SOLDIERS TO VOTE

Key Those in Province Will be Given Leave and Transportation Home

The statement that arrangements have been made for taking the soldiers' vote for the New Brunswick election was made in a despatch from Ottawa to The Telegraph this morning.

When asked the nature of the arrangements, Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, the attorney-general, said this morning that efforts were being made to permit the return of the soldiers still in the province to their place of residence in order that they might vote. This would involve granting leave to the men and arranging their transportation each way. He had not yet been advised that the arrangements had been complete at Ottawa.

If this plan is carried out it is expected that practically every soldier in the province who is entitled to vote will be granted sufficient leave to permit him to return to his home for election day and will be given his transportation each way.

There has been no suggestion that the votes of the New Brunswick soldiers who are overseas should be taken, as was done in the British Columbia provincial general elections, presumably because of the fact that the New Brunswick elections were brought on so hurriedly that there was no time to make the elaborate arrangements which would be required in order to give each man an opportunity to cast his ballot.

"AS BAD AS NEW BRUNSWICK"
Chatham, N.B., Commercial—New Brunswick politics have degenerated to such a level that independent papers, outside of the province, describing conditions elsewhere have no comparison that goes lower than "as bad as New Brunswick." What do the people think?

SILVER WEDDING
Last evening being the twenty-fifth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Pratt of Main street, a few of their many friends decided to call and wish them many happy returns so at half past eight they trooped in to the bride and groom. The evening was spent in games and at eleven o'clock supper was enjoyed and brought to an end a very pleasant evening. Of the eighteen guests present at the wedding twenty-five years ago, five were present last night, one is at the front in France and twelve have died.

GAME IS OFF
Hockey fans throughout the city as well as the members of the St. John team are deeply disappointed at being unable to see the crack 228th team in action. The St. John team had declined assistance and were anxious to play the N. H. A. stars with their regular line-up. They were confident that they could make it interesting for the visitors owing to the difference in the styles of play here and in Upper Canada. Had the plans of the management materialized the fans would have been treated to a fast game between two teams formed from the 228th battalion in addition to the game between the locals and the regular N. H. A. team.

LENNAN-DUNNETT
Arnold L. Lennan, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lennan of Carter's Point and Miss Elizabeth F. Dunnett of Wick Scotland, were united in marriage at eight o'clock Tuesday evening at 41 Cedar street by Rev. B. H. Nobles in the presence of a gathering of friends. The bride, who was unattended, wore a costume of plum colored silk velvet with hat to match. After the ceremony the party adjourned to the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Percy Davis of 66 Durham street, where a dainty repast was served. The popularity of the bride and bridegroom was marked by the number of beautiful and useful gifts received. Mr. and Mrs. Lennan will make their home for the present at 66 Durham street.

WILLIAM H. BLACK
The death of William H. Black, aged seventy-seven years, occurred on Monday evening at his home in Fairville, as a result of heart trouble from which he had suffered. Mr. Black was a native of Queens county, but had resided in St. John since his early manhood and had been in the employ of the St. John Railway Company for many years. About a year ago he retired from work and removed to his home in Fairville. He was survived by his wife and three daughters, Mrs. E. Schofield of Fairville; Mrs. D. H. Daggett of Grand Manan, and Miss Lizzie Black of Plymouth, Mass. The funeral will be held on Sunday afternoon at two o'clock from his late residence, Harding street, Fairville.

SOON BACK TO DORCHESTER
Frank Doiron, who was convicted of breaking and entering the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception on the night of December 27, and who afterwards was found to be on parole, having five years and five months in Dorchester hanging over him for breaking and entering a store in Bathurst in 1903, is still occupying a cell in the county jail. Following his arrest he admitted he was out on parole and was sentenced by Magistrate Rignlie to serve out the rest of his term, sentence for breaking and entering the Cathedral being allowed to stand. It is understood that the papers have arrived from Ottawa with all the necessary arrangements attached. The local jail authorities are now only awaiting the arrival of an official from Dorchester to take the man back to finish out his former term of imprisonment.

"WE'RE ALL GOING TO HELP," SAID CONSERVATIVE, AND EVERY MAN IN HALL STAYED

E. S. Carter at a meeting in Kingston parish last evening received an expression of confidence that was more than gratifying. At the close of a largely attended meeting in which there were many Conservatives, Mr. Carter asked that those who were willing to help in organizing to get out the vote on election day remain a few minutes to talk it over. He expected, of course, that many would go out, but they all sat still.

Mr. Carter looked around, wondering if they had understood what he said, and after a pause a Conservative elector called out:

"Well, go on, Ned—we're all going to help."

