MCAULEY WINS.

McAuley, who was exclusively stated in our Saturday issue, Victor McAuley won the Heald Marathon on Saturday for the third time in succession for a fourth time altogether. Last time there were 110 entries but for an unexplainable reason there were not more than 30 this year. It has been freely stated and given much publicity that McAuley would not compete this season on the plea of illness. It was the rash message, however, caused some surprise. Through the courtesy of the recipient, we were shown a message yesterday, to one prominently identified with athletics here by a friend at Halifax, who states that owing to the death of his father and in order to induce him to take part, McAuley's entry was purposely kept back to the last minute. The race, all the way through, was between him and Wright of Wolfville, N.S., but doubtless the thorough knowledge and experience over the years was an important and valuable factor in McAuley's victory. The race was slow as he had a previous record over the course of 54.29 2-5. It is understood that it is not at all likely that McAuley will visit here at the end of the month to run in the race as he has expressed a desire to go to George Wright of Wolfville who was third in the Canadian Longships' Five Mile Race) was second; and as we forecasted, a race was between them.

FOUR BLOWS STRUCK IN CARPENTIER-BECKETT FIGHT.

LONDON.—It took Georges Carpentier, the French boxer, about twenty seconds to put the quietus on the championship aspirations of Joe Beckett, who held the heavyweight title in Great Britain. Carpentier used both hands and rights in a brief series of changes and Beckett remained on the floor for the final count.

The two men received a great deal when they entered the ring for their twenty-round bout, and for a fleeting moment Beckett was smitten in smiles. His supporters, however, could hardly have witnessed a greater or greater disappointment, as awaited them.

Beckett led a light left to his opponent's jaw, but there was no power behind the blow, and Carpentier came over a left, followed by a right. Beckett's jaw, with terrible force, Beckett went down for a count of five.

The Englishman got to his feet after a rocky and the Frenchman added in with his right and left, beat Beckett down again near the ropes, and on top of him. On rising Carpentier stood back. Beckett gripped the bottom rope in an effort to pull himself to his feet but he was so pulled that apparently he had lost sense of what was going on, and after the count had been completed seconds threw in the towel, and ended one of the quickest and most sensational of heavyweight contests.

After the fight Carpentier said it was all over so quickly that there was nothing to talk about. Asked what his future plans he replied:

"I am off to the United States next month and if I beat Tom Gibbons, I expect to meet Dempsey again. Indeed I hope so."

INTER-COLLEGIATE FOOTBALL.

The first game in the Inter-Collegiate games takes place on Wednesday afternoon, between the St. Bon's Pelicans and the Canadian Redoubts. The three colleges are expected to have very strong lineups, and fact combined with the consistent practices they have been going through, will tend to make a thrilling and hard-fought series. It is interesting to note that St. Bon's have the wonderful record of being winners for 10 consecutive years. It is not surprising, therefore, that both the Pelicans and Collegians are making every effort this season to have a break made in the long string of successive victories for St. Bon's.

ENGLAND DEFEATS WALES, 18-11.

LONDON.—England defeated Wales on Oct. 1st, in an international football game played under the Rugby League rules (the Northern Union) by a score of 18 to 11. At half time the Englishmen had established a lead of eighteen points, but in the second period the Welshmen rallied and held their opponents down to no score, while they themselves ran up eleven points. The game was played at Huddersfield.

TOIT PLANS TO SWIM THE CHANNEL AGAIN.

A FLYWEIGHT BOUT.

NEW YORK.—Frankie Genaro, flyweight champion of the United States retained his title Saturday night when he won the judge's decision over Vincent Salvatore of Los Angeles in a snappy 13-round bout. Genaro weighed 111 pounds and Salvatore 111½.

WHO IS THE NFD. CHAMPION?

Editor Sportographs
Dear Sir.—In your column of Oct. 4th, you say that Messrs L. C. Outerbridge and Eric Jerrett will play off for the Tennis Championship of Newfoundland. How do you figure that out? Why not say the championship of North America and be done with it? You St. John's people seem to think that the champion of St. John's, in any and every branch of athletics must be the champion of Newfoundland. The Inter-Town tournaments that Mr. Grace has had with Bay Roberts, Bell Island and Carbonear, lead us to think that the champion of Newfoundland lives in either of those towns. Bay Roberts has John Hambling; Carbonear Wm. Guy; and Bell Island Joe Dunn. In our opinion either of these would easily handle the champion of St. John's. Last year at Bay Roberts during a tournament, Hambling beat the St. John's champion in two straight sets. Mr. Grace has also played St. John's in tennis, and while the players of the game in the second city have the kindest of feeling towards the St. John's devotees of the game, they do not think St. John's should claim any championships that it has not earned.

Sincerely yours,
TENNIS FAN.
Mr. Grace, Oct. 5th 1923.

THE PASSIONATE GOLFER TO THE BLUE NOSES.
The Hell you say awaits us folk who go to the Sun, is a hot and hopeless Hell; and we who trot about the links with quip and joke.

For hook or slice or fooled stroke Would dread its terrors to provoke If we weren't sure that there is not
The Hell you say!
Because it gives us joy to soak
A little giddy on the dot—
Breathe air, tread sweet green fairways—
What! Are we then damned to sweat and stroke?
The Hell you say!

