America's Gull in the Liquor Traffic. (Read at the Polyglot Meeting.)

Honored Representatives and Rulers of the People of the United States:

You have heard the cry from the heart of motherhood all over the world, voiced in the Petition we present to you to-day.

To you, perhaps, it sounds faint and distant. You may not catch the note of agony in it; you may not realize that it rolls up in mighty volume to the throne of God, and enters His ear who answers as well as hears.

But I have heard these cries at my side, on my right hand and on my left, from high and lowly all over the world.

For seven years I travelled in every quarter of the globe, and in nearly every country, in the largest cities of Europe and Asia, in the jungles of the Congo and Madagascar; at the foot of the great wall in China and where the Amazon and La Plata roll their mighty volumes to the sea; under the midnight sun of Norway, Sweden and Finland, and far up the slopes of the Himalayas; on the diamond fields of Africa and the gold fields of Australia; in the midst of epidemics of cholera and yellow fever—alone, grey-haired when I started.

Why all this? To do what one woman could do, by the blessing of God, to put an end to the awful horrors of drink, by organizing women everywhere against it. One item of my work was to procure the Petition you receive to be translated and put in circulation wherever I went.

I shall never forget the cry of the young queen of Madagascar to me: "I want to save my people from drink but I cannot. My hands are bound by treaties forced upon me by England and France. I can do nothing." Her predecessor, born into a heathen family, uttered the remarkable words that have since been attributed to nearly every drunk sovereign: "I cannot derive benefit from that which hurts my people."

She lived up to this saying to the day of her death. Every tenth barrel landed was set apart for her, but all of them were stove on the beach where they were placed. Nor can I ever cease to hear the cry of that mother in Freetown: "Oh, the drink from the Godmen (missionaries). It has killed my son. I am a lone woman now."

Americans began the traffic on the West Coast of Africa and all their cities now, though hitherto great, at the present time by the Germans and ourselves. We cannot throw off the guilt in Africa nor in the islands of the Pacific.

Even the honorable functions of our representatives in China and South America have been prostituted and have become "outlets" for American liquor dealers. I speak of what I have seen and therefore know.

Colored peoples are worth saving. They are as capable of elevation as European races. Again I speak of what I have seen and therefore know. I have conversed with persons of every colored race on earth, who were as well fitted by native ability, by education, by manners, by elevation of character and purity of life to take the title of gentleman or lady as any white person in the United States or Europe.

But to turn to our own land. There are well on toward one hundred thousand babies less than a year old, asleep to-night in sweet unconsciousness of the life upon which they have entered, who will, during some year not far off, go to untimely graves because of the licensed sale of drink in our own country. Are not American children worth saving?

In the past, Congress made it a duty to refuse entrance to diseased hides from South America, because two men were poisoned to death by them in a tannery in Massachusetts; and disease infected rags from Italy, because two women and a man lost their lives by handling them in a paper mill. Congress did well to protect the lives of Americans, will it not protect these one hundred thousand American babies by prohibiting the manufacture and sale in the United States wherever it has jurisdiction and protect the children of foreign countries by forbidding exportation?

I know the monstrous complications. There is not time to discuss them now. We have had national crises in the past, when we did not for a moment consider money.

There is always an eternal justice and right for nations and governments that they must heed without regard to financial considerations if they wish to continue to receive the favor of God, without which no nation can endure.

We have had a glorious record among the nations as the pioneer of human liberty. I beg you, honored rulers, to be the leaders into the greater liberty of freedom from any complicity in the drink crime—to cast down the drink traffic from its national throne in these United States, and thus become the leader in the movement all over the world, for God and Home and Humanity.

MARY CLEMENT LEAVITT, Honorary Life Pres. W. C. T. U., Vera Cruz, Mexico.

A CARLETON CO. MIRACLE.

Back to Health After Years of Extreme Suffering.

Yielded to the Advice of a Friend and Obtained Results Three Doctors Had Failed to Secure.

Mr George Argue is one of the best known farmers in the vicinity of North Gower. He has passed through an experience so painful as a reporter will perhaps be of value to others.

"I was born in the county of Carleton," said Mr Argue, "and have lived all my life within twenty miles of the city of Ottawa. Ten years of that time have been years of pain and misery almost beyond endurance. Eleven years ago I contracted a cold which resulted in pleurisy and inflammation of the lungs. Other complications then followed and I was confined to my room for five years. The doctor who attended me through that long illness said that the reason I was unable to move about was due to the contracting of the muscles and nerves of my hands and feet through long confinement to bed. I could hobble around a little on crutches, but was well nigh helpless. At this stage a second doctor was called in who declared my trouble was spinal complaint. Notwithstanding medical advice and treatment I was sinking lower and lower, and was regarded as incurable. I was now in such a state that I was unable to leave my bed, but determined to find a cure if possible, and sent for one of the most able physicians in Ottawa. I was under his care and treatment for three years. He blistered my back every three or four weeks and exerted all his skill, but in vain. I was growing weaker and weaker and began to think the end could not be far off. At this juncture a friend strongly urged me to try Dr Williams' Pink Pills. I yielded to his solicitations, and by the time six boxes of pills were used I found myself getting better. I used in all thirty boxes, and they have accomplished what ten years of treatment under physicians failed to do. Thanks to this wonderful medicine, I am able to attend to my duties and am as free from disease as any man in ordinary health is expected to be. I still use Dr Williams' Pink Pills, and they are the medicine for me, and so long as I live I shall use no other. If I had not got those pills ten years ago I am satisfied I would not have survived as I did and would have saved some hundreds of dollars doctor bills. It is only those who have passed through such a terrible siege as I have done who can fully realize the wonderful merit of Dr Williams' Pink Pills."

