

CELEBRATES FORTIETH ANNIVERSARY

FATHER M'MENAMIN HONORED BY HIS MASSEY FRIENDS

Massey, July 16.—Over one hundred and fifty guests responded to Rev. D. P. McMenamin's invitation to celebrate the fortieth anniversary of his priesthood at the Church of the Immaculate Conception at Massey on Sunday, July 8. The celebration was on a grand scale, and one that will long remain in the memory of those fortunate enough to attend. The church was elaborately decorated with flags and the altars resplendent with flowers and candles, while a large wreath of flowers centred about an orchid. Hand-painted "40" was placed at the top of the main altar, giving an artistic touch to the tout ensemble. Leonard's High Mass in E. Flat was sung by the choir under the able direction of Mrs. M. Osborne.

Rev. Father Brennan, pastor at Espanola, and cousin of Father McMenamin, in an eloquent sermon on "Priesthood," referred in feeling terms to the jubilarian's life as a priest, and made his audience truly feel the magnitude of the effects his enterprise and endeavors for good had had in the various spheres in which his life's work had been cast. Towards the end of the service, and previous to the benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, a number of men representing both nationalities of the parish, came forward and presented Father McMenamin with a well filled purse and two addresses, the French one read by Dr. J. J. McDermott, in which were set forth in expressive terms the sentiments of his congregation, as well as those of other denominations, to whom he had endeared himself in the two years in which he has been among them, and laudatory of the great work he has done in that short space of time.

After the service, Father McMenamin was the host at lunch served on the rectory lawn to over one hundred guests, while the Massey band rendered various well executed selections, and at which he was further honored by his Espanola friends with the presentation of an address and a purse. Among the guests from Espanola were: Messrs. E. Arthur, P. M. & M. P.; Arthur Regan; Joe Donegan, Martin Carpenter, LeBaron Diblee, Cassius Belden, representing the mill, in the unavoidable absence of General Superintendent W. J. Hussey; Chier Maroney, H. Clavette, J. Voif, Joe Mason, Hugh McNeily, Nicholas Arthurs, Paluck Gouge, Dr. Frank McCarroll, C. F. Belden.

ETNA VESUVIUS

TREMENDOUS ERUPTIONS STIR GREAT POPULATIONS

Paris, July 12.—An eyewitness thus describes the terrors of the world's great volcanoes, Vesuvius and Etna. Since the beginning of the twentieth century hardly a year has passed unmarked by eruptions of the Neapolitan volcano. Recently, for a period of fifteen days, Vesuvius after resting quiet for a period of three months, was again in action. Since the early part of June the cone situated on the wide platform which constitutes the foot of the crater, at a height of 20 metres, has been projecting powerful columns of fiery matter and torrents of lava which have invaded all the section of the east and south-east, transforming it into a veritable burning marsh. This phenomenon, according to the observations of professors, was in consequence of the heavy rains of last February in Europe, especially Italy.

Although the projections from Vesuvius are not as rapid as those of the Philippine and Hawaiian volcanoes, which are the most powerful on earth, the eruptions of Vesuvius are often preceded or accompanied by shakings of extreme violence which might provoke the earthquakes. In 1906 many hundreds of peasants were buried under the ruins of churches and private dwellings. To geologists each individual volcano has its own peculiar characteristics, varying considerably from those of others. The eruptions of Vesuvius usually begin by convulsions of the earth, these convulsions being followed by emissions of steam and violent ejections of stones of greater or less size. The noise made by these projectiles resembles that of cannon. A cone forms at the base of the crater which can be seen by the naked eye when no lava or cinders are being ejected.

STOP OVER IN THE MOUNTAINS No journey across Canada is complete without a sojourn however brief among the majestic awe-inspiring mountains. Even a one-day stop-over at Jasper Park Lodge, that delightful rustic Alpine Chalet by the side of Lac Beauvert in the heart of Jasper National Park up in the Northern Canadian Rockies gives untold compensations. This glorious mountain playground is the largest National Park in the world, embracing 4,400 square miles of mountain grandeur. There are sublime snow-capped mountains, a number of which have never been named and hundreds of which tower between 7,000 and 10,000 feet in altitude, glaciers both small and great, wild mountain torrents, leaping through gorges and tumbling in white foaming cataracts; snow-fields and clear sparkling lakes that gleam like jewels in their setting of green. Riding, mountain climbing, boating on Lac Beauvert and swimming in the cool Alpine tarns are the chief attractions of this park, while practically every other healthful recreation may be indulged in. There is a good tennis court and a golf course under construction. Write any of the Canadian National Railways for handsomely illustrated booklet.
