When the boat had reached the middle of the stream, the Greeks collected at one end of the thirty-four foot boat, which lost its balance, whereupon the Greeks rushed to the other end. One man was washed overboard and the others became panic-stricken. They ran to the side of the boat, some of them jumping on the railings. The boat was overturned and everyone slid off into the water. The ferryman clung to the boat and swam ashore, but 15 of the Greeks

NEW FERRY SERVICE.

The street department has petitioned the ferry committee to place Wun Lung in commission on Mill street between the Grand Union Hotel and Paradise Row corner.

At first it was suggested that foot passengers might be supplied with long rubber boots at the city's expense, and requested to wade between these points, but it is believed that there will be, in a day or two, quite enough water on the street and sidewalks to float Wun Lung and render a ferry service desirable.
