

THE CAMPBELLTON GRAPHIC

Anslo Bros. Publishing Company, Ltd.
Publishers

H. B. ANSLOW, EDITOR AND MANAGER

CAMPBELLTON, NEW BRUNSWICK TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 2nd, 1909

THE HYDRAULIC EXPERT?

The Tribune is out again with another batch of falsehoods in regard to the water pressure. At the opening of the article (which would do justice to a man getting a rake-off from the fire underwriters), it states that "the ratepayers will exceedingly regret Mayor Murray's expectations have not been realized regarding the increased water pressure from the sixteen inch main." Do the ratepayers take the Tribune seriously? We think not. His Worship's expectations have not only been realized, but to the gratification of all (with a few exceptions) have been exceeded.

The test made by the fire department on Thanksgiving Day is proof enough that there is a fine increase in the water pressure. Water was thrown over the R. C. Church—a solid 1 1/2 inch stream, where, before the main was connected there was not enough pressure to be of any use for fire fighting. Three streams were turned on during the test—two at Mowat's Corner and one in the hollow at the Baptist church—any one of which was a source of pride to the firemen at the nozzle, and the ratepayers who saw the test being made.

And again, Bro. Crockett, a test was made at the hydrant at the west end of the town, and while the hydrant was running full blast the chief of the fire department and a representative of the Graphic called upon one of your neighbors, who is one of your chief advisors and sympathizers, in matters pertaining to the town. In conversation with the chief, this gentleman stated that there was a great increase in the water pressure since the new main was connected. The gentleman also confirmed the statement of the chief of the fire department that there was more pressure now with the hydrant wide open than there was before the sixteen inch main was connected with the hydrant closed. Strange, isn't it? But true, nevertheless.

The pressure at Shives mill, which was taken during a boiler test there, showed that the pressure was ninety-two and a half pounds.

Further along in the article above referred to Bro. Crockett says: "The increase in the pressure is only from 12 to 14 pounds, and even this increase cannot be attributed entirely to the 16 inch main, as the dates of taking the pressure do not give a proper test. For instance the pressure was taken in July, one of the driest months, when there was no overflow from the reservoir, and the connection was held back by the town council until the fall rains when there was a big overflow from the reservoir, which increased the head, thus giving a greater pressure."

This is not only pure unadulterated maliciousness, but is one of the best of the many exhibitions of ignorance that have emanated from the massive (?) brain of the man who occupies the editorial chair of the Tribune.

THOSE HORSES AGAIN

The Kentucky horses are again in the limelight—all but one, which is dead. In a Frederickton despatch to The Times yesterday the following occurred:

The local year will close tomorrow and "Provincial Secretary Fleming is endeavoring to arrange things so as to be able to make the best possible showing. It is understood that all the notes given in exchange for the Kentucky thoroughbreds have not yet been collected and will have to be carried over."

This is an extraordinary state of affairs. The government should surely state who the delinquents are. Some buyers of these horses paid their notes as they fell due. It was the duty of the government to convince itself of the financial ability of purchasers. Who are the men who have not paid? One of the horses is dead and it is currently reported that it died from abuse. It was the duty of the government to see that every animal went into the hands not only of a man who could pay, but of one who could be depended upon to give it proper care. Was this done? The whole matter is one which calls for explanation. It has been suggested to the Times that they should again be offered at auction. In any case, the matter should be cleared up.—Evening Times.

Throughout all the turmoil the North Pole remains cool. It is going to be a hard winter for the poor. The price of automobile tires has gone up. For a lesson in punctuality go to the come. Then, staggered, it is about four months ahead of its schedule.

Wilbur Wright says that he intends to open a flying school. Higher education, no doubt.

According to the Boston News Bureau, "Adeline" Patti has sold her throat for $100,000 to an American, who will exhibit it after her death.

The Prince of Monaco is on the verge of the grave. He has been responsible for sending many others there before their time.

