Big Fish Shipment.

The S.S. Nascope, Capt. Melkie sailed at 8 a.m. to-day for Naples and Piræus, taking a cargo of 33,600 quintals of codfish which is the largest shipment yet sent from Newfoundland. The cargo equals 3,763,200 pounds net, or 1,680 tons of prime codfish, valued at about $250,000. The introduction of steam in the fish carrying trade has already proved a great boon to shippers who send fish to the European markets. The sailing vessels still continue in the West Indian and Brazilian trade, but very few cargoes are now being shipped to the Mediterranean in sailing craft, and fishing seems only a question of a short time. Mr. John Clapp took passage in her.

Minard's Liniment Co., Limited. Gentlemen,—I have used MINARD'S LINIMENT on my vessel and in my family for years, and for the every day ills and accidents of life I consider it has no equal.

'Audacious' Reported Sunk Off Irish Coast.

New York, Nov. 14.—Rumors of disaster to the British super-dreadnought Audacious which have persisted ever since the White Star liner Olympic, diverted from her course, arrived at Lough Swilly on October 29, are apparently confirmed in mail advices received by The Associated Press from a point in Ireland.

After a career of less than two years, the Audacious, of the King George V. class—third in tonnage and armament of His Majesty's warships—lies at the bottom of the ocean off the north coast of Ireland. She was hit by a torpedo or disabled by a mine just before 9 o'clock on the morning of October 27.

With the possible exception of one or two men the whole crew of 800 officers and men was rescued by small boats from the Olympic.

The rescue was made in a rough sea through brilliant and daring seamanship on the part of the White Star crew.

The Audacious met her fate 25 miles off the Irish coast, which the Olympic was skirting. The liner sailed from New York for Glasgow on October 21. She had been warned that there were German mines off Tory Island, and fear of these mines was the official explanation when she unexpectedly put into Lough Swilly.

The Olympic's passengers saw the flash of the explosion and watched the mighty warrior sink. Then their ship turned her prow toward Lough Swilly. Small craft cleared the route to make sure it was free of mines. From October 27th to Nov. 2nd the Olympic lay at Lough Swilly, during which time no one but naval officers were allowed to board her. An immediate investigation of the loss of the battleship was begun.

Vice-Admiral Sir John R. Jellicoe, commander of the Home Fleet, visited the scene of the disaster on November 1.

There is no official confirmation of this news by the British Admiralty.

(As it is more than three weeks since the disaster is reported to have occurred and there is still no official confirmation, no credence should be given to the report. Further, as the Audacious is one of the finest battleships, her place would be in a squadron in the North Sea, ready at all times, to take her place in the line of a big dreadnought engagement. It is most improbable that she would be in the waters off the North of Ireland, nor is it more likely that Sir John R. Jellicoe, would be away from the North Sea, where his duty would call him to be ready for such an engagement.—Ed.)

Have You an Itchy Spot?

Somewhere on your body? It so, attend to it at once. In Eczema—and itchy spots, whether dry and scurfy, or moist and inclined to "weep," are generally accompanied by a burning, itching, and smarting, and are a foolish, allowing the disease to spread and affect more of the good skin. Your best chance for a cure is to use Zylex, which will give almost instant relief, and it used in the earlier stages of the trouble will almost certainly bring a cure, and in any event will greatly ameliorate the trouble. Ask your druggist about it. Price 50c. a box. Zylex Soap, 25c. a cake.

"Seem to Get There Every Time."

We are in receipt of a postal dated November 1st, from Mr. F. T. Lind, one of our subscribers who is now at Salisbury Plains with the Newfoundland Contingent, asking that the address of his paper be changed from Fogo to Little Bay, where his parents reside, intimating that they would forward it to him from home. He says that all the Newfoundland boys are well, and are practising for their "trip to Berlin." In a football match played on October 31st, between Newfoundlanders and Canadians, our boys were victorious by a score of four goals to nil. We seem to get there every time says our esteemed friend. We also trust that he will say this after the "trip to Berlin," which is only a question of time.

To Hold Patriotic Meetings.

