Galt, Aug. 20.-There were some deelopments of a sensational nature yes terday at the Emma Orr inquest here, the principal one being the find-ing of the spade with which the grave was dug in which the woman was buried. The spade had what was apparently human hair on it. The theory which the crown is working on, that Allison committed the deed before he left the Orr farm to go to Barrie's with the cows, was strengthened by evidence which showed that Allison could not have got to Barrie's till was teaching Mrs. Orr how to handle the gun, and that she carried it into the house. The second story was that he (Allison) took the gun into the house. Curliss called his attention to the discrepancy, to which Allison remarked: Yes, but you're getting the right story

THE SPADES The two spades with which the two covered them and by the authorities. The clothes Allison is supposed to have worn on the day of the murder were identified by Anthony Orr as belonging to the boy.

Some reference was made to the black oak cudgel, which was exhibited as the probable weapon, when Constable Kay, in his evidence, told how Allison, the Sunday morning of his arrest, had said that he had picked up a cedar stick six feet long, and with the bark off, near the fence. It was wet on the large end, the stain extending to a foot and a half from the end. ALIBIS. Robert Stoker, who was identified in the jail by the boy Allison as the man he passed in the lane on the Monday of the murder, proved a complete alibi.

Weldron Sydney Trevelyan, the medical student, also proved a comp

NARROW ESCAPE

For a St. Thomas Two-Year-Old -

Struck by an Engine. St. Thomas, Aug. 20.-Dora. 2-vearold daughter of Engineer Granville Steele, of Barnes street, had a very narrow escape from instant death on Wednesday afternoon. She was being drawn along Ross street in a baby carriage by her brother, about 10 years old, who passed under the gates at the M. C. R. crossing just as they drop He saw two men pass over in ront of a yard engine and thought he could do the came. The engine

Little Dora was thrown out and rolled some distance before the engine could be stopped. When picked up and carried to Dr. Smith's office it was found that the big toe of the left foot was cut off and the nail of the next one torn off. The child also had a bad bruise on the forehead and the front teeth knocked out. Dr. Smith dressed the wounds.

Mr. Natanael Mortonson, a wellknown citizen of Ishpheming, Mich., and editor Superior Posten, who, for a long time, suffered from the most excruciating pains of rheumatism, was cured, eight years ago, by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, having never felt a twinge of it since.