A severe storm in Havana has leveled all the trees. We trust in the interest of rear platform smokers the cabbage crop was not damaged.

In Shropshire they have a competition in which there is a prize for the most miserable looking bachelor. It is impossible to offer one for the most miserable looking married man on account of the great number of entrants in this class.

New let Indian summer pick up the thread where it was carelessly dropped. "Do dogs pay?" asks a contemporary. Not unless they have to—no less they have to.

Now that Revolutionist Ferreer is dead he is more dangerous to Alfonso than he was while alive.

Old Tom Gin, in a little sugar and a lemon peel are recommended as a cure for sneezing. All together now—Keechoo.

A fashion not says that evening fabrics this season will be soft and limp. Our pyjamas are like that, so we are all right.

There is a pie famine in New York. This is a pitiable thing, for it affects the only sort of piety to be found in the place.

Wolves in Pontiac are reported to have attacked a balliff. It is very rare however, that those animals prey upon their own kind.

Canada has now the prospect of a gigantic shipbuilding industry, which goes to show that a country can have all the industries it is able to pay for.

Upper class woman of an American college have been hazing the "freshers" by depriving them of their puffs and rats. The horrors of hazing seem to be increasing.

Tailor Wanted. Hockey player offered. This crieth an esteemed advertiser, knowing full well that a good hockey player can spoil enough clothes to keep his needle busy. But why not Football Player preferred.

The son of a Philadelphia doctor has died as a result of vaccination by his father. This will raise again the smouldering discussion on the wisdom of vaccinating healthy children.

Although there has been a law in force since January 1 in Oregon prohibiting women from wearing hats more than ten inches in length, there have been no arrests as yet for the offence.

A Denver physician is said to have discovered that Limburger cheese will cure cancer. Of all evils choose the least.

England is going to construct special roads for auto searchers, probably realizing that it will be cheaper to build special roads than special jails.

Thieves stole all the money in a London drug store, the efforts of the proprietor to get them to accept some thing just as good proving utterly futile.

The screech owl is much favored as a military ornament. And it is the screech owl that is one of the farmer's best friends. As a mouse, he is better than a cat.

Bolton Hall says that one acre of land will support fifty people. Perhaps it would support them in a way but it wouldn't give them autos and theatre tickets.

A big shipowner's union to resist unreasonable attacks by trade unions and similar bodies has been formed in London under the title of the International Shipping Federation.

Two American banks have shipped $500,000 in gold to Canada. Here is mystery for those who think the balance of trade between any two countries is adjusted by a cash payment.

It remains for the Supreme Court to say whether an insurance policy is payable when the owner was hanged. Still, hanging appears to be a natural enough death for some people.

Many will sympathize with the Salt Lake newspaper writer who insisted in his will that, as he had paid rent all his life, he must not be buried in any cemetery where rental was paid for lots.

It is reported from Berlin that a method has been devised for making steel direct from iron ore. Every advance in the production of this, the chief raw material of productive industry, is of immediate interest to the Dominion.

Many New Englanders are centerarians. Recently Mrs. Ruth Smith, of Putney, Vt., celebrated her 106th anniversary and Mrs. Jane F. Robinson, of Boston, her 103rd.

Captain Bernier complains that he had not enough latitude on his trip North. Great Scott, the man had latitude right up to the 90th degree far in front of him.

An Indiana Judge has decided that a mule is a horse. It is great relief to know that judicial sanction hasn't been put on the idea. Thousands of women have discovered early in their matrimonial career that their husbands were blockheads, but they have concealed the fact from the world all their lives.

A Governor of the Bank of England thinks that women ought not to be employed in the bank because they can't keep a secret. Thousands of women have discovered early in their matrimonial career that their husbands were blockheads, but they have concealed the fact from the world all their lives.

The names of some of England's biggest battleships are indomitable, indefatigable and indelible. Many English people think the next "big one" ought to be named the Insuperable.

