Quite a num-ber of the charter members are still his phonograph along and gave sevber of the charter members are still in the society, although a number of the first members have removed from the city or have passed on to their reward. The offerings of the society have increased from $27.87 raised in each patient presented with fruit and the second year after organization to $205.55 raised during the past year. A pleasing feature of the meeting was an address by Miss Wilkes of London England. She spoke of the pleasure it gave her to visit the Brantford church. As it was associated with the memory of her father (Rev. Dr. Wilkes). Dr. Wilkes organiz ed the Sunday school in 1828, which later developed into the present Congregational church. She also spoke of some of the difficulties met with in missionary work in England and told of some of their methods of work. Special mention was made of prayer circles that had been of great benefit to the workers both at home and abroad. The society later decided to form a prayer circle along the lines suggested by Miss Wilkes.
