Used Abusive Language, It is Said, and Allowed Horses to Run at Large.

William Davidson appeared before Magistrate Love Monday morning on two charges, one of having horses wandering at large and another of using abusive language towards a constable. Mr. Davidson asked that the case lay over for a few days as he had not been served until Saturday evening. The court adjourned the case for a week.

Lewis Lewis appeared for being drunk. The court recollected that a few weeks ago Lewis asked for time to pay a fine imposed for drunkenness, and after being allowed to go failed to show up any more.
"I had no money and was away looking for work," said Lewis.
"Ten dollars or 21 days," said the magistrate.

A number of persons who have not paid their dog taxes and statute labor taxes settled up, and were allowed to go on paying the tax and costs.

SOME DEFINITIONS

For Beginners in Investments.

More or Less Familiar Terms Precisely Explained.

There are always new investors "coming on," and some who already have securities drawing dividends, are not familiar with the precise meaning of some of the terms used on their stock certificates. For these A. E. Ames & Co., Limited, furnish information showing the significance of the securities of the F. N. Burt Company, Limited, which they are now offering for sale by advertisement. These securities are 7 per cent cumulative, convertible preference shares, which are offered at par, with bonus of 20 per cent of the amount of the preference shares in common stock. The following is a detailed explanation of the terms used:

7 per cent.—The shares yield dividends at the rate of 7 per cent per year. In this case quarterly dividends are to be paid of 1.75 per cent each, on the first days of January, April, July and October of each year.

Cumulative—If, for any reason, the company should not pay a total of 7 per cent in any one year in dividends to preference stockholders, no dividend can be paid to common stockholders until such shortage and any other shortage from year to year has been paid to the preference stockholders.

Convertible.—In the Burt Company this word signifies that a holder of preference shares may, any time he likes, exchange his preference shares for the same par value in common shares. This right would come into value on the business of the company becoming so prosperous that the common stock dividend rate could be made greater than the dividend rate on the preference stock.

Preference.—In the Burt Company the fixed preference dividend rate is 7 per cent per annum, and the "preference" is as to both assets and dividends. That is to say, if the business should ever be wound up preference shareholders would have to be paid in full, including any unpaid dividends at 7 per cent per annum before the common shareholders would get anything.

Common.—All dividends over and above the 7 per cent per annum on the preference shares go to the common shareholders, and in the winding up of the company, they receive all surplus after the preference shares have been paid in full, together with any accumulated dividends.

Subscription books are open at the offices of A. E. Ames & Co., Limited, 7 and 9, King street east, Toronto, and close on or before Tuesday afternoon next at four o'clock.

The firm report a growing demand for this class of security during the last two years, and expect to receive a large number of small subscriptions.

"The Man From Home."

George Kennon, the famous Siberian traveller and writer on Russian prisoners, never drew a more carefully framed picture of the horrors of the knout and the sufferings of the politically banished there than that depicted by Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson in the person of Ivanoff in "The Man From Home." The character gives an intensely strong dramatic effect to the play, without in any way interfering with its story and interest. It will be seen here at the Grand twice tomorrow, matinee at 2:15 and evening at 8:15. The seat sale opened yesterday and indications point to a crowded house.

"Forty-Five Minutes From Broadway."

"Forty-Five Minutes From Broadway" will be presented at the Grand on Thursday, Sept. 16, for one night only. The original company and production will be seen here. The cast includes Charles Brown, Elizabeth Drew, Lillian White, Louise Gardner, Susan Chosnell, Ninon de Varenne, James H. Manning, James A. Davett, Eugene MacGregor, Harry Gwynette, and Roger Hurst.

"King Dodo."

"King Dodo" will be the attraction at the Grand on Friday and Saturday, Sept. 17 and 18, with a special matinee Saturday at 2:15.

While many show-shoppers have seen "King Dodo," there still remains many thousands who have never enjoyed the delights of this clever opera. The story has to do with a decrepit old monarch, King Dodo I. of Dodo land, who is possessed of the idea that he would like to regain his youth. To this end he does all sorts of foolish things, such as having the calendar set back a trifling 30 years and keeping his court physician in constant dread of a violent death if he does not discover for him the elixir of eternal youth. The seat sale opens tomorrow.

PRIZE CATS DIE.

Toronto, Ont., Sept. 14.—A mysterious mortality has caused considerable loss to owners of prize cats since the recent cat show at the Canadian National Exhibition. Mr. Villiers has lost three silver tabbies, Mr. Walker three brown cats, Mrs. C. A. Paxton five brown cats and Mrs. Arnot one brown cat by death. Another of Mrs. Paxton's prize cats, Lynx, is sick. Some of the cat owners, who have thus suffered loss, hint at poison as the cause of so many felines having been thus removed from the scene of their triumphs.
