Stockman's Notice

Every Farmer and Poultryman should test HERSEE'S RELIABLE STOCK AND POULTRY FOOD. Why! you say. Because it is made to do you good, make you money, put that horse that's out of condition in good condition, that cow to give more milk, to make calves grow quickly, your fowl to produce more eggs. Now don't be skeptical. You may have had a dose of something that was poor stuff, and you may have reasons; you may have bought a poor pound of tea once, but you have bought a good many pounds that were all right. Now if you want to have better stock, better calves, more eggs, why feed HERSEE'S RELIABLE STOCK AND POULTRY FOOD, which so many are using now. Stock Food sells for, in sacks, 50c.; 25 lb. pails $2.50. Poultry Food, pkg. 25c. Sold by leading dealers or sent direct. Particulars free. Largest Manufacturers of Stock and Poultry Supplies in the province.

SHIPPERS OF FIRST GRAIN

Writing to "The Farmer's Advocate" with reference to an article in our special issue of December 15, C. J. Turnbull, manager of Steele Briggs Seed Co., says:

"In your Christmas number, page 1750, there appears an article headed 'Handled First Wheat of the West,' in which claim is made that the Ogilvie Milling Co. were the shippers and owners of the first wheat taken from Western to Eastern Canada. It is quite evident that the Ogilvie Milling Co. are laboring under misapprehension. This same claim was made last year, and we then took occasion to correct it through the columns of the daily press. Evidently that explanation escaped the notice of the milling company.

"We regret having to appear again in this matter, but it should be set right from the standpoint of historical fact. As Canadians with in-born pride we do not care to stand idly by and let others make claims to which they are not entitled. The position of original pioneer shippers of wheat from the West belongs to our company (then under the style of Steele Bros. & Co.). The date of the shipment was October 21st, 1876 (two years before Ogilvie's shipment, as stated by them), and it holds the indisputable record of being the first
