

The Review remarks that the Eastern States and Canada will benefit from the shorter distance and lower rates of the Nicaragua canal route, but not so materially as the Pacific Coast, whose shippers will be brought into direct competition with their hitherto invulnerable rivals of the old world. In connection with the British Columbia salmon trade we notice that the Primera with the last cargo for the season of 1893-4 reached London, August 13, having left Victoria on December 17, whereas by way of Nicaragua it would have been possible for her to make the passage in sixty days without transshipping instead of as was actually the case 239 days, in which, moreover, was involved the dangerous and difficult rounding of Cape Horn. This is a consideration worthy of the greatest attention and in view of the practicability of the enterprise it is to be hoped that quiet will soon be restored in the disordered republic.

THE new U. S. Tariff Bill has become law without the President's official sanction. He says it did not go sufficiently far to meet with his approval, still he regarded it as a step in the right direction, and allowed it to go into operation which would be the effect of his not interposing his veto.
