INFORMATION WANTED, OF ANDREW WELCH, who was master of the bark "NORTHERN LIGHT," of St. Catharines. When he was last heard of he was in Quebec. He is about five feet six inches in height, aged about thirty years has red curly hair, and a cut on his forehead, and of sober, industrious habits. Any person conveying information of his whereabouts to Matthew Battle, St. Catharines, G.W., would confer a lasting obligation on his wife and family. Canadian and American Frontier papers will confer a favor by copying; also the Boston Pilot, Three Rivers, and Sorel Papers.

The following remedies are offered to the public as the best and most perfect, which medical science has yet discovered. AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS have been prepared with the utmost skill which the medical profession of this age possesses, and their effects show they have virtues which surpass any combination of medicines hitherto known. Other preparations of more or less goodly; but these cause such a degree of constipation, and so severely affect the system, and a power to spread disease beyond any thing which men have known before. By removing the obstructions of the internal organs and stimulating them into healthy action, they renovate the fountains of life and vigor—health courses anew through the body, and the sick man is well again. They are adapted to all ages, and disease only, for when taken by one in health, they produce but little effect. This is the perfection of medicine. It is antagonistic to disease, and no more. Tender children may take them with impunity. If they are sick they will eat a meal, if they are well they will do them no harm. Give them to some patient who has been prostrated with bilious complaint; see his bent-up, tottering form straighten with strength again; see his long-lost appetite return; see his clammy features blossom into health. Give them to some sufferer whose foul blood has burst out in scrofula till his skin is covered with sores; who stands, or sits, or lies in anguish. He has been drenched inside and out with every potion which ingenuity could suggest. Give him these PILLS, and mark the effect: see the scabs fall from his body; see the new, fair skin that has grown under them; see the late leper that is clean. Give them to him whose angry humors have planted rheumatism in his joints and bones; who groans and screams with pain; who has been soothed through every nerve of his body with liniments and salves; give him these PILLS to purify his blood; they may not cure him, for, alas! there are cases which no mortal power can reach; but mark, he walks with crutches now, and now he walks alone; they have cured him. Give them to the lean, sour, haggard dyspeptic, whose gnawing stomach has long eaten every smile from his face and every muscle from his body. See his appetite return, and with it his health; see the new man. See her that was radiant with health and loveliness blasted and too early withering away; want of exercise or mental anguish, or some lurking disease, has deranged the internal organs of digestion, assimilation or secretion, till they do their office ill. Her blood is vitiated, her health is gone. Give her these PILLS to stimulate the vital principle into renewed vigor, to cast out the obstructions, and infuse a new vitality into the blood. Now look again—the roses blossom on her cheek, and where a lately sorrow sat joy bursts from every feature. See the sickly infant, who has long been its own woe, and every muscle from his body. See his appetite return, and with it his health; see the new man.
