JACK JOHNSON IS NOW IN CANADA

He Got Across the Border and is Now in Montreal Awaiting Ship.

MONTREAL, June 27.—Jack Johnson, the negro pugilist, accompanied by his white wife, arrived in Montreal early this morning, having come through direct from Chicago. During the day he moved six times from houses where he had engaged rooms, in an effort to evade newspaper men, and the possibility of a clash with the immigration officials. Last night, however, he called at the Montreal Gazette office and made the following statement:

"I will remain in Montreal until next Tuesday, when I am booked to sail for Europe. I intend going direct to St. Petersburg, where I have a contract to fight Sam Langford and 'Gunboat' Smith. These fights will be pulled off some time in September."

Johnson stated that the immigration authorities made no effort to stop him at the Canadian line. He claims there is $23,000 due him in Toronto, and he came this way to collect it before sailing for Europe. He also says he does not forfeit his bail bond, as it only requires his presence in court in Chicago next November. He declares he has no intention of forfeiting this bail bond, but will return to the Windy City on the date set for the hearing of his appeal from the conviction in the white slave case.

Tom Flanagan, manager of Johnson, could not be located last night. It was thought that he could explain the champion's statement relative to the above mentioned $23,000. As far as can be learned he did not stop in Toronto.

A Way to Get Johnson Back
CHICAGO, June 27.—As soon as agents of the Department of Justice received a report that Jack Johnson had been seen in Montreal, they began a search. At Johnson's home here it was stated that the pugilist had gone on a fishing trip to Cedar Lake. Chas. F. Dewdney, Department of Justice special agent, at once investigated at Cedar Lake, and was told that Johnson was not there.

"From the circumstances I think it not improbable that Johnson has gone to Canada," said Mr. Dewdney. "However, he may be brought back from there, although the crime is not extraditable, as it is the custom of the Canadian police to expel aliens who are under conviction of crime."

It is said that Johnson is not coming to Canada to live, but has in his possession the contracts for bouts in Russia, together with his tickets through to Paris, he is not liable to arrest.

PEER AS BAR TENDER

Novelty at Fair in Aid of London Hospital.

That highly deserving institution, the London Hospital, should benefit largely as a result of the Noah's Ark Fair opened at the Albert Hall on Wednesday.

The most distinguished visitors were Queen Alexandra and the Dowager-Empress of Russia. They arrived shortly before four o'clock, and remained for an hour, making a tour of the stalls, acknowledging the graceful courtesies of peccesses at each one, and making extensive purchases.

In addition to the "village fair" attractions, brisk business was done in autographed books of modern writers, medici prints, hats and millinery. Mme. Melba was one of the busiest stall keepers.

"Have you heard Melba sing?" she would ask an immaculately-dressed and monocled visitor, who never suspected her identity. "These are gramophone records of my songs," she would add, naively, as she parted with them in succession.

Seated in the middle of the arena was Mr. Louis Wain. Very few visitors saw him, for he was surrounded by crowds of ladies and children, who bought up his sketches of cats and dogs as soon as that inspired left hand of his could dash them off.

"Better than hot cakes," remarked a well known peer, who waited patiently and placidly for his own turn.

"Will you have your cat laughing or expressing surprise?" the artist would ask, and his left hand would proceed to execute the order. Mr. Wain made over fifty pencil sketches.

MOUNT VERNON.

(From our own correspondent.)

Friends from Brantford spend Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Neil Young and family.

A number from here took in the excursion to Guelph last Wednesday. We are glad to see that Mrs. Elmer Mott is out and around again after her recent illness.

Miss Fay Lambert of Milverton is visiting her cousin, Miss Pearl Cleaver.

Miss Evelyn Muill of Burford spent Sunday with her cousin, Miss Mae Sturgis.

Miss Marie Wilson has returned home from Galt, where she was assisting her sister, Mrs. A. Goldie, at the "At Home" on Wednesday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Miles spent Sunday at Scotland.

On Sunday afternoon Rev. Todd preached a very helpful sermon to a large congregation, taking his text from Titus 1: 15, "Unto the pure, all things are pure, but unto them that are defiled and unbelieving is nothing pure, but even their mind and conscience is defiled." The choir music was a solo by Miss Evelyn Muill entitled "A Song of Home."

Bible study services are held in church every Wednesday evening from 7.30 to 8.30 o'clock. It is a study of the Sunday School lesson for the coming Sunday, which is helpful to those interested in Sunday School work.

