has been added that brought by juxtaposition of the Queen and Queen Mother.

With warmest personal regards,

Believe me, dear Mr. Lyonde,