Mr Argue's experience should convince even the most skeptical that Dr Williams' Pink Pills stand far in advance of other medicines and are one of the greatest discoveries of the age. There is no disease due to poor or watery blood or shattered nerves which will not yield speedily to this treatment and in innumerable cases patients have been restored to health and strength after physicians had pronounced the dreaded word "incurable." Sold by all dealers or sent by mail post-paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N. Y. Refuse imitations and do not be persuaded to try something else.

Three tailors were once boasting which could make the best suit for a man, one of the tailors being a Scotchman, one an Englishman, and the other an Irishman. The Englishman said, "I could make a suit for a man if I only just looked at him going round a corner." The Scotchman said, "And I could make a suit for a man if I only saw his coat tails as he was going round the corner." "Faith," said Pat, "and I could make a suit for a man if I only saw the corner he went round."

Its Value Proved. Opinions expressed in Quebec with regard to the New Specific.

Quebec, June 5.—There has been considerable discussion in this city, both among the members of the medical fraternity and private citizens, with regard to the numerous undispensed cures from various diseases of the kidneys through the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills. The matter has been not only discussed privately among the friends and acquaintances of those who have received benefits from the use of the remedy named, but has been chronicled in the public press. The general consensus of opinion is that the medicine has undergone a thorough test and has proved itself fully deserving of the great praise which has been bestowed upon it.

Scraps for Odd Moments.

The planter now steps down to make room for the milliner.

You never know how fond you are of a boy until you become engaged to his sister.

Miss Oldan—"I'd like to see any man alive kiss me!" "Mr Chase—"I guess you would."

For Biliousness—MINARD'S FAMILY PILLS. Some women are so ill-mannered as to go right into a store and try to interrupt a conversation between the clerks.

Robbins—"Highbee is a genius." Readford—"Can he do anything?" Robbins—"Yes, anything but make a living."

What do you think of the financial question now?" "I'm ahead of me, sir. The fellow who borrowed my last dollar left town last night."

For Croupy Children—MINARD'S HONEY BALSAM. She—"No, Mr Blunders, I cannot entertain your proposal. The truth is I am engaged to marry your father." He—"Why, the old idiot!"

He (resuming his seat after a brief visit outside)—"What an atmosphere of realism there is about this play?" She—"Yes. Smells like clover."

"What you are going to ask your employer for his daughter's hand? Suppose he should kick you out?" "Oh, I have already secured another place."

For Worms in Children—Cherokee Vermifuge. Have you any friends in this city I asked the paying teller at the bank. No, he replied; I'm a baseball umpire.

He—"Why does Miss Middleage persist in singing 'My Sweetheart's the Man in the Moon'?" She—"Because he can't come down and deny it."

Uncle Hiram—"If yer want ter have good dogs yer must educate 'em to it. I look as much trouble to rear me dog that ez I did with me son Ike!" "But the dog is no good!" Uncle Hiram—"Neither is Ike!"

Check your Indignation with K. D. C. the Great Checker. Tommy—Pa, what is an elastic currency? Mr Figg—"I don't exactly know, but it ought to be a kind that would let a $5 stretch out enough to cover Christmas presents for a whole family."

The curious thing about my business, said the mosquito, alighting softly upon the nose of the sleeping victim, is that it is more fun to go to work than it is to stay to hum.

For Spasmodic Coughs—MINARD'S HONEY BALSAM. First husband—I hear that burglars broke into your house last night. Did they find anything? Second Husband—No. My wife is having a spring cleaning just now.

Noteflight—From the expression of your face, Miss Patterson, I imagine your thoughts were pleasant. Miss Patterson—They were, Mr Borleigh. I thought for a moment I was alone.

If you do not know how good a remedy Gardial Tea really is for constipation and sick headache, send a postal card to D. Deenmore & Co., 271 Queen Street, West, Toronto.

Mutual Friend—"It really is shocking, dear the way in which you and your husband quarrel and carry on. I wonder you don't separate from him." Injured wife—"What! Go away and leave him alone to do just as he likes? Not I."

I understand that your son went west intending to rise with the community, said the neighbor. Yes. And did what he started out for. How? He hadn't been there a week before a cyclone struck the town.

Confound it! exclaimed Jackson, what a stupid fellow that jeweller is! How's that? rejoined his friend. Why, I gave him a ring, and told him to engrave From A. to Z. on it, from Arthur to Zenobia, you know, and he has put the whole alphabet on.

Several men were talking about how they happened to marry. "I married my wife," said one, after the others had all had their say, "because she was different from any woman I had ever met."

"How was that?" chorused the others. "She was the only woman I ever met who would have me," and there was a burst of applause.

Little Dot—"Uncle George says I'm 'too loquacious.' What does that mean?" "Mamma—"That means you talk too much."

Little Dot (after reflection)—"I s'pose big words was made so folks could say mean things 'wifout hurtin' anybody's feelings."

Miss Scrapper—(amateur violinist)—Did you notice that old man crying while I was playing my sonata? Friend—Yes, and I spoke to him. He said your playing reminded him of the old days when he was happy.

Miss Scrapper—Was he a violinist? No, he was a piano tuner. SKODA'S LITTLE TABLETS Cure Headache and Dyspepsia.
