Noble Son of Former Citizen Dies in Service

From papers recently received from Victoria, B. C., the sad news is gleaned that Surgeon Probationer A. E. Beckwith, second son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Beckwith, had succumbed to illness at a Royal Navy Hospital in England.

This young naval officer was 24 years of age and was born in Victoria after Mr. Beckwith left Kentville, and proceeded to the west. He was a very bright student a keen debater and won distinction as manager of the High School paper. He took an arts and medical course at McGill, and went overseas and later was transferred to the Royal Navy filling the position of medical officer on one of the ships. His death was caused by an attack of pneumonia Mr. and Mrs. Beckwith, will have the sympathy of their many friends here in the early cutting off of such a promising career as their son had entered upon.
