The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

There was a young lady from Kent who always said just what she meant. Said her friends, 'She's a dear, So unique, so sincere'— And they shunned her by common consent."

Why is it, I wonder that people who pride themselves on saying just what they mean, somehow seem to mean disagreeable things most of the time? Why is it that people who pride themselves on seeing clearly seem to see flaws so much often than good points? A little neighbour of mine put on her new gown for our inspection the other day and awaited our admiration with all the excitement and enthusiasm of a young person who doesn't have any pretty gowns often enough to conceal her pride and delight.

A good relation of the lady from Kent, a person who prides herself on her sincerity and goes about rebuking the rest of the world for their lack of it happened to be present. "Yes, it's pretty, but there's something wrong with the sleeves," was her immediate comment.

My little neighbour's pretty rancid gave place to a look of disappointment and anxiety as suddenly as if a cloud had hidden the sun. And I had all I could do not to suggest to the lady that she consult an oculist for those abnormally flaw-seeking eyes of hers. You say that if there was anything the matter with the gown it was well for the possessor to know about it that she might have the fault corrected. Quite so.

But why need that have been the only thing the lady saw and the first thing she said?

Why might she not have noticed and remarked that the lines of the skirt were excellent, that the color was most becoming and that the whole effect was thoroughly attractive, and then later have made the suggestion about the sleeves?

She would have done just as much good and caused less unhappiness. One may see clearly and yet see kindly; one may say just what one means without being a kill-joy. If one will go about it in the proper spirit.

For I think one can be sincere and yet remember and live by Heine's definition of the purpose of the tongue: "God has given us our tongues where we may say pleasant things to our neighbors."

Women's Secrets

There is one man in the United States who has perhaps heard more women's secrets than any other man or woman in the country. These secrets are not secrets of guilt or shame, but the secrets of suffering, and they have been confided to Dr. R. V. Pierce in the hope and expectation of advice and help. That few of these women have been disappointed in their expectations is proved by the fact that ninety-eight per cent. of cases treated were cured. Such a record would be remarkable if the cases treated were numbered by hundreds only. But when that record applies to the treatment of more than half-a-million women, in a practice of over 40 years, it is phenomenal, and entitles Dr. Pierce to the gratitude accorded him by women, as the first of specialists in the treatment of women's diseases. Every sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, absolutely without charge. All replies are mailed, sealed in perfectly plain envelopes, without any printing or advertising whatever, upon them. Write without fear as without fee, to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres't., Buffalo, N. Y.

DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION Makes Weak Women Strong, Sick Women Well

Household Notes.

Keep tacks in bottles. It saves opening many boxes to find a particular kind. When cleaning house use plenty of turpentine in the scrub water. It means certain death to moths. A spoonful of vinegar put into the water in which meat or fowls are boiled will make them tender. Braid of check material is best mended by using several shades of silk or thread in one needle.

Let your doctor prescribe the medicine. He knows best. The fact, however, that Ayer's Sarsaparilla has such strong tonic properties, and is entirely free from alcohol, may make it precisely to his liking.

CHRONIC BRONCHITIS

Cannot be cured with ordinary soothing syrups. The disease must be attacked at the root to eradicate the irritation of the lungs, heal the wounds and strengthen the respiratory organs. The composition of MATHIEU'S SYRUP of Tar and Cod Liver Oil and other Medicinal Extracts marks it amongst all other remedies as the true specific for the diseases of the throat, the bronchial tubes and the lungs. Here are a few conclusive proofs:

AGAINST HEADACHE there is no remedy so active as Mathieu's Nerve Powders which contain no opium, morphine or chloral. 25 cts. per box of 18 powders.

Plucky Police and Burglars.

Desperate Encounters of Recent Years Recalled by the Murder of the Houndsditch police.

The attempted burglary of a jeweller's shop in Houndsditch, which resulted in the death of three constables at the hands of the baffled miscreants, may, in the suddenness of its awful catastrophe, be said to stand alone in the annals of English crime. It surpasses even the tragedy of January 26th, 1909, when Constable Taylor lost his life while gallantly striving to apprehend two Poles, named Heffel and Lepidus, who, after a desperate resistance, involving two deaths, besides numerous injuries to others who had taken up the pursuit, finally, by shooting themselves, evaded justice.

Police Heroes. Wheatley and Wright, having successfully burgled the warehouse of Mr. Elsbach, a Hoxton, furrier, were accosted by a policeman, who, despite a bad thigh wound from a revolver bullet, managed to apprehend the former. Wright contrived to escape, and, having shot down a constable who attempted to seize him, gained the roof of a block of houses lying between East Road and City Road, where, after a struggle, he was captured.

A narrow escape was that of Constable Robinson, when on November 17th, 1878, he attempted to arrest a burglar who had just quitted a house in St. John's Park, Blackheath. Five shots from a revolver were aimed at the policeman, who, although severely wounded, retained his hold, threw his man to the ground, and ultimately, after a desperate struggle, secured him.

Not so fortunate was an officer named Cole, who, on the night of December 1st, 1882, being on duty in Ashwin Street, saw a man clambering over the wall in front of the Baptist Chapel. Thinking that all was not right he proceeded to arrest the suspect, who, in his turn attempted to break loose, and on finding that he could not effect his purpose, whipped

SENSATION IN A QUEBEC COUNTY.

INVALID RESTORED TO HEALTH AFTER FIVE YEARS SUFFERING.

Antoine Bouchard cured his Kidneys by using Dodd's Kidney Pills, and his Drops, Cramps and Backache were cured too.