Great men are being born every hour," says the Ottawa Citizen, "but it will require some time for them to grow up." It may be so, but we fear there is a high infant mortality among them.

It is now stated that the Sultan of Morocco has sold the mines that caused the Spanish invasion to a German syndicate. The Transvaal people know it is a dangerous thing for a weak nation to own valuable mines.

Mr. James Francis Egan, sword-bearer of the Dublin Corporation, and formerly a prominent Fenian, is dead. He was sentenced to twenty years penal servitude in 1884, but released after serving nine years.

One of the surest indications that the north pole controversy is played out as a news feature is the chronicle in press despatches of the arrest of Evelyn Thaw's brother. As pot boilers for the U. S. press the Thaw family have Cook and Peary distanced a mile.

There is to be a competition in Chicago to select the best husband in the city. The question is, will any woman nominate her own better half?

King Alfonso and Queen Victoria of Spain in spite of threats of assassination, have driven slowly through Madrid without escort. The Spaniards have probably human nature enough left in them to respect personal courage.

A Governor of the Bank of England thinks that women ought not to be employed in the bank because they can't keep a secret. Thousands of women have discovered early in their matrimonial career that their husbands were blockheads, but they have concealed the fact from the world all their lives.

Your Head Aches
Tongue is Coated
Mouth Tastes Bad
Stomach is Sick

The Gastric Juices Are Not Doing Their Duty and You're in the Grip of Nervous Dyspepsia.

A hot bitter fluid and sour undigested food rise in your mouth. Your vision is crossed with specks that float before the eyes. Very shortly you'll have nausea, rank breath, and sleepless nights. What you need is Perrozene. It regulates the gastric juices, puts new life into the stomach, braces digestive powers, gives the aid that's so badly required. If you want proof, read the experience of Mr. E. P. Davison, a well-known resident of Portland, who writes: "Perrozene is beyond doubt a most powerful cure for indigestion and weak stomach. Food so badly disagreed with me that I was almost afraid to eat. Pastry and starchy foods fermented, caused sour risings, and gave me headaches, brown taste, offensive breath. I grew weak, my weight ran down fifteen pounds and I looked fully indicated all that was wrong. Perrozene put me on my feet again. It braced me up, removed my digestion—and made me a well-man." Doctor and patients alike speak of the merit of Perrozene; it is different from other remedies, different because it cures so you stay cured. Try it, sold everywhere in the box, 5 for $2.50, by mail from the Caltabronne Co., Kingston, Ont.

CAPE COVE

St. James, Church was the a pretty event on Tuesday when Miss Janie LeGrand, of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. LeGrand united in marriage to Mr. John formerly of the Island of Je. The bride, who was given her father, wore a pretty pearl grey silk, with plumed a white marabou boa. The bride was attended by ter, Miss Esale LeGrand; w/ G. Delaine of Grand River, ed the groom. After the ceremony the y paired to the home of the b ents, where a reception was The groom's gift to the b fur-lined coat, and to the a gold pocket and chain. Mr. and Mrs. Gruchy left o day morning for Montreal. points. On their return th side at Pries, Quebec. Mrs. E. Made of Oco

HERE

"My 9 year old d weak, pale, and g gave her Vinol, and thrived at once. She is weight, color and Mrs. W.H. GILMORE. Vinol builds up b and plump. Child We return pec does not accompi A. McG. McDO

Dr. J. J. WOODBURY'S HORSE LINIMENT
CURES DISTEMPER
NO HORSEMAN SHOULD BE WITHOUT IT. PRICE 25c.

Interest Increasing in the
GIVING UP BUSINESS SALE OF

GEO. G. MCKENZIE & Co's

BIG HIGH GRADE STOCK

Store crowded to the doors Saturday, Monday and today. A very large staff of clerks, three times the usual, not able at times to serve the crowd. Come early--forenoon if you can; but come and save money while you may.