

Fun and Fancy.

Testing the naked truth—taking the bare facts.

The best stimulant for the bare—A greyhound.

Pill-makers are among the most expert boxers.

A chain that often separates friends—Sarcasm.

Woman's writes—Her perennial N. P. and P. S.

An epicurean—Surely one who goes in for epics.

Building lots and indignation are both measured by the foot.

The wealthiest man can best afford to beg—pardon for his offences.

Wanted, the receipt which is given when a gentleman pays his respects.

Why is a shoe like a general servant—Because it is made of awl work.

A caustic wit in speaking of an impetuous friend, said: "He settles his debts just like clockwork—tick, tick, tick."

"I am speaking," said a long-winded orator, "for the benefit of poverty."

"Yes," said one of his hearers, "and if you keep on much longer your audience will be here."

A gentleman asked an American the other day what he thought of the English climate. He laughed and said: "Why, you haven't got a climate; you've only got samples."

A quack doctor heads his advertisement: "Ho! all ye dyspeptics! That's just what dyspeptics won't do. If they would all ho vigorously, they might not need any medicine."

A French lady, during the siege of Paris, driven by famine to eat her pet dog, as she was famishing, exclaimed: "Poor thing, how he would have enjoyed picking these bones."

A country curate complained to old Dr. South that he received only five pounds for preaching a certain sermon at Oxford. "Five pounds?" asked the doctor. "I wouldn't have preached that sermon for fifty."

Little Arthur had been to church. "How did you like the sermon?" asked his father. "Pretty well," responded the youthful critic. "The beginning was very good, and so was the end; but it had too much middle."

A man was taking aim at a hawk, which was perched on a tree near his chicken coop, when his little girl exclaimed: "Don't take aim, pa! Let it go off by accident."

"Cause every gun that goes off by accident always hits something."

This is Kate Field's description:—"Take a strip of something that for the sake of convenience we will call a man, which by way, is a cross libel on man. Around its neck place a tight collar, and surround it with a hideous scarf and breast-pin. Put upon it a silk hat and a cut-away coat. Clothe its lower extremities with pants wherein calves were never meant to grow. In the hands of the man on its feet boots that crack at every step in limping measure. Place a cigarette in its mouth; teach it a brief vocabulary of adverbs and adjectives, commencing with 'immensely clever,' and finishing with 'you later, you know,' and in my humble opinion you obtain a fair caricature of the brain and capacity of the American dude. But let us change the subject—it is not enlightening."

Forgiveness is Divine.

It is easy to take offence at words carelessly spoken, where no offence is intended. It is natural to feel resentment at words intended to wound, or at injuries deliberately inflicted. But even in such cases there is a more excellent way.

Sir Eardly Wilmet was an English baronet, widely known as a leader in social life, and a man of great personal dignity and force of character. Having been a distinguished chief justice of the Court of Common Pleas, he was often consulted by friends as to perplexing social questions.

On one occasion a statesman came to him in great excitement over an injury inflicted on him by a political leader. He told the story with warmth and used strong epithets in describing the malice which had inflicted the wrong.

"Is not my indignation righteous?" he asked, indignantly. "Will it not be manly to resent such an injury?"

"Yes," was the calm reply. "It will be manly to resent it, but it will be God-like to forgive it."

The answer was so unexpected and so convincing, that the statesman had not another word to say. He afterward confessed to a friend that Sir Eardly's words caused his anger to suddenly depart, leaving him a different and better man.

The Poor Folk.—An old Irish lady was in one of the lending shops good stores of the city Thursday to purchase a small woollen breakfast shawl, for which the clerk asked seventy-five cents. The would-be purchaser protested the price asked was too high, and remarked: "Sure they've taken the duty off and tobacco, and can they have forgotten to take it off this that you be asking a bigger price than ever!" The clerk said the duty wasn't off, and he was afraid the present Government would never take it off; whereupon the old lady moaned, "Oh, my! Oh, my! I will people never learn since to be puttin' men into Parliament to take away the poor folks' earnings in that way. It's too bad, entirely."

It is expected that the advance of a large war party of northern Crees into Montana has been stopped by the Mounted Police of Fort Walsh and the action of Gen. Ruger. No further danger is anticipated.