MISSILE HURLED AT PREMIER

Young Man's Disgraceful Act in the House of Commons

Mr Asquith was made the object of a disgraceful attack in the House of Commons on Wednesday, but luckily the design failed. A man in the Strangers' Gallery flung a bag of flour the full length of the House, but it missed the Prime Minister and burst near the Speaker's chair. The stranger, a sympathizer with the suffragettes, was ejected.

Mr Asquith was speaking in opposition to the "free breakfast table" amendment of the Labor party to the Finance Bill when the missile hurled through the air a few inches above his head and struck the floor in the narrow space between the Speaker's Chair and the rearmost bench.

It broke when it struck the ground, and a little crowd of white dust arose, but no one was hit, and the only slight damage, if any, was done to the trousers of the Lord Advocate who was sitting close to where it fell.

It was a packet of flour done up in an ordinary baker's bag, which had been wrapped in a piece of grey paper. Its weight must have been about a pound, and if it had struck the Prime Minister it might have inflicted a nasty blow, and would, at the least have caused him great discomfort and annoyance.

Mr Asquith broke off his speech for the fraction of a second, but was quite unperturbed, although the missile might have been of a deadly character. Then, with a disdainful glance at the white mess on the floor he resumed his speech, as though nothing had happened. The whole House gave him a hearty cheer, quite irrespective of party, and everyone obviously resented that such a gross indignity had been attempted upon the Leader of the House.

"A Very Good Shot."

"A very good shot," was the dry comment of the Prime Minister to a colleague at the close of his speech.

It was a remarkably well executed throw, as the Speaker's chair and the Strangers' Gallery are at opposite ends of the House. The stranger had taken his seat in a second row near the middle gangway, nearly on a line with anyone standing to address the House from the Treasury Bench. If the packet had gone a little to the right it must have hit the Speaker; if to the left it would have smitten Mr. Ure.

After flinging the package the man cast down a handful of pictorial leaflets entitled "Grace before Meat," with a revolting cartoon of the Home Secretary forcibly feeding a woman prisoner.

The offender was immediately seized by a detective, a powerful man who deftly and summarily half carried and half dragged his captive from the gallery, treating him much as he would an unruly schoolboy.

Having been flung unceremoniously out of the gallery he was taken to the police quarters of the House where it was found he had a second bag of flour.

He proved to be a young man about twenty-five years of age, and gave the name of Lawrence Marvin, of Gray's Inn road. He had obtained the order of admission from the office near St. Stephen's Hall. He claimed to be a member of the Men's Political Union. At the rising of the House the man was liberated, owing.

so it is believed, to the fact that he could not be proceeded against except on a resolution of the Commons.

In 1000 three separate disturbances took place in the House. An excited woman reached the door from the Lobby and rushed up the floor of the House. Another woman created a disturbance in the Ladies' Gallery. A man disturbed the proceedings by shouting from the Strangers' Gallery. For a considerable period the public galleries were closed by order of the Speaker.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Washington dropped both games of a double header to the Athletics here yesterday afternoon by 11 to 2 and 10 to 3. The Mackmen batted Groome and Mullin all over the lot and had little difficulty in solving the deliveries of Griff's relief pitchers. Mack pitched the first game for the Athletics and allowed but 5 hits. Washington pounded Carroll Brown hard in the third inning of the second game, and Mack substituted "Chief" Bender, who for the second time in two days came to the rescue and held the Nationals safe. The hitting of Baker and Morgan were the features.

WON IN THE FOURTEENTH

St. Louis Defeated Detroit by a Score of Seven to Five.

DETROIT, June 27.—The Tigers lost the opening game of the series to the St. Louis Browns yesterday by a score of 7 to 6 in a 14 innings battle. The Browns led the Tigers in the eighth by a five to one score, but the Junglers on three hits and an error pushed over four runs, tying until the 14th round, when three hits and an error gave the Browns two runs.

WHITE SOX BEAT NAPS

The Playing of Schalk Was the Feature of the Day.

CHICAGO, June 27.—Chicago played hard uphill game yesterday and after using three pitchers, defeated Cleveland seven to five, and went into third place in the pennant race. Walsh started to pitch for Chicago, and was touched for five hits. He showed weakness in the ninth, and Russell was sent to the rescue. The locals hit Gregg in bunches, and these coupled with the loose fielding behind him, enabled Chicago to win. Schalk was easily the star of the day, his batting, fielding and base running being remarkable.
