

and the election shall in other respects proceed as if section 5 of this article had not been passed.

Ballot.

Sec. 7.—A Life or Active member may compel a ballot to be taken by notifying any member of the Executive of such his desire. When a ballot is demanded, the election shall proceed as provided by section 8, unless the application be withdrawn.

Sec. 8.—On a ballot being demanded the Secretary-Treasurer shall post a notice to this effect at the Club house or winter premises, as provided in section 6 of this article, stating the particulars required by section 2, and the place and time fixed for the proposed ballot. No ballot shall be held until such notice has been posted one week.

Each member voting shall write his name on a card and insert the same with a white or black ball in the ballot box. The Secretary-Treasurer and one member of the Executive, or, in the absence of the Secretary-Treasurer, two members of the Executive, shall, after the hour fixed for the close of the ballot, open the box and ascertain the result. One black ball in five shall exclude, and no ballot shall be valid unless twenty-five votes be cast. In the event of an irregularity in the ballot affecting the result, another or more ballots may be held at such time, and on such notice as the Executive shall direct, but no ballot shall be declared void for irregularity not affecting the result.

Sec. 9.—An Active member in good standing may become a Life member on being elected in the usual manner.

Sec. 10.—An Inactive member in good standing may become a Life or Active member on being elected in the ordinary manner.

Sec. 11.—No rejected applicant shall be
