MURDER AT MONTREAL

Body of Russian Found in River-Killed at Boarding House.

Montreal, June 14.—The autopsy on the body of a Russian named John Latvarensky, found floating in the river on Sunday, revealed that the man had been murdered before being put in the water. A friend of the victim identified the body to-night, and told the police that Latvasensky had been killed during a quariel in a Russian hoarding house on Forsythe street ten days ago, and that the body was carried to the river and dropped in at night. As a result of the discovery the police have made two arrests.

The police are on the hunt for the proprietor of the house, who is supposed to be responsible for the tragedy.
