NEW SEATING IS ARRANGED

Members of Legislature Have Been Shuffled—A. G. MacKay Goes Down One and Hoyle is Speaker.

Hon. A. G. MacKay is to be the power—not behind—but beside the opposition throne at the coming session of the legislature.

In the newly revised plan of the members' seats in the house, N. W. Rowell, K.C., as leader of the Liberal party will occupy the place of honor directly opposite Sir James Whitney. Next to Mr. Rowell will be Mr. MacKay, taking the place of D. J. McLaughlin, Ottawa East. The redoubtable Sam Clarke of West Northumberland, will sit at the left of the ex-Liberal leader.

Practically all doubt as to the speaker's position has been removed by the fact that Hon. Thomas Crawford, the late speaker, has been given the seat occupied hitherto by W. H. Hoyle. No provision has been made for Mr. Hoyle with the exception of "Mr. Speaker," who undoubtedly will be the member for North Ontario.

Allan Stuchin, the lone labor member, and the popular representative of East Hamilton, has been shunted down a seat to make room for J. E. Elliott, the Liberal member for West Middlesex.

E. W. J. Owens, South Toronto, has got a pseudo-prominent seat in the back row with J. T. Regan of South Wentworth on one side and Don Hoyle of Port Arthur on the other.

Hon. Frank Cochrane's seat will be occupied by the happy-hearted minister of agriculture, Hon. James Duff.

The other cabinet shuffle is with regard to Hon. W. H. Hearst of Saint Marie, who takes the seat occupied last session by Hon. I. B. Lucas of Centre Grey. Mr. Lucas gets the chair vacated by Hon. James Duff.

Alex. McCowan of East York takes

John Shaw's chair in the back row, while J. Gains moves over to Mr. McCowan's seat.

Nobody appears to have got a bigger boost than George H. Gooderham who leaves the back row to take the place of J. H. Fisher, North Brant, in the front row.

John I. Hartt of East Simcoe will take the place of Albert Grigg of Algoma, who goes into the second row to replace W. S. Brewster of South Brant.

Dr. Forbes Godfrey of West York moves a seat further up and takes the place of S. J. Fox, the late member for West Victoria.

The majority of the new members will take the place of the old members in the third row, letting the precedence in position go to older and more experienced members of the house.

Cost of the Siberian Railway.

The Russian railways examination committee has received a report on the investigations carried out on the Siberian Railway. It reports that the total cost of equipping the railway after finishing its partial reconstruction will be about $110,000 per mile. Taking into account the facilities for receiving and discharging traffic and the difficulties in working, the estimate is considered moderate. The operation of the Siberian Railway is carried out very satisfactorily on the whole, and improvements are to be wished for only in respect to the organization of the work in constructing the second line, the quality of the rails, the control of supplies of material, and the calculations as to working capital, the organization of the commercial sections and the infirmity department.—The Railway Age-Gazette.

China's Prohibition Prohibits.

It is said "prohibition does not prohibit." It may be so in the United States, but not in China. In the three years since the issuance of the anti-opium edict the Chinese production of opium has been reduced nearly 70 per cent. and Sir Alexander Hesse, secretary of the Chinese government, declares that the poppy will disappear from China within two years. That will stop the importations from India, as by virtue of treaty agreement this must decrease in precise proportion as the native output is reduced. And thus we shall see, in five years, the extinction of business to whose accomplishment paying habit millions of Chinese were oppressed and actually enslaved. History furnishes no parallel for this amazingly rapid reform, a reform all the more wonderful since the opium crop of China was worth $100,000,000 a year.—Herald.

James Henderson Had More Than $700,000, Most of Which Goes to His Relatives.

The will of the late James Henderson, which was presented for probate yesterday morning, bequeaths the free of succession duties, legacies amounting to $46,100, besides annuities to members of his family and others, about $200,000 of the estate. The income of the estate after paying over all charges and annuities as to be paid over to Trinity College and accepted by the Bishop Strachan School, $100,000; to the St. John's Church, $10,000; to the St. Simon's Church, $2,000; to the Misses Saunders, $2,000; to the Misses Thompson, $2,000; and to William Morton, $100.

The will provides for life annuities amounting to $8,000 a year to the widow and to two sisters-in-law, Mrs. Elmes Henderson, Toronto, and Mrs. William P. Henderson, of England, and an annuity of $500 to the Misses Thompson, friends of his wife.

The residence No. 54 Madison-avenue, is left for the occupation, free of rent, of his brother Elmes and Mrs. Elmes Henderson, and to the latter is bequeathed all the furniture and contents of the house.

The executors are directed to pay over to Trinity College the same due to it as above once a year, after the expiration of two months from the making up and adjusting of the accounts of the estate for the year. The will further provides that Trinity College shall be the residuary legatee.

FROST FAIRS ON AHE THAMES RIVER.

London winters are more remarkable for dismal drizzling rain and impenetrable fog than for snow and ice; but, states a writer in The Scientific American, about half a dozen times in the last three hundred years truly Arctic conditions have prevailed in the metropolis, and the River Thames has been frozen over so firmly that men and horses could go upon it.

Each of these periods has been the occasion of a "frost fair"; booths have been erected on the ice; printing presses set up, various sports and games indulged in, and the whole population has joined in celebrating the rare event.

