ROMAN CATHOLIC.

NEW ENGLAND'S GRAND OLD PRELATE IS how the Monitor of this city speaks of Archdeacon Williams, Ha is 84 years of age, hale and strong, and takes a deep interest in all that is going on. Speaking at the consecration of the new Bischop of Portland, Maine, he made the statement that at his birth there was only one priest in all New England, and none in Maine, while at the present there are in the New England States 1,828 priests.

THE CONVERTED CATHOLIC, edited by Rev. James O'Connor, a converted priest, who for twenty years has carried on a mission in New York, Cays that in the last twelve years fifty Italian priests have 'n the New York mission renounced the Church of Rome. Since the beginning of this year twelve priests have declared their purpose to leave the Roman Catholic

NEW ENGLAND, a Boston paper says, that in fifty years the French Canadians and the Irish will control every town in New England States, and that the Jews will be masters of the finances of New England. There are scores of towns now, old Puritan towns within fifty miles of Boston, which are governed by the French Canadian population.

THE CHURCH ASSOCIATION COUNCIL has resolved that the evidence given before the Discipline Commission, reveals a deep-rooted conspir acy to Romanise the church, and that the Bishops have encouraged the introduction of practices condemned by the King's Courts; that it is hopeless to look to the Bishops to repress disor-ders in the church—the Archbishop of Canterbury and the Bishop of Oxford having actually promoted law-break-ing clergymen during the time that on was sitting; that the proposed apeal to Convocation to church is useless; that before any al-teration of the rubrics is allowed the existing law should be everywhere re-sognized and obeyed; that the House of Montreal last Sabbath. University, Kingston. MORE MEN FOR THE WEST IS still the cry, and the drain upon the East is becoming a serious question. From The Presbyterian we learn that, "nearly one-half the congregations in the large Presbytery of P. E. Island are without pastors, while in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick for many congregations no adequate supply can be found. It is from these that many of our young ministers have come, and it would be a suicidal policy to neglect these weaker charges, as it is mo than probable that for many years to come we will have to look to the East for our ministers. Let us stand by the congregations which have given us ny of our best men and which may yet give us many more."

IN HUNGARY BAPTISTS are in creasing. In 1893 there were 2,500 of them in the community; now there are 12,000. They have forty churches, with four hundred preaching stations. They publish several periodicals.

LOS ANGELES, CAL., has a negro poulation of ten thousand. There are several Baptist churches of colored people, the largest having 800 members.

A BAPTIST CONFERENCE which met recently at Freeport, Ill., is com-posed entirely of German churches, located in Illinois, Ohio, Indiana and Michigan. There are forty-three churches conected with the conference, and they have 5,735 members.

REPORTS OF BAPTIST WORK in Brazil are cheering. The missionary at Pernambuco tells of a good work of grace going on in that city, and the province. Everywhere, he says, there are signs of a spiritual quickening. Among the more hopeful signs are a desire for Bible instruction, interest in Sunday school, and in a great develop-ment of the spirit of prayer. One ex-priest. Joseph Piani, is about going to college in the United States to prepare work as a pastor and evangelist in his own country. The opportunities for work are many. Doors are opening on every hand. More men, spiritual and consecrated are needed.

THE CONGREATIONALISTS. THE VIRGIN BIRTH was the sub-ject of a very warm discussion at the meeting of the Congregational Union of England and Wales at Wolverhampton, It grew out of a paper read by Rev. Dr. Barrett, who defended the orthodox view, and said the main rea-ever. The Virgin birth was far more than the negation of the human father-hood—it was the introduction of a new—the Divine—factor. He did not believe that those who rejected the Virgin birth could long retain the Incarnation, and with the Incarnation went the deity of Christ. He believed the doctrine to be an integral and necessary deity of Christ. He believed the doctrine to be an integral and necessary part of the doctrine of the Incarnation. Three college professors from as many different colleges placed themselves on the other side so far at least as not making it a test either for admission to the church or the ministry, but the feeling of the assembly was decidedly in favor of the orthodox view.

The case was clearly and strongly presented and showed a very intimate acquaintance with the subject, and seldom have we listened to such a brief but convincing address as the Rev. William Dobson's defense of Saint Luke's statement of the case.
