of the series dealing with the establishment of the BANK OF MONTREAL at representative points in CANADA and elsewhere

LHE completion in 1886 of the Canadian Pacific Railway, a project that had received the moral and financial support of the Bank of Montreal, cast a bright ray of promise across the then somewhat troubled economic life of Canada.

Canada at last was spanned by rail from coast to coast, opening up for profitable development the fertile territory lying between.

The Bank of Montreal signalized the completion of the line by establishing a Branch at Vancouver and later at Victoria, thus completing its transcontinental chain of Branches and bringing to the Pacific Coast banking facilities essential to the successful development of the great economic potentialities there.

Of its 567 Branches, 53 are situated in the Province of British Columbia.

Here and There

Although it is only 18 years ago that Alberta became a province, its population has increased fourfold, while the grain yield has increased twentyfold. Even at the present low prices, the total agricultural products of Alberta in 1923 were worth $223,000,000.

The railways of Canada up to the end of last April earned $6,000,000 more than they did for the corresponding period in 1923. This favorable result is due entirely to the fact that the people have been doing more business. All authorities are agreed that such a condition means growing trade.

Nearly 68,000 bushels of high class seed were handled at the Alberta government seed-cleaning plant during the past season. A total of 22,823 bushels of Marquis wheat seed was handled, 3,160 bushels of ruby wheat, 23,073 bushels of Victory oats, 17,862 bushels of Banner oats, and 684 bushels of Bark's Barley.

Three prizes for anglers at the bungalow camps on French River, Nipigon River, and the Lake of the Woods, have been offered to Canadian fishermen by the Canadian Pacific Railway. The trophies are silver replicas of the bass and the trout, and a wonderful reproduction of the head of a fighting muscalonge.

Among the speakers to address the great convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World at London, England, to be held July 14-17, will be E. W. Beatty, K.C., Chairman and President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, Mr. Beatty will speak on July 17, and has chosen as his theme "Building an Empire with Advertising."

Canada's national wealth in 1921 was $22,195,000,000, according to a report just issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. In the tabulation, agricultural wealth comes first with $7,982,871,126, nearly 36 per cent of the total and about $908 per head of population. The Western provinces lead, the Yukon topping the list with $4,058. The first in absolute wealth was Ontario, to which is credited the sum of $7,358,000,000, or thirty-three per cent of the Dominion total.

Shipping in and out of the port of Vancouver, B.C., for the calendar year 1923, showed an increase in all departments, according to the annual report of the Board of Harbor Commissioners. Over $133,000,000 worth of goods were exported, an increase of $30,000,000 over the value of the 1922 exports, while the imports totalled $224,000,000, an increase of $13,000,000 over the 1922 figures. Vessels numbering 19,608, representing a total of 8,427,683 net tons, entered and left the port in 1923, an increase over 1922 of 2,959 ships and 792,289 tons.

England's Toonerville.

England has a railway line that would make the Toonerville trolley look like the Twentieth Century Limited, says a returned traveller. It is a one man railway on the Isle of Sheppey, Kent. This railway "runs" along the mair road, so there are many gates which the conductor has to open. A favorite sport in the village is laying bets as to whether or not the gates will be open when the train comes. Sometimes a indhearted old lady opens the gates, and the Sheppey Island express dashes by at its full speed of ten miles an hour. But generally the train has to come to a hait while the conductor opens the gates. Then he sprints after the train and jumps aboard. Recently an improvement was made in the service which cuts a second or so from the time needed to complete the journey. Thanks to the inventive genius of the Eastchurch station master, the official receives the train at his station, sets the signals "clear" and, before the train has time to get started, mounts his bicycle and rides a couple of miles ahead to open the gates.

Ruskin's Style.

"The art of language is certainly ne of the fine arts," writes Prof. Iton, in "A Survey of English Liter-of examples of his mice and often requisite handwork. He also, in early days, wrote much verse which is full of feeling and is technically right, but which I aves very fune impression. In prise he is, accurately speaking, the current lagure of his time; central because the process of Carlyle, though greater in itself and of stronger nore, is well away from the centre, from the English prose of the past, the present and the future; while Ruskin's in its pure and classical quality, and in the distinctive character of its beauty, is in the full stream of that tradition."

Nursed With Florence Nightingale.

At the age of 101, Mrs. Janet Newbury, an inmate of a workhouse at Whiston, Lancashire, England, has lively recollections of her adventurous youth.

While travelling as a girl from London by stage coach she was held up by highwaymen and robbed of all her possessions.

During the Crimean War she served as a nurse under Florence Nightingale, and also acted as nurse during the Indian Mutiny and the American Civil War.
