The Evening Chit-Chat
By RUTH CAMERON

"When love comes singing to his heart That would not wake for me. I think that I shall know his joy By my own ecstasy.

And though the sea were all between The time their hands shall meet My heart will know his happiness So wildly it will beat.

And when he bend above her mouth, Rejoicing for his sake, My soul will sing a little song, But oh, my heart will break."

—Sara Teasdale.

That is my ideal of perfect love.

It seems to me that one does not love in the best and deepest way unless one can say, "I would want to see the one I love happy even if it had to be with someone else."

Of course it is terrible when one must stand aside and see anyone for whom one cares deeply happy with someone else, but I think one should know that even under such conditions one could sing a little song of rejoicing for his happiness in one's soul, even at the same time the heart was breaking.

If men and women tested their love by asking themselves if they could feel that way under those conditions, and none married who could not honestly believe that they would, there would be no divorces.

More infatuation, mere desire for possession, could not stand the test, and these are the limitations of love that deceive so many and bring about the marriages predestined at the altar to end in the divorce courts.

I am often told that this ideal of love is an impossible one.

I do not believe it. Indeed I know it is not, in at least one case.

For out of the darkness of anonymity a cry came to me the other day from a woman with a breaking heart.

"I am a woman who has been forgotten," she wrote with the simplicity of suffering. "But I was never in love with his love of me. I loved him for himself, so I still love him, and love him so much that I really want him to be happy even if it is the other woman that brings it to him."

This is an actual quotation from a genuine letter.

Jealousy is always a sign of love, but only of a certain kind of love. I do not think the people are right who say that you can have jealousy without love. I don't think you can any more than you can have smoke without fire. But I do believe that there is love great enough to be absolutely without jealousy—the great consuming fire too hot for smoke.

My heart aches for that woman. And yet, although she is undergoing the worst mental suffering on earth—that of unrequited love—I believe she has much to be thankful for in that she is capable of feeling that kind of love.

It is not an impossible ideal. It is a hard one, but hard does not mean impossible.

And for all my friends I can wish nothing better than that they may feel a love capable of such heights but never actually have to scale them.

Ruth Cameron

Woman's Power Over Man

Woman's most glorious endowment is 'the power to awaken and hold the pure and honest love of a worthy man. When she loses it and still loves on, no one in the wide world can know the heart agony she endures. The woman who suffers from weakness and derangement of her special womanly organism soon loses the power to sway the heart of a man. Her general health suffers and she loses her good looks, her attractiveness, her amiability and her power and prestige as a woman.

Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., with the assistance of his staff of able physicians, has prescribed for and cured many thousands of women. He has devised a successful remedy for women's ailments. It is known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a positive specific for the weaknesses and disorders peculiar to women. It purifies, regulates, strengthens and heals. Medicine dealers sell it. No honest dealer will advise you to accept a substitute in order to make a little larger profit.

St. Patrick's Day Parade a Great Success—The Scene at the Church—The Banquet and the Many Entertainments—The Celebration at St. Laurent College—The Board of Control Doing Good Work—Railway Earnings.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The Parade.

The parade was the finest for years, over four thousand took part in it. St. Anthony's and the two young parishes of St. Aloysius and St. Thomas Aquinas turned out strong and made a good showing. The Irish jaunting car with five of St. Ann's young men in it was a feature of the parade. There were several bands and nearly a hundred youngsters on horseback; they were gaily decorated with green ribbons, sashes, rosettes and shamrocks. The uniformed Knights of the Hibernians made a pretty sight and went through some fancy drill movements during the march. The Hibernian Cadets also won their share of applause. The Mount St. Louis College band of sixty pieces captured the honours by their fine music rendered along the route.

St. Patrick's Society Banquet.

The banquet given by the St. Patrick's Society at the Windsor Hotel was the most successful on record, and was attended by nearly three hundred guests.

The dinner was marked by the attendance of representatives of many kindred national societies, whose officers sat at the guest table, wearing their chains and other insignia of office. The chief guest was Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who made an excellent speech, as a business man an Irishman and the head of a great transportation company.

Sir Thomas referred in his address pointedly to the relations which Ireland bore to the Empire, pointing out that they could not endure as they were, and evidencing the relation of Canada to the Empire as an example of the manner in which Ireland's destiny could be worked out.

A notable feature of all the addresses given was their strong loyalty to the Empire, coupled with their devotion to the cause of Ireland as a part of that Empire.

