SINCE putting to press a London Edition of “ A brief Account of the Proceedings of the “ Committee appointed in the Year 1795, by “ the Yearly Meeting of Friends of Pennsyl“ vania, New Jersey, &c. for promoting the “ Improvement and gradual Civilization of the “ Indian Natives,” an account of the proceedings of a committee, appointed by another Yearly Meeting in North America, has been received. In presenting it to the English reader, a few remarks may be useful.

The Yearly Meeting held at Baltimore, in Maryland, is quite distinct from that held at Philadelphia; yet it represents a considerable part of the body of Friends in the western part of Pennsylvania. The objects of the concern of the two Yearly Meetings are equally distinct.
The Indian nations to which the Maryland committee has directed its attention, lie in general farther west, than those under the notice of the Pennsylvanians. They are situated in that vast district which is comprehended between the rivers Ohio and Mississippi, and bounded to the north by the lakes Superior, Huron, and Erie. Lake Michigan penetrates this district, and may be said to be wholly within it. It has
