The displacement of the Michigan is 16,000 tons against nominally 17,000 tons of the British Dreadnought class. The new anaesthetic is nothing else than plain, common Epsom salts, or, to give it its scientific name, sulphate of magnesia. It was discovered by Dr. Samuel J. Meltzer, one of the Episcopalian churches in this place, and Poaktown, and last Sunday he preached eloquent sermons to large audiences.

Extraordinary Scenes at Mission Ser vice In Shrewsbury, Eng.

Merrington Green, Shrewsbury, was recently the scene of strange proceedings. A mission was conducted in the "Gypsy Tent," and a number of village women did what is now locally known as "speaking in cloven tongues."

I believe Mr. Wesley Baker, the mission preacher, to be absolutely sincere, and his following of men and sincere, and his following of men and women to be equally simple and honest, but if one is to speak honestly, I cannot describe the "cloven tongue" manifestations as anything but a half-crazy delusion on the part of people who for months have been nightly praying in a heated and excited atmosphere.

For a couple of hours or more the service went on in a simple, ordinary and entirely admirable way, just as one might expect in any village community.

There was nothing to wonder at and nothing to cavil at. Men and women gave "testimonies" in a sincere, unaffected and obviously deeply religious spirit

AND A WOMAN'S WORK

Nature and a woman's work combined have produced the grandest remedy for woman's ills that the orld has ever known.

In the good old-fashioned days of our grandmothers they relied upon the roots and herbs of the field to cure disease and mitigate suffering. The Indians on our Western Plains to-day can produce roots and herbs for every ailment, and cure diseases that baffle the most skilled physicians who have spent years in the study of drugs.

From the roots and herbs of the field Lydia E. Pinkham more than thirty years ago gave to the women of the world a remedy for their peculiar ills, more potent and efficacious than any combination of drugs. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is now recognized as the standard remedy for woman's ills.

Mrs. J. M. Tweedale, 12 Napanee Street, Toronto, Canada, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

Mrs. Pinkham:

"I was a great sufferer from female troubles, had those dreadful bearing down pains, and during my monthly periods I suffered so I had to go to bed. I doctored for a long time but the doctor's treatment failed to help me. My husband saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised and got a bottle for me. I commenced its use and soon felt better. I kept on taking it until I was well and an entirely different woman. I also found that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made childbirth much easier for me. I would recommend your Vegetable Compound to every woman who is afflicted with female troubles."
