Gentlemen: The No. 4. B. Drum I bought from you last fall has been in constant use ever since I got it, with results surpassing my expectations. I considered the matter fully before investing, keeping an account of the fuel required the previous winter without a drum, also the past winter with the drum, and I am safe in stating that I have saved the price of the drum in one season. I have my cook stove and coal stove both connected with the drum and thereby get the full benefit of all fuel used. I find that the drum is greatly beneficial in saving coal, but it especially gives good results with the wood stove. I heat three coal required to heat the same rooms to the same degree without the drum. I would not do without a