Mr. H. J. Kavanagh, K.C., president of St. Patrick's Society, presided assisted by Mr. J. W. Percival, president of the Irish Protestant Benevolent Society, while amongst those at the guest table were Messrs. Jas. Mitchell, president of St. George's Society; Jos. Jenkins, president of St. David's Society; Lieut.-Col. D. Lock-erby, president of the Caledonian Society; Rev. Father A. M. O'Neill, O. P.; Mr. Justice Puresell, J. C. Beauchamp, president of St. Jean Baptiste Society; Rev. A. A. Gagnieu, S. J.; Mr. Justice Guerin, Senator J. Cloran, Canon Gauthier, Sir Thomas G. Shaughnessy, Mgr. Bruchesi, Mayor J. J. Guerin, Rev. W. B. Martin (New York), ex-Judge C. J. Doherty, Rev. Father Gerald McShane, C. C. Smith, Rev. Raymond Walsh, Hon. J. J. Ritchie, M. Fitzgibbon, and Lieut.-Col. Gardner, president of St. Andrew's Society.

The toasts were many, the speeches good, while the St. Patrick's Chancel choir, under the direction of Prof. P. J. Shea sang several Irish choruses in a manner that elicited rounds of applause.

The Other Entertainments.

The entertainments at the various halls were all well attended, and greatly pleased those who attended St. Ann's Young Men, at the Monu-

Your Lame Back Will Feel Fine.

Out-of-order Kidneys are regulated and Bladder misery ends after first few doses.

A real surprise awaits every sufferer from kidney or bladder trouble who takes several doses of Pape's Diuretic. Misery in the back, sides or loins, sick headache, nervousness, rheumatism pains, heart palpitations, dizziness, sleeplessness, inflamed or swollen eyelids, lack of energy and all symptoms of out-of-order kidneys simply vanish.

Uncontrollable urination (especially at night), smarting, offensive and discolored water and other bladder miseries end.

The moment you suspect kidney or urinary disorder, or feel any rheumatism, begin taking this harmless medicine, with the knowledge that there is no other remedy, at any price, made anywhere else in the world, which will effect so thorough and prompt a cure as a fifty-cent treatment of Pape's Diuretic, which any druggist can supply.

It is needless to feel miserable and worried, because this unusual preparation goes at once to the out-of-order kidneys and urinary system, distributing its cleansing, healing and strengthening influence directly upon the organs and glands affected, and completes the cure before you realize it.

Your physician, pharmacist, banker or any mercantile agency will sell you that Pape, Thompson & Pape, of Cincinnati, is a large and responsible medicine concern, thoroughly worthy of your confidence.

Accept only Pape's Diuretic—fifty-cent treatment—any drug store—anywhere in the world.

ment National, the Hibernians in the Auditorium Hall, and the Young Irishmen, in the Academy of Music, drew capacity houses and gave fine Irish dramas. Besides these there were six parochial concerts, and all well attended.

At St. Laurent College.

The American and Canadian pupils at St. Laurent College honored Ireland's Patron Saint in a worthy manner. Solemn High Mass was sung and a sermon preached. In the afternoon St. Patrick's Literary and Debating Club held its annual banquet, at which over one hundred attended; Mr. Thomas Liddy, of Torbay, was one of the guests. The College orchestra enlivened the proceedings with Irish airs, while the students made excellent speeches.

The Board of Control.

The Board of control is certainly living up to expectations and is doing good work for the betterment of the long-suffering city. They are proving their worth step by step. Civic graft is now dead and buried, let us hope and for ever.

Railway Earnings.

Railway earnings continue high during March, as they were during February, showing heavy increases over last year in both passenger and freight business all over the country. And not merely do they show substantial increases over this season last year, when the country was rallying from the period of depression, but they are well ahead of the earnings for the banner year, 1907, as they have been since the beginning of the year. The growth in increases on the Grand Trunk has been particularly noticeable for some time past, showing that the improved business is felt in Eastern as well as Western Canada.

A Noisy Striker.

For uttering the word "scab" Julius Kearns, one of the strikers of the cloak industry, was fined $5 and costs by Acting Recorder Lanctot. Meeting three women coming out of the Sommer factory last Saturday afternoon, Kearns shouted at them "Hello, you three scabs." Special detectives employed by the firm arrested the man and brought him to Court on a charge of intimidating workers. Judge Lanctot remarked that strikers must be quiet on the streets and must not interfere with people who did not choose to stop work and worked for the wages offered them. He took occasion to warn those who might take example on Kearns.
