There is one school of thought which advocates harbor commission, and anadvocates harbor commission, and another which would prefer to depend upon federal good faith in carrying out the tri-partite agreement, in extending the breakwater to Partridge Island, and in developing adequate terminals for the C. N. R. in the Courtenay Bay area. This is one of the most important problems confronting the new Council.

How many of the candidates have definite and practical ideas as to new industries and, generally, new ways by which the industrial and commercial progress of the city can be stimulated? The candidates have a week in which to take the electors fully into their confidence, and that time should be ample. Rome was not built in a day, but the world was made in six days. Ferry deficits have cost the citizens some $700,000 in the last twelve or thirteen years. The outlook is that these losses will continue, apparently at the rate of about $80,000 a year. In view of this condition—there is a revival of talk about a harbor bridge. Do the candidates think the plan practicable in the near future?
