High Wall Against Canada.

ALL KINDS OF MATTRESSES AND Cushions made and repaired; Wire Mattresses re-stretched. Feather beds made into mattresses. Upholstering neatly done, twenty-five years' experience.— Washington, June 2—Progress of the discussion of the tariff bill is serving to bring out more and more clearly the fact that there is strong senate opposition to building up an unduly high tariff wall between the United States and Canada. This senate opposition unquestionably reflects a powerful public sentiment of the same nature.

Those who object to building high the tariff wall between this country and the dominion are democrats and some of the more moderate republican protestionists.

build a tariff wall merely for the purpose of realistion. That has cropped out in the consideration of this bill a number of times. Even on limestone a high tariff is asked simply because on the western cesart there is one concern which may export some limestone to the United States, and the season given for the request for the duty was simply as a matter of retaliation, because Canada has a teriff upon the importation of limestone there; and so with other commodities.

but has it?

One of the most successful selling efforts recently made by the Palais Royal in Washington D. C., dealt only casually and in small part with apparel. It was an advertisement which dealt instead with a special sale of art needlework in which the only articles of apparel specifically mentioned were children's dresses and rompers. It featured knitting yarns, stamped bedspreads, pillow cases, towels, scarfs and other merchandise of this general character.

And the public response to the advertisement was such that the store had to throw more than thirty extra saleswomen into the department to handle the crowd on the day of the sale.

The sale was held in proximity to the notion section, which also profited heavily, and not only was the special sale a success, but the stimulating effect was noticeable in the sales figures for the day in virtually every other department of the store.

Display Boards Add Many Small Sales.

E. M. Wright, proprietor of the Tulare Paint and Wall Paper Store, Tulare, Cal, is in business to sell decorating materials to people of that city. Incidentally, he sells accessories also; little extras are usually carried in drawers or elsewhere out of sight. But Wright manages to sell wall-paper or paint customers such tools as they will need to make a better in the sales figure to make a better in the sale with the transplant of the coronal size of the inspectors who discover the most blunders.

Needlework Appeal Draws Big Crowds.

What kind of sales appeal has the strongest attraction for women? The average person to whom this question in put will answer "wearing apparel, particularly new styles."

But has it?

One of the most successful selling and transportation charges he does business on seventeen per cent. The store has seeds of all kinds are shown in brightly colored packets. It suggests to the man with garden space that he might raise a few flowers or vegetables in his own garden.