St. Hilarion, Charlevoix Co., Que., Mar. 17. (Special).—Charlevoix County is ringing with the wonderful cure of Antoine Bouchard. For five years he was practically an invalid; to-day he is a well man. Dodd's Kidney Pills did it, and the people of this neighbourhood are more than ever convinced that they are the one sure cure for all Kidney ailments.

Interviewed concerning his cure, Mr. Bouchard said: "My sickness started with a cold, which developed into Kidney Disease, and for five years I suffered from Dropsy, Cramps in the Muscles, Backache and Nervousness. It took two dozen boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills to cure me, but they did cure me completely. They are a wonderful remedy."

which fell just short of four hours. Lord Palmerston once orated four and a half hours on Don Pacifico and five minutes later was on his feet again, as fresh as when he started. And did not Mr. Biggar, that eloquent Irishman, once "hold the fure" from half-past twelve to half-past five on the thrilling topic of the Devon Commission?

No matter how trivial the subject, an hour was a very modest limit, as was proved when one honourable gentleman spoke for eighty minutes on undersized fish, and another took up sixty minutes with a learned harangue on bog in the Hebrides. Mr. Gladstone, who, when wound up, "could go on all day without turning a hair," spoke for five hours without a pause when introducing his first Budget, and such was the magic of his tongue that he kept his auditors entertained and breathless to the last word. He made dry figures as fascinating as romance.

There have been many attempts to curb this oratorical flow since. In 1849, Mr. Milner Gibson proposed a new Standing Order directing "that the speeches of members be limited in duration to one hour"; but the weight of opinion has been fatal to them. Mr. Gibson's motion was negatived by 96 to 62, and a much more recent motion by Major Rusch, imposing a twenty minutes' limit, by a majority of 40.—TH-BITS.

Another Mystery.

New York, March 9.—In the depths of Chinatown there developed to-day a murder mystery that for strange features has been unequalled since the death of Elsie Slegel. This time the victim is Dr. Eugene Post, a dentist with offices at 19 Catherine St. Though two persons a man and a woman have been arrested, the police admit that they are baffled by the case. Mr. Post was shot yesterday at his office.

Lulu Smith has been arrested, but while she admits being a close friend of Post, and was in his office just after the shooting, declares she had no hand in it.

Special Evening Telegram.

MEXICO CITY, March 17: A complete reorganization of the Diaz Cabinet with the possibility of the aged President himself retiring, if a strong man can be found to succeed him, is possible as a result of the recent political chaos in Mexico. It is believed that only a change of administration can put a stop to the revolution, which appears to be gaining strength.

Had Eczema In Both Legs

Remarkable cure of Chronic Eczema by use of DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

You could scarcely imagine a more severe test of this ointment than the cure of Mrs. Clark recorded here. For twenty years she suffered all the tortures of this terrible disease and tried in vain the prescriptions of doctors and the cures commonly recommended. Mr. Fred W. Clark, Petworth, Ont., writes: "My mother had Eczema in both legs for about 20 years and suffered from the dreadful itching, stinging sensations which can never be described. She doctored and tried everything for it but got no relief until she used Dr. Chase's Ointment which was recommended to her by a friend. She found that this brought relief and by continuing its use has been cured of Eczema. I do not think one could have this horrible disease any worse than she did and can recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment as a thorough cure for Eczema." "Honor to Whom Honor is Due."

Editor Evening Telegram:

Sir.—In presenting the Old Age Pension Resolutions the Premier gave the history of the inception of the scheme and stated that it was first advanced during the '97 election by A. B. Morison, but in making this reference Sir Edward remarked that he was under correction. Where was Mr. Morison now that he did not at once set Sir Edward right! Surely the Minister's memory has not become so defective as to forget who really was the "father of the mighty thought." Allow me to mention the facts which are briefly these:

In the '88 elections Mr. Alfred Vincent, of H. M. Customs, was a candidate and colleague of Messrs. Morison and Morison, and in stamping the District of Bonavista Bay strongly advocated this pension scheme. When sitting in the cold shades of Opposition Mr. Morison did not forget this little incident but when necessary reminded the House from whose brain this Old Age Pension originated. (See Daily News back numbers).

No doubt the Minister's memory is becoming a little cloudy as old age creeps upon him! But now that his memory has been refreshed he will not fail to give his old colleague "Honor to whom honour is due."

Yours truly, BONAVISTA BAYMAN.

Indigestion & Dyspepsia

In all its Forms can be Cured.

It is quite a daily occurrence to hear persons say: Oh, what a feeling of distress I have after meals, fullness of the stomach, heaviness and headache, I feel too tired to do anything, I have no heart to exert myself and at times I care for nothing. I often have a pain in the pit of my stomach, no appetite, my heart beats rapidly on the slightest exertion. I feel just as tired when rising in the morning as when retiring to bed. My sleep is often disturbed, and I often awake with a sense of suffocation and a difficulty of again going to sleep. I have to be careful of what I eat, and my life seems a veritable burden.

Now, it seems a shame and a pity for persons to be suffering like that when it is in their power to get cured by taking a Bottle of Dr. Stafford's Prescription A. A sure cure for persons afflicted with stomach troubles. It can be obtained at

DR. F. STAFFORD & SON, Duckworth Street and Theatre Hill. Small size, 25 cents; postage, 5c extra; large size, 50 cents; postage, 10c extra. Mail orders must be accompanied by remittance.—Oct 29, 1910.
