The sturdy stitude of the Canadian government in excluding American fisher-men from Canadian waters has brought the Gloucester fishing industry to a stand-still. The Toronto Mail asys that largo schools of fine fat mackerel, have been obscrued on the Canadian coast and im-mense catches have been made by the Canadian fishermen; but the Gloucester men, being confined to American waters, have had alim success in their operations. The fleet which went south has landed few machanel and the other but for and to increase those on salted fish, a bill with these ends in view having been in-troduced. In a word, the Gloucester men having grossly misled the American people, are now coolly proposing to fine them. It must be borne in mind that a high duty on Canadian caught fish is no solution to the difficulty. It rather ag-gravates it, for while it leaves the fisher-men where they are, so far as their busi-hese is concerned, it is calculated to im-pair the large American fish trade carried on with the Indies. The true cure for the difficulty is not taxation but a treaty, and this our neighbours can get if they will but asy the word. will but say the word.