Hon. W. C. Job, Mr. F. C. Morris, K. C., and Mr. T. O'Neill left by this morning's train for Argentina, Fox Harbor, Branch and other places to hold patriotic meetings, to explain the war and to show the need of Newfoundland answering the call. The fact that the Prince of Wales is now at the front aiding his country should stimulate more young men at home and in the Colonies to be up and doing.

No sensible man wants a Watch that is not reliable. It may cost him dearly. Any man who wants a Watch that is reliable, let him go to TRAPNELL'S, where only reliable Watches are kept and sold at reasonable prices.—oct22,tf

Severe Weather Up North.

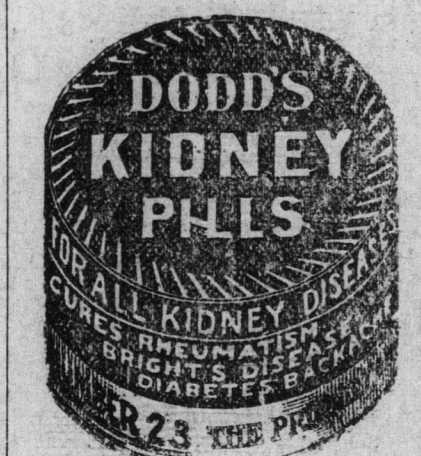

By the Prospero we learn that the weather is universally severe, and Captain Kean tells us that it is the worst he ever experienced at this particular time of the season. For the past fortnight or more all along the coast from Seldom to Battle Harbor there has been nothing but snow storms, with an intensely cold atmosphere. At every port of call of the Prospero the hills were thickly covered with snow. In the region of Battle Harbor the snow was to a depth of eight feet. This looks as if there is going to be a severe winter up north.

New Performers for Rossley's.

Kelly and Mack, the boys from the Emerald Isle, will appear at Rossley's to-night if the boat arrives in time. Kelly and Mack, old time vaudeville artists with songs, dances, musical instruments, sketches and comedies. Mr. Rossley has tried to secure an act that will please his patrons; he can't possibly go to London and see an act every time he wants one; his agent in London must do that, and Mr. Rossley must take what he can get. Those gentlemen come to him highly recommended, and we feel sure will please the patrons. The pictures at Rossley's are first class; the best the market can offer, and the big two reel feature by the Cines Co. the same firm that produced Qua Vadis, will take some beating.

Prospero Back.

A STORMY TRIP. The S.S. Prospero Capt. A. Kean, arrived back this morning from the Northward, after one of the stormiest trips on record. For practically the whole voyage boisterous weather was encountered and the ship received a bad drubbing, though every port of call going to and returning from Battle Harbor was visited, and mails, freight and passengers landed. The Prospero also went to Sides Harbor, five miles north of Battle Harbor, and landed a winter's provisions there for those engaged at pit-propping. On last Tuesday week while off the Grey Islands a fierce blizzard was experienced. Coming south, storm succeeded storm, and the ship had to harbor repeatedly. The Prospero brought a large freight but only a few passengers.

Legend of Drake's Drum

According to the legend, Drake's drum is to sound again, "when England was in danger," but the suggestion of a correspondent of The Pall Mall Gazette that it should be beaten at some of the recruiting stations will certainly not be adopted. It is a venerable, and probably in these days a noiseless relic, and if it is ever to be beaten it should only be by the ghost of Drake himself. (One likes to borrow the Japanese idea in these days and think that the hosts of our mighty ancestors are watching and fighting on the side of their descendants.) The drum still hangs at Buckland Abbey, where it is a cherished possession of Lady Elliott-Drake, whose book on "The Family and Heirs of Sir Francis Drake" contains an illustration of it.

Stafford's Liniment should be in every home. No advance in the price.—sep19,tf

The newest of the new is the tunic which falls below the skirt. Shoes with cloth tops of contrasting color are very fashionable, indeed.

Kolniski and monkey fur are seen in a great many of the fur novelties. A Medici collar with a pointed cape reaching to the waist is the newest.

AS AN AFTER THOUGHT—that is, after the fire starts—it is useless to think of taking out a policy. The time to do it is NOW—before the danger threatens.

BE ON THE SAFE SIDE and let us write you a Policy on your home and property at once. It ought to be made a criminal offense to be without fire insurance when the cost is so small.
