A Grand Formal Showing of Fashionable Furs For Women, Misses and Children

With An Extensive and Authentic Display of The Season's Smartest Styles in Wraps, Neckpieces and Muffs, Featuring in Particular

The Vogue of The Wide Rippling Coat, of The Collarette, The Pelerine, and The Small Ball Muff

The Ultra-Modish Coat of Hudson Seal (Seal Rat)

IT IS all-supreme among fur wraps, this coat of seal rat, popularly known as Hudson seal, and it will figure in the showing in all the smartness and elegance of its latest appearance—immense of collar, and voluminous with ripples around its lower edge. Among the array of models will be found loose, semi-fitting and belted effects, the crepe de Chine and pussy willow linings vying with one another in their charm of pattern and gaiety of coloring. In length they range from 36 to 48 inches, the width of skirt varying from 90 to 128 inches. The majority of the coats exploit contrasting fur in their collars and cuffs, many of them being bordered by the same. For this purpose, skunk, natural lynx, fish, opossum and beaver are the favorite peltries.

Prices for such coats run from $125.00 to $600.00, with a magnificent production in Alaska seal at $1,150.00. Misses' models—36 to 40 in length—from $130.00 to $155.00.

Coats of Muskrat and Mink Marmot

For motoring are long, semi-fitting and loose-backed coats of Canadian and Black muskrat—priced $72.00 to $125.00, and of Southern muskrat at $62.50. Mink marmot coats—for motoring and general wear, are featured at $52.50 and $82.50.

Muff and Neckpieces, Simple and Fancy In Mink, Ermine, Fox, Sable and Seal

CRAVATS, collarettes, pelerines, and long shawl stoles—this is La Mode's command in such flat-furred peltries as mole-skin, beaver, ermine, Hudson seal and mink, also in skunk, some of the pelerines reaching almost to the waist, and most of them boasting a high, flaring collar at the neck. Even the little shoulder capes show this high collar. In all furs, smooth or long, ball and melon shaped muffs are the prevailing mode. In fox, black, taupe, and red, and in natural and black lynx, the animal scarf and straight stole are the favorite designs. All of which will be displayed in a superb selection of styles, prices ranging as follows:

Moleskin—neckpieces, $8.50 to $75.00; muffs, $15.00 to $45.00; sets of neckpiece and muff, $185.00 to $250.00. Hudson seal (seal rat)—neckpieces $10.00 to $40.00; muffs, $15.00 to $28.00; sets, seal rat combined with skunk, ermine, etc., $100.00 up. Ermine—neckpieces, $16.50 to $95.00; muffs, $42.00 to $85.00. Mink—neckpieces, $13.50 to $160.00; muffs $25.00 to $100.00. Beaver—neckpieces, $10.00 to $47.50; muffs, $25.00 and $28.50. Skunk—$18.50 to $95.00; muffs, $37.50 and $55.00. Black Fox—neckpieces, $16.50 to $75.00; muffs, $25.00 to $55.00. Taupe Fox—neckpieces, $37.50 to $55.00; muffs, $45.00 to $55.00. Red Fox—neckpieces, $15.00 to $50.00; muffs, $20.00 to $53.50. Natural and black lynx—sets of neckpieces and muffs, $60.00 to $120.00.

Smart Muffs and Neckpieces For Little and Big Girls

CHILDREN'S FURS have a section all to themselves and provide collars and muffs for little Miss Juvenile of any age—from the wee tottler of two, enjoying her first winter walk, to the vigorous school girl of sixteen. Tiny cravats and warm cape-collars will be found in the splendid array of sets, with muffs of the roly-poly variety. Prices for sets of neckpiece and muff range as follows:

Sets of gray opossum—$17.00. Sets of gray squirrel—$12.50. Sets of Chinese coon—$8.75. Sets of natural fox—$15.00. Sets of chinchilla squirrel—$17.50. Sets of South American wild cat—$12.50. Sets of white thibet, imitation white fox, and Australian rabbit—$1.95 to $10.00.

Gowns From Great Paris Designers at Incredibly Low Prices

A Big Special Selling of Early Autumn Models by Bulloz, Martial et Amand, Jenny, Germaine, Paquin, Jean Lanvin, Doeuillet,orgette, Bernard, Weeks, Agnes et Havel, Arnold, Lucienne, Drecoll and Rondeau Legrand—Modish, Distinctive Gowns for Morning, Afternoon and Evening Wear

ON SALE WEDNESDAY MORNING AT 10.30 O'CLOCK—AT $38.75, $59.50 AND $65.00.

THE VERY SOUL AND SUBSTANCE of Paris Fashiondom is brought to your door in this remarkable collection of models from the world's greatest masters in gown making. The names of these great costumiers have been enumerated in the headline above, and many of them are represented by three or four dresses each—dresses that are modish, original and clever as inspired fingers can design and fashion them.

For evening wear are superb creations in cloth of gold, cloth of silver, metallic lace, satin, velvet, lustrous silks and filmy net—Louis XV. and Louis XVI. effects, bouffant with paniers, and flounces, and slim, long-waisted creations suggestive of the Moyen Age.

For afternoon wear are charming models in charmeuse, crepe de Chine, taffeta and satin, many of them showing sleeves and under-blouse effects of Georgette crepe or lace and all of them wonderfully smart in their presentation of the long, straight lines of latest vogue.

And for morning and general wear are any number of tremendously attractive dresses of the more simple, tailored sort in blue serge and blue gabardine, with one picturesque model in gray bolivia cloth.

These dresses will be divided into three groups and placed on sale on Wednesday morning at 10.30 o'clock the groups being priced respectively at $38.75, $59.50 and $65.00, every gown marked at only a fraction of its usual price.

If You Want Advice on the Subject of Fashions, House Furnishings, or Like Matters of Interest to Women, Write to the "Scribe." The Reply to Your Query Will Appear in the Column Below.

"S."—You give no hint as to your medical man's taste in books, but taking for granted that a diverting novel would be welcome, one would suggest something new and something Canadian, such for instance as, "Billy Topsail, M.D.," Norman Duncan's most recent story of the Labrador fishing folk, or "Big Timber," an interesting love story, the scene of which is a lumber camp in British Columbia. The price of each is $1.10.

When it comes to a choice between hemstitching and the conventional French hem on table linen, there is only one practical question to raise and that is that the ordinary over-sewn hems are likely to wear better.

"Scamp."—Yes, even white bone egg-spoons—nice old-fashioned things, aren't they?—are obtainable in "the great emporium." The price is 10 cents each.

"Happy Hannah."—Whether your collar should be Paisley or white broadcloth is a matter of personal inclination. Hannah, their claims being equal as far as vogue is concerned, and both adapting themselves particularly well to the fashionable blue serge frock. As for prices, white broadcloth collars and cuffs—in immense favor in New York at the present moment—are featured at $1.50 to $5.00 the set, the quality of the cloth, and, in some instances, the size of the collar increasing in like ratio to the price. Similar sets in fine Paisley cloth are $1.50 and $2.00. And by the way, there is a charming Paisley chiffon to be had in a choice of three combinations of colors, namely, navy blue ground with large design in bright tints of yellow, red and green; rather bright blue patterned in brown; and green patterned in red with touches of yellow. It is 40 inches wide and 35.00 a yard. This is in the Silk Department.

As for the tin dancing nigger, he can be had at 35 cents—4p in the Toy Department.
