URQUHART WELL RECEIVED

West Toronto Liberals Turn Out to Hear Him at Masonic Hall, Parkdale.

NO NEW GROUND WAS BROKEN

Advantages of Having a Liberal Representative Urged By the Speakers.

Ald. Urquhart addressed a meeting of electors in Parkdale last night that about half-filled Masonic Hall. It was not remarkable for demonstrativeness, but was altogether friendly, and gave the candidates a kindly hearing and three rousing cheers when the meeting closed. Dr. Lynd presided.

Ex-Ald. Asher was the first speaker, and said that Toronto should look after her own interests by sending government supporters. Mr. Crawford had his admiration, but had the one fault of sticking too closely to party.

Cor. Yonge-Temperate Sts.

This city, the finest on earth, was not progressing as it should, because of bad representation. We should be reaping the advantages of Niagara Falls power, and have manufacturers flocking here "like bees around a honey barrel." Ald. Urquhart's election would be a great help.

S. J. Moore, from personal contact with the leaders of some of the American State legislatures and with representatives sent to Washington, had no hesitation in saying that, for character, ability, integrity and grasp of the situation, there were few, if any, on the other side to compare with the representation of Ontario, as a whole. He was highly eulogistic in support of the Ross government and Mr. Urquhart, and bespoke victory on May 20.

Mr. Urquhart broke no new ground, but was given close attention and intermittent applause. He reiterated his disapproval of Mr. Crawford's action in the Dakota ranch matter, and expressed himself as more than ever confident of election.

C. R. W. Biggar, K. C., and Dr. A. T. Hunter also spoke. In closing, Dr. Lynd urged on the individual electors the necessity of active work on behalf of their candidate.

WITHIN TWO YARDS OF DEATH.

St. Thomas Man Who Passed Thru Hart River Fight.

St. Thomas, May 8.—Following is an extract from a letter received by Lieut. Col. Stacey from his son, Earl, now serving in South Africa, and who was thru a severe fighting at Hart's River: "You will hear before you get this of our engagement with the Boers. I was one of the 4th troop of D Squadron, who were acting rear guard and had the very severe casualties. I acted honorably, and am sure you will not be ashamed of me when I get time to explain all."

The Lord took care of me, as all the men killed and wounded were killed or wounded inside of fifty yards of me, and those killed were with ten yards of me.

I had to surrender at last; only two of us were not wounded, McBeth and myself. I fired my ammunition.

"The Boers stripped me of everything, and took all my papers, recommendations, money and all. Will leave my money with the officers after this, as it is impossible to keep it."

"All of our horses were killed by the Boers, who stripped the clothing off our dead comrades."

Q.O.R. BAND WILL SURELY GO

Wait for Details Gives Color to Belief That There May Be a Hitch.

BUT THE DEPARTMENT IS BUSY

Argument That There is "Too Much Queen's Own" Offset By Other Considerations.

Lieut.-Col. Pellatt will probably go to Ottawa to-night to confer with the Minister of Militia in regard to detail of the arrangements for the Queen's Own Band to go to England. As matters stand at present the musicians expect to leave Toronto on June 4, and thus arrive at Quebec in time to sail with the coronation contingent on the S.S. Parisian, June 7.

It was rumored yesterday that there might be some trouble yet in regard to the proposed visit, but this seems to be without foundation. Of course a few yards of tape will have to be measured out, but the trip can confidently be looked upon as an assured fact. One point urged against the proposed visit was that there would be "too much Queen's Own" about the contingent, and will not be by any means the least interesting feature of the coronation parade.

Lieut.-Col. Pellatt said to The World last night that the Militia Department had been too busy getting the South African contingent away to devote any time to the coronation contingent, but he expected to be called in consultation regarding the details within a very few days.