Thos. Walsh, Chicago, who whipped his wife to death with a strap and pleaded guilty, has been sentenced to thirty-five years in the penitentiary. Patrick Condon, "the Bridgeport terror," who killed Hugh Ward, ten years.

Words of Wisdom.

The unfortunate are always egotistical. Moral courage is the rarest of qualities and often undervalued.

What appears to be calamities are often the sources of fortune.

The sympathy of sorrow is stronger than the sympathy of prosperity.

He who loves little, prays little; he who loves much, prays much.

Labor to keep alive in your breast that little spark of celestial fire called conscience.—[Washington.]

To tell a lie and then defend it by other lies, is like digging a cellar and making it deep enough to hold all the dirt that is displaced.

The art of conversation:—To be prompt without being stubborn, to be tactful without being timid, and to clothe grave matters in a merry garb.

Life is not a dream, but it is daily letting us dream of Christ's return; and thus each day we are a step homeward, a step toward a good secure.

Those who would let anything take the place of Christianity must first abolish all sorrow from the earth.

Nothing makes the world seem so spacious as to have friends at a distance; they make the latitudes and the longitudes.

A Life Saving Present.

Mr. M. E. Allison, Hutchinson, Kan., saved his life by a simple Trial Bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery, for Consumption, which caused him to procure a large bottle, that completely cured him, when Doctors, change of climate and everything else had failed. Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Severe Coughs, and all Throat and Lung diseases, it is guaranteed to cure. Trial Bottles at J. Wilson's drug store. Large size $1. (1).

"Grant it Out."

The above is an old saw as savage as it is senseless. You can't "grant out" dyspepsia nor liver complaint, nor nervousness if they once get a good hold. They don't remove themselves in that way. The taking a few doses of Burdock Blood Bitters is better than "granting it out."

What we can cure let's not endure. 2

THE WORLD OVER.

Lord Randolph Churchill is preparing a Bill to disqualify atheists from sitting in Parliament.

There is over a foot of snow over a great part of Ireland, England and Scotland. The heavy storms of snow and sleet have done great damage. In the north the snow is as heavy as during the winter, and thousands of lambs have died.

The Bowmanville (Canada) Observer having launched a new word on the sea of literary expressions in heading an article "Sighable Abominations," the Toronto Globe remarks: "Why should we not say 'Sighable' as well as 'laughable'—or that bete noir of very precise people, 'ridiculous'?" The latter has fairly conquered a place for itself in the vocabulary despite the relentless onslaughts of the objectors, but we doubt whether 'sighable' will show a real tenacity.

The people best pleased at the defeat of the Gladstone Government on the question of the Affirmation bill are the Tories and the Parnellites. The Tories, because they want to turn the Liberals out and fill their places themselves, and the Parnellites because they want to discredit the Government as much as possible. It would please them if the Gladstone could not go on at all, although there never was a Government in existence that did as much for Ireland as the present one.

Persons when travelling in Europe are told that the waters are not pure or safe to drink, wines being recommended in their stead. Mr. Cook, the excursion agent, says: "From my extensive acquaintance with many lands I unhesitatingly affirm that everywhere God has provided good water for man, and that the wines drunk are often miserable and dry. I have found water everywhere that I have travelled—in China and India, Palestine and Egypt—and everywhere where water has been my beverage."

John Callahan of Winchester, Mass., went to Woburn on Saturday, bought a gallon of liquor, and went on a spree. He brought his three-year-old child with him, forced him to drink all he could and then threw the liquor in his face. The child went into convulsions and died this morning.

The work of the Star Chamber Committee on the License Bill has evidently not been of the most harmonious nature possible. Mr. Gignault has given notice of a number of amendments to the report of the Committee.

Lydia Pinkham, the well known patent medicine proprietress, is dead. She began by manufacturing medicine in a tea-kettle, and in a few years built up a business of $300,000 a year. She spent $180,000 per annum in advertising.

Never Give Up.

If you are suffering with low and depressed spirits, loss of appetite, general debility, disordered blood, weak constitution, headache, or any disease of a bilious nature, by all means procure a bottle of Electric Bitters. You will be surprised to see the rapid improvement that will follow; you will be inspired with new life; strength and activity will return; pain and misery will cease, and henceforth you will rejoice in the praise of Electric Bitters. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by J. Wilson.
