

Government any trouble. Many of the Indians who frequent the streets of Brandon and squat around the corners, smoking their vile-smelling tobacco, are relations of those who participated in the famous Custer fight, and in the terrible Minnesota massacre of not many years ago, indeed, there is no doubt any of the braves have been in the ranks of those sanguinary scenes. They are an idle lot. The men do nothing but hunt and fish, loaf about the streets clad in dirty blankets and adorned as to their faces with streaks of paint, and as to their limbs with various colored bead work leggings, or occasionally bring in a load of small wood, which they offer for sale. The squaws on the other hand, unlike the Micmac women, will do housework, and I have seen several of them engaged about one of the principal hotels scrubbing floors and the like. Very few of the Indians can speak English, and if they are possessed of any religion, it is not enough to cause them to keep clean.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

A proposal has been made to establish a permanent Colonial Exhibition in London, and has been submitted to the Home and Colonial Governments. The Prince of Wales is taking a great interest in this proposition, which would be of immense benefit to colonial producers, and will, it is thought, ultimately extend to Paris and to the largest cities of England and the continent. The point now being discussed is in reference to the best site for the proposed permanent exhibition, but this matter is hardly worth discussing until the fact of whether the exhibition shall be made permanent or not, then it will be time enough to decide upon the most eligible site. In these occasions we are not inclined to be favorably impressed upon by the newspapers of Great Britain and elsewhere.

The idea, the Times asserts, is to continue the Exhibition at South Kensington, with certain modifications. Two meetings of Executive Commissioners and Agents-General have been held under the presidency of Sir Philip Cunliffe, the fact that the exhibition must be taken to induce the Colonial Governments to give their support to a permanent Colonial Institution. It was on these occasions we are not inclined to be favorably impressed upon by the newspapers of Great Britain and elsewhere.

The London Chamber of Commerce says the City is the proper home for a Colonial Commercial Exchange, while the Royal Commission is declared to tend towards a trial of the South Kensington site. It is difficult to see how the Royal Commission is declared to tend towards a trial of the South Kensington site. It is difficult to see how the Royal Commission is declared to tend towards a trial of the South Kensington site.

A non-intercourse bill of retaliation has been brought into the Congress of the United States by Congressman Collins of Massachusetts. The bill reads as follows:— "That the laws, decrees, regulations or acts of any foreign country, which are in violation of the laws of the United States, shall be null and void, and the vessels, ships, boats, or other craft of such foreign country, which are in violation of the laws of the United States, shall be null and void."

In reference to this matter the St. John Sun thus forcibly points out the cut-throat-throat policy of Congress if it should pass any such bill as the one proposed by Representative Collins:— "There is no proposition so absurd as that of imposing a tariff on goods not found to be of our own production. The suggestion was made three days ago that unless Canada allowed the free importation of our goods, we would retaliate by imposing a tariff on the goods of Canada. This is a proposition which is as absurd as it is unjust. It is a proposition which is as absurd as it is unjust. It is a proposition which is as absurd as it is unjust."

The London correspondent of Science, published in New York, writing on the Colonial and Indian Exhibition, refers to the remarks of William Lant Carpenter on Educational development in Canada, who has said that:—"The most perfect scheme of Education was probably that of the little colony of New Brunswick, which was admirably arranged."

There was a universal desire in the colonies to realize as far as possible Prof. Huxley's idea that a system of public instruction should be an educational ladder reaching from the gutter to the university.

Chatham, N. B., Aug. 9.—Archbishop Lynch, the illustrious prelate, who, as we have said, is the oldest and most effective laborer in the cause of religion, was called to his rest, not only of Ontario but of the Dominion, by a visit to New Brunswick and P. E. Island for needed repose and for the benefit of his health.

The above is taken from the Fredericton Glebe and will be read in Newcastle with similar regard, where, as we have said, the High Church party has very many friends, who were a general favorite among the scholars.

Death has been busy among the scholars of last year in the high school. It will be remembered that Miss Priscilla Allison, having passed a creditable examination here last in good spirits and in the full enjoyment of her health, was called to rest by a sudden attack of diphtheria, which she died of on August 10th.

A cable despatch announces the death of James G. McKim, one of the most prominent men of his time, who was born in New York City in 1818 and died in New York City on August 10th, 1886.

Having recently noted my name parallel in the newspapers as endorsing G. H. Satterly's late and somewhat unorthodox views on my first acquaintance with Satterly, believing him to be a square man I did at his request, give him a document approving the transaction to a certain extent, but after long observation of his operations and knowing the large amount of money he had taken in, I withdrew my endorsement of him, which I may have inadvertently given.

Hoag's Canning Industry. Messrs. D. W. Hoag & Co., have commenced the production of canned corn, in the vicinity of Fredericton, for their canning industry on George street. Besides this they have the contract for ten acres of peas and three acres of tomatoes. The factory is now employed in the canning of green peas, which are beginning to come in at a lively rate.

berry plants. The arrangement of the flora was tastefully carried out by Mr. James Fletcher, the botanologist of the Canadian Department of Agriculture before he returned to Canada, and is now under the direction of Professor Macoun. Among the trees which are shown from three to ten feet in height are various species from British Columbia and the Canadian Rocky Mountains, while there will also be found all the ferns peculiar to Canada, including the prairie fern, and the flowering plants in bloom special attention will be directed to the gallardia and heliopsis, upon which will be given the most complete and up-to-date information.

The number of visitors to the Exhibition in British America, from the 1st of July to the 1st of August, was 167,791, making a total since the opening of 1,970,398.—Canadian Gazette, July 29th.

Religion.

The Ottawa Citizen states that since the general election of 1882 thirty-six elections have been held, of which twenty were contested. From the standpoint of parties the case stands: Elections won by conservatives... 29 Elections won by liberals... 7

Church Burned. We were very sorry to learn that the R. C. Church in Bathurst town, known as the "Church of the Sacred Heart," was entirely destroyed by fire early on the morning of the 10th inst. The fire commenced in the basement, which was used as a temperance hall in connection with the church, and in a few minutes the whole building was a mass of flames, and was totally destroyed.

The Derby Branch. We have frequently of late been asked why the opening of the Derby Branch Railway is so long delayed. It is undoubtedly true that the branch has been taken off Mr. Snowball's hands, and that it is now in the possession of the Government. Much dissatisfaction exists especially among parties who gave the right of way, at the long delay and constant litigation made as to the reasons for the delay.

Regatta. There is every prospect, if the weather is fine, of a large turn out to witness the regatta to-morrow. The start for the first race takes place from the Canada Wharf, Chatham, at 10 a. m., standard time, the second race to be started on Friday, the 13th inst. The regatta will be made to E. Kennedy, Chatham, or Lee Street, Newcastle, before this (Wednesday) evening. For further particulars see advertisement in another column.

A Rare-avis. For some time past the presence of a white sparrow among the flocks of sparrows about town has been reported. A gentleman who has been observing the bird for some time, has been able to procure a good specimen of the little fellow, which was tame enough to allow a pretty close inspection. It is a rather dirty white color, without a dark tinge to it. Some persons report having seen one of this color, as well as one with a white breast and the remainder of the body covered with feathers of the usual color.

David Shank Kerr. The death of David Shank Kerr, with his family, was reported in another column. He was a prominent barrister on the roll in New Brunswick, took place at his residence, St. John, on the 10th inst. He was a member of the family to observe the fact that it is a pity that he should have died so young.

Watches and Jewelry. Mr. L. T. Jondry is now on his way up river with a stock of gold and silver watches, silver plated table ware, engraving rings, wedding rings, pins, and jewelry.
