The most sig- avenue as there are south. nificant thing on this continent to-day has forced those in office to prosecute the great wrongdoers against the people. The attorney-general of the United States, and a staff of lawyers and experts, are all busy in these cases. Do you see anything like this in Canada?

Political picnics could be made ever so much nicer for everybody there if the speakers had a 10-minute limit.

PUBLIC POWER AND ITS OP-PONENTS.

The electric corporations are display. ing their chagrin at the success of the hydro-electric power scheme in various justly so. little disagreeable ways. The opposi-tion at Windsor to the carrying of the power bylaw, whereby 15,000 h.p. was idded to the consumption of the scheme, reducing the price for Windsor from $49 for 5000 to $27.21 on the new basis of consumption, and reducing the cost proportionately for all the other cost proportionately for all the other municipalities, except Hamilton, was engineered by opponents of the commission, working partly thru agents the benefit of their present healthful situation. To these it might be point-ed out that North Toronto will still

But apart from this it ought not to be beyond the sources of the educationists of Ontario to readjust the examination period without throwing all the machinery of education out of gear.

ANNEXATION MUST EMBRACE THE WHOLE TOWN.

In connection with the annexation movement in North Toronto, some are suggesting that the northern boundary

Whatever meaning may be attributed to the words, "practising medi-cine," they cannot be so enlarged by ju-dicial interpretation as to prohibit an oculist from examining the eyes of his customer, and "prescribing" suitable glasses. The consolidation means the bringing together of two of the largest businesses in their own par-ticular line in Canada and seeing that thousands of Canadians make a daily practice in doing business in the stores of both companies, it seems only natural that it should be advantageous both to the business of the new company and to the customers in general that there should be some kind of partnership established as between the stores and the buying pub-lic.