Mr. Carter also pays this testimony to the spirit and feeling of the people among whom he has been campaigning for some days past in his native county: "Not a single worker" he said, "has hinted or suggested to me that either money or liquor to influence votes should be provided. They want a clean fight."

SUSSEX GETS FORESTRY COMPANY

The newly authorized forestry company, under the command of S. H. Jones, of Apohaqui, is to be quartered in Sussex. There has been much talk over the quartering of this unit and military men were of the opinion that it would be quartered in Chatham, but it is understood that the quarters in that town proved too small. Recruiting for the company will start immediately. The company is authorized to draw recruits from any place in the province.

Manor House Meeting Tonight

An attractive programme has been arranged for tonight's social gathering at the Manor House, Glen Falls, in the interest of the opposition candidates—W. E. Foster, A. F. Bentley, and J. P. Mosher will speak. Electors of Simonds generally are invited. Meeting at Lorneville Saturday night will also be addressed by candidates.

UNITS TO BE AMALGAMATED

They Will Become the 178th Battalion

THREE TO JOIN TOGETHER

The 178th, 150th and 233rd—St. John or Sussex to be Headquarters—Lieut.-Col. Girouard to Command

That the 178th French-Canadian Battalion, which recently arrived in Sussex from Montreal, under the command of Lieut.-Colonel R. Girouard, the reinforcing draft for the 150th battalion and the 233rd battalion, now quartered on Partridge Island, are to be amalgamated into one unit and to be known as the 178th battalion, was the information that was received in the city this morning.

Just where the unit will be quartered, whether in St. John or Sussex, has not been decided upon by the military officials, but it is altogether likely that it will be in St. John, as there are more extensive quarters here. The commanding officer of the 178th, Lieut.-Colonel Girouard, who is to command the unit when amalgamated, and who was in the city this morning, expressed himself this morning to the effect that he would rather remain in Sussex for various reasons.

Men will arrive weekly from recruiting stations in upper Canada for the unit, and it is expected that within a short time it will be recruited to full strength. The 178th battalion at the present time is but 300 strong, but the other units will bring the strength up to about 800.

Several of the officers of the 178th are returned men, and the colonel himself has seen service in this present war. He was a member of the 22nd battalion, which was in the same brigade and fought terms by side with the 28th. He said that the officers and men of the two mentioned battalions were greater in number than those of any other two corps at the front. They always went into the trenches together and fought side by side. He was personally acquainted with Major Charles Fairweather of Sussex, and spoke in flattering terms of his ability as a soldier, and that of other members of the 28th.

The battalion when recruited will cross to England as a unit.

CASE OF THE CHINESE

Almost the entire session of the police court this morning was taken up with the case of the twenty-five Chinese charged with being inmates of a gambling house in Mill street and against Lin King, the alleged proprietor. Daniel Mullin, K. C., who representing the Chinese, cross-examined Tom Chum, the star witness for the prosecution, for almost two hours. At one time through the cross-examination the magistrate was explaining that he has asked all the Chinese if they wished to put up a deposit of $50 for their appearance. If they did this and did not appear there would be no more about it, whereas if the case was defended, as it was now, and they were found guilty, they would be fined $100. Mr. Mullin remarked: "Then they are being punished for defending themselves." The magistrate replied that that was the plain English of it.

Mr. Mullin said that he never heard of such a thing in a British court of justice that a man was threatened in view of these intimations said Mr. Mullin, that there is a court of appeal, fortunately.

The witness, Tom Chum, took the stand and said that he lost $60 at one time in the house, the boss of which was Lin King, the defendant. On another occasion he had lost $40, his entire sum, and when this was gone he was told to get out of the house. He said he was going along Mill street to take a car for Fairville when he was invited into the house by King. The witness demonstrated to the court by means of the table, conducted in the raid by the police, how the game was played and also how the proprietor got ten cents on every dollar and also how he had lost $100. Mr. Mullin cross-examined him and went into the whole case very thoroughly. The case was adjourned until next Tuesday at eleven o'clock.

One Chinese who failed to appear on Wednesday when the case first came up, following the explanation that he was liable to a fine of $100 if found guilty, decided he would let the court have the $50 today and went back to his work. Tom Chum said that he had never gambled before and that King told him he could make $800 with every $100 he had. This alluring proposition, he said, was the cause of Tom's fall from grace. There are still five who have failed to put up deposits.

SACKVILLE THE HEADQUARTERS

That the quarters of the No. 1 Divisional Ammunition Column depot, recently authorized for the maritime provinces, have been changed from Moncton to Sackville, was information received at the office of the New Brunswick command this morning. The depot is under the command of Lieutenant Gunn, formerly of the 9th Siege Battery.

Recruiting for the depot throughout the provinces has been going brisk during the last few weeks, and it is thought that within a short time a draft will be sent to their assembly centre in Montreal.