The first great frost fair was held on January, 1683, but the most famous of all was that of 1863, which lasted from the beginning of December to Feb. 5. Evelyn gives the following description of this fair in his "Diary": "The frost continuing more and more severe, the Thames before London was still planted with booths in formal streets, all sorts of trades and shops furnished a full of commodities, even to a printing press, where the people and ladies took a fancy to have their names printed, and the day and years set down when printed on the Thames; this humour took so universally, that 'twas estimated the printer got £5 a day, for printing a line only, at sixpence a name, besides what he got by ballads, etc. Coaches piled from Westminster to the Temple, and from several other streets to and fro, as in the streets, sleds sliding on skates, a bull-baiting, horse and coach races, puppet-plays, and interludes, cooking, tipping, so that it seemed to be a bacchanalian triumph, or carnival on the water."

King Charles II. and his family visited the fair, and had their names printed on a quarto sheet of Dutch paper, which is still extant. During the frost fair of January, 1719, it is recorded that an uncommonly high wind, which overpowered the ice on the banks of the river, raised the ice fully fourteen feet, without interrupting the people in their pursuits. Similar fairs were held in 1740, 1782-3 and 1884. The last was one of the gayest and most animated of these events, the lasted only four days.

INSTITUTIONS VERSUS HOMES

Conflicting Policies Are Being Advocated by Government and Industrial Schools Board.

Hon. W. J. Hanna and Supt. J. J. Kelso on the one side and the Industrial School Board on the other are advocating conflicting policies for the so-called incorrigible boys and girls of the province. Chairman Tower Ferguson and Aid. Wanless made this clear at the meeting of the board yesterday. Supt. Ferrier of the Mimico Industrial school reported the capacity of the school taxed with 315 inmates. He believed the capacity should be increased, as a waiting list for such an institution was not practicable. The boys who went there were generally speaking unfit to be placed in private homes, on probation, where there were other children.

Miss Brookings of the Alexandra Industrial School for Girls said a crisis confronted that institution. It had a capacity for 50, and 110 were there now. An additional building was an urgent necessity. Supt. Ferrier said two-thirds of the girls at the Alexandra School were from Toronto. The girls were not proper subjects for even temporary adoption in ordinary families until after a course of moral training.

that they appeal to the provincial secretary for a grant for an additional cottage at the Alexandra School.

HUBBARD'S "LITTLE JOURNEY"

How to Get "Ads" From Those Who Advertise Themselves.

When Elbert Hubbard was in Toronto a few weeks ago addressing the Canadian Club one of our brightest advertising men conceived the idea of inviting the famous "Rovercroft" to pay the establishment a visit and inspect its plant. Mr. Hubbard complied with the request, and on his return home sent a most flattering letter, eulogizing the firm he had visited and complimenting them upon their splendid establishment.

The incident has not escaped the notice of some of the American magazines devoted to fashions. One of these, "Men's Wear," published in Chicago, and the largest and most influential of its class, comments editorially on the current issue. It says: "The House of Hubbard, Toronto, Canada, has the true advertising instinct. It knows how to get 'ads' from those who know how to advertise themselves. You will recall that we mentioned in these columns how Hubbard made two suits of clothes for a Canadian member of parliament, who exhibited them as examples of tariff reform during the British elections. And how 'Fra Elbertus' to Toronto, and the House of Hubbard pulled off the very commendable advertising stunt of inviting him to visit their plant. It doesn't matter whether Elbert Hubbard's clothes are made of emulation or not. The fact remains that he's an international character and a clever man, and it certainly bespeaks the enterprise of advertising stunt of inviting him to visit their plant. Our congratulations to the House of Hubbard and its unusually clever advertising man. He is a genius."

Tremendous Possibilities

Rev. C. J. Cameron, who has been visiting the Porcupine in the interests of Baptist home missions, says "of its present wealth and brilliant prospects, the half has not been told. Tho at this date sufficient data is not obtainable to estimate the potential value of the mines, yet there is no question as to their tremendous possibilities."

SERVISEL LUNCH WILL BE FINE

New Company Intends to Start One on King Street, Near Yonge, With Several Branches.

Toronto is shortly to have something unique in the way of a restaurant. Fleming & Marvin, well-known stock brokers in this city, have engineered the scheme, and the new concern is called "Cafeteria Limited," with a capitalization of $40,000. The promoters, whose names are not yet made public, are all Toronto men.

The idea is to institute in the first instance in Toronto what is known on the other side as "servise" restaurants. Ultimately the promoters' intention is to establish branches throughout the principal Ontario cities with probably three or four in Toronto. A manager will be secured from the other side, where the idea has met with great success.

The site selected is the entire basement in the Dominion Stock Exchange Building, on King-street, between Victoria and Yonge. A seven years' lease has been secured on very favorable terms. About $200 is to be expended in fitting up the place, and the aim of the promoters is to excel in beauty and comfort anything at present in the city. The front entrance is to receive a good deal of attention, the floors will be tiled, the walls are to be fitted up with beveled mirrors and tiled. The lighting system is to be made as nearly perfect as possible, and will have seating capacity for 400. The tables will be square, four persons at each table. The unique feature of a "servise" restaurant is that instead of a bill of fare the customer has a chance to select his meal by actually seeing the dishes.