Before the Grand Jury
The Grand Jury present at the Supreme Court this forenoon was addressed by his Lordship the Chief Justice on a bill of indictment against Albert Mercer for arson. Mercer is charged with setting fire to his house on Bell Island during the month of February. The insurance on the property are in the name of the wife of the accused. She, it appears, originally purchased one-half of the house for $120. Subsequently she purchased the other half from the co-owner for $400. At the time there was a policy on the building for $400. Further insurance for a sum of $700 was effected and $1000 on the furniture. The Chief Justice concluded his address at 11.20, when the jury retired to consider the indictment.

TO-DAY'S MESSAGES.

LLOYD GEORGE'S WELCOME IN MONTREAL AN OVATION.
MONTREAL, Oct. 8.

Right Hon. David Lloyd George, the most renowned of British war-time statesmen was accorded a magnificent welcome here Saturday night when the special train which conveyed him from New York steamed into Bonaventure station at 9.30. Thousands of people thronged the depot, its environs, and streets leading to it in the hope of catching a glimpse of the man whose name was so familiar during the dark years of the war. As he left the train with his wife and daughter and came in view of the great concourse which awaited him, cheers arose which seemed to shake the depot and completely drowned the strains of the Welsh National Anthem played by the band. Montreal's welcome was of a superlative character seldom extended in Canada. In it there was plainly discernable an echo of the rejoicing which greeted the victorious conclusion of the world war in which Lloyd George played such a prominent part. There was no discordant note in the ovation and it was representative of many faces, creeds, and shades of opinion.

Despite Its Quiet

LONDONERS FIND CITY TOO NOISY.

LONDON.—(A.P.)—One of the first impressions that observant Americans coming from their own noisy, bustling cities, get of London is its serene quiet. Turn off any of the busiest highways, and in a few yards the stillness of the side streets is soothing to the ear. One may walk blocks and blocks without hearing the sounds of a phonograph coming from any window, and the curb is almost deserted, automobiles not being so common as in America. Those that do roll down the streets give warning of their coming by old-fashioned horns, never so irritating as ear-splitting sirens.

There is a noticeable absence of children with their noisy games. Except in the poorer quarters they do not congregate on the sidewalks and streets. That is one of the things that isn't done.

Yet many Londoners think their capital terribly noisy. Of those who loved the easy, jazzless age before the war, some are beginning to complain of the tide of sound ever rising all around them. Stanley Rowland has just protested at length against "the crime of noise" in an article in the Nineteenth Century. Motor-horns cause him anguish, motorcycles fret his nerves, jazz music he cannot tolerate. But the growing noises of the home fret him as much as the inevitable racket of the streets, the cafes and dance halls.

Those Mr. Rowland faults with his pen include persons who slam doors instead of quietly turning the knob, and those who walk with pompous pounding of their shoes. The man who rustles his newspaper with crackling explosions also bothers the ear of Mr. Rowland, and so also the man who puts things—books, chairs, anything—down with a bang. He loves, or says he does, the quiet and gentle conversationalist, but he abhors those who broadcast their every word.

If noise keeps on breeding noise, the writer declares, the prospect is pandemonium.

So far nothing has been done about it.

Removal of Wreck is Difficult

The removing of the wreck of the steamer Baron Vernon from the Channel of the Clyde, near Dumbarton, is a more difficult task than was at first anticipated. It will be remembered that the vessel stranded as a result of a collision with the C. P. R. liner, Metagama. The hull lies sunk in a sandbank, the shifting nature of which has presented unforeseen difficulties to the salvors. We understand that a special plant is now being prepared by the contractors, and when this is ready it is anticipated that they will be able to float the vessel. It is interesting to note that the cargo, which consisted of iron ore, and which has therefore rendered the raising of the hull more arduous, is being removed by suction pumps.

Fascist Control Brings Better Times to Italy

ROME.—As the first year of Fascist rule in Italy draws to a close, it is interesting to consider what has been accomplished in the agricultural and industrial life of the nation. It is believed that the increased energy and confidence on the part of landowners and farmers, together with favorable weather conditions, has started Italy on the road to greater production and prosperity.

The number of unemployed has steadily declined; the official returns for the months of March and April, 1923, show a reduction of almost one-half as compared to the corresponding months of 1922.

There have been practically no strikes or labor troubles since the Fascists and their leader undertook to run the Government of Italy last October. The Ministry of Agriculture estimates that the gross value of Italy's crops for 1923 will exceed that of 1922 by about 4,000,000,000 lire; the yields of wheat, barley and rye are about 23 per cent. higher than in 1922, and from 13 to 22 per cent. higher than that of the average for the last five years. In addition, forage crops, silk cocoons, vines, sugar beets and tomatoes have all been more extensively cultivated and have yielded larger crops.

Slothful Judges

Detroit Free Press: Time is an important element in the accurate administration of the criminal law. Protracted delay and particularly delay between the day of arrest and the day of trial is a heavy handicap on Justice. It is bound to work harm somewhere. Speedy trial is the right of the accused. It also is the right of the state which is burdened with responsibility for protection of the public.

Ridiculous Suggestions

Manchester Guardian: If all America cannot yield water which is fit for Papyrus to drink, how can anybody be sure that the very air of the United States will not disagree with him? Samples of that had better be brought over, too. And if these also prove inadequate, the only thing to do will be to take Papyrus over in a gasometer filled with the air of Epsom Downs and let him run off his match in a driving suit blown out with the same sustaining mixture.
