WORTH WHILE.

If you want to feel you're doing something really worth your while,
Just help a man in trouble and then watch him start to smile; Take his burden on your shoulders and relieve his weight of care, And stick until you've helped him from the valley of despair; Then when he turns to thank you with a gratitude that's real, You'll be surprised that minutes just how good it makes you feel.

There's no such satisfaction as the satisfaction true Which comes from helping others in the work they have to do, And there's no such thrill of gladness like that sweet and happy thrill

Which is born of helping others who are struggling up the hill; If you want to know contentment and be truly satisfied, Just go out and help your brother when his soul is being tried.

You can boast your selfish pleasures and may glory in your fame, You may think that there is gladness in the many joys you claim, But you're never really certain that you're doing things worth while Till you've smoothed another's pathway and you know it by his smile;

When you've done some deed of kindness under friendship's bond and seal, It's surprising at that minute just how good it makes you feel.

WEDDINGS.

Ryder-Harris

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Wednesday last at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs.
Sherman B. Harris of Roofs, when their only daughter, Rita Jane, was united in marriage to Gordon Grant Ryder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Amasa Ryder of Pettibodiac.

The bride, carrying a bouquet of white and pink carnations and maiden hair ferns entered the parlor leaning on the arm of her father. She wore an elegant gown of turquoise silk with over dress of embroidered net.

Miss Jennie Wood, wearing a dress of taupe serge and velvet attended the bride, Mr. Tyler Harris, brother of the bride supported the groom, Mrs.
Winfield Webb, cousin of the bride, played the wedding march. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. D.
Wetmore of Fredericton Junction in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends of both parties.
Immediately after the ceremony and congratulations a sumptuous supper was served. The groom's gift to the bride was a set of fox furs. To the bride's maid a pearl brooch. To the groomsmen a set of gold cuff links and to the bridesmaids a set of gold brooch. The bride received many beautiful and useful presents consisting of silverware, cut glass, linen and clothes.

The bride's traveling suit was a navy blue serge with hat to match. After a visit to the groom's home the happy couple will take up their residence at Perth Junction, where the groom has a position with the Canadian Pacific Railway.

THE WHEELS OF INDUSTRY MOVE BRISKLY IN SACKVILLE.

Amidst all the talk of industry slowing down it is a pleasure to note the activity of the well-known company, The Charles Pawcett, Limited, of Sackville, New Brunswick, manufacturers of stoves, ranges and furnaces. This concern, established in 1880 by the late Charles Pawcett, has from small beginnings grown to be an industrial enterprise of outstanding importance. Pawcett goods are sold in every province of Canada and everywhere the name Pawcett is a guarantee of dependability and worth.

The first western branch was opened in Vancouver, where they own a fine block on Homer street. Here the company's full line is exhibited in a splendidly arranged show room.
The Vancouver branch proved so successful that the company was encouraged to start business in Calgary, where they have a show room and warehouse admirably adapted for the display of Pawcett goods. Later Winnipeg and Montreal were added to the list and now a branch in Toronto is in contemplation. The company is manufacturing a very wide range of ranges, stoves, heaters and furnaces, and they have this year added a full line of gas stoves and heaters.

During the Great War, when the store business was practically at a standstill, the Pawcett Company went extensively into the making of shell, and in this venture they were successful. The present year has been a red letter one for this company, whose business in 1920 was more than fifty per cent. greater than it was in 1919. A visit to Pawcett plant is a good tonic for those who are fearful that business is going to the dogs, for there one finds abundant evidence that industry, instead of halting, is making in speed with every indication that the year 1921 will prove a record breaker for The Charles Pawcett Limited.

For the past few years the Pawcett industry has been under the capable and progressive management of C. W. Pawcett, the youngest son of the late Charles Pawcett, and associated with him is Mr. H. E.
Pawcett, president, the eldest son of the founder.

In Germany, a novel motor race track is being planned for construc-ference will be five miles with a width of about 140 feet.

rush in, they should use their wings.

Victoria Rink Owner Stages A Come-back

Will Submit to Common Council Opinions of Experts
That Building is Safe.

The City Council will tomorrow hear more about the Victoria Skating Rink matter when the owner F.
E. Williams, brings before them the evidence of a number of architects, civil engineers and master builders, that the building is absolutely safe and in no danger of falling in.

Following is the letter which will be brought before the Council:
St. John, N. B., Dec. 22, 1920.
To His Worship the Mayor and Commissioners of St. John:

Gentlemen:—Recently a communication has been laid before you by Commissioner Thornton, saying that it is the opinion of Mr. James Carleton and Mr. G. G. Hare, "that the Victoria Rink is not suitable for public assemblies owing to its age and weakness."

The law says that "a Common Council shall appoint from time to time a competent person to be the inspector of buildings under this Act, who shall hold office during the pleasure of the Common Council."

"The inspector shall be an able and experienced master builder, and such inspector shall not, during the time that he shall hold such office, be employed or engaged in any other vocation or be interested in any contract or contracts for building or for furnishing materials."

Section 17 of the Building Act reads as follows:
"Upon the citation of any structure as unsafe or dangerous by the inspector of buildings, if the owner or other interested party being notified thereof in writing, shall refuse or neglect to cause the said structure to be taken down or otherwise made safe, said owner or other interested party shall forfeit for every day's continuance of said refusal or neglect a sum not less than ten or more than fifty dollars."

No Word From Inspector.
I have never had any communication from the building inspector regarding the Victoria Rink, but I have had a copy of a letter addressed to Mr.
Thornton, Commissioner of Public Safety, sent to me. I received this letter on Thursday, Dec. 16th.

I have been told by Mr. Macaulay, the manager at the Rink, that Mr.
Carleton and Mr. Hare visited the Rink on Friday, Dec. 10th, and that Mr. Carleton made the statement to Mr. Hare that "it was up to him whether the Rink was to open this winter or not."

Mr. Macaulay says they slightly examined the interior of the Rink and asked Mr. Macaulay if he did not think it was "all in."

The report I received of this was when Commissioner Thornton read this report in Council meeting on Monday.

A report like this has damaged my business very much and I do not care what contradictory evidence is given, it will hurt my business by some timid people remaining away.

Made No Recommendations.

I called on the building inspector this week and asked him to state in detail what was the matter with Victoria Rink. He refused to reply and refused to recommend anything to be done with it at the present time. The only reply I could get from him was that it was out of his hands and that he would have to go to the Mayor and Common Council.

The Act regulating construction and safety of buildings in St. John is very drastic and gives the building inspector as much power in his hands as the former Czar or Kaiser, and I cannot see why he should go to Commissioner Thornton with these reports, while the law plainly states that the owners or the interested parties should be notified in writing.

Furthermore, the building inspector, if he imagined there was anything the matter with Victoria Rink, should have visited the Rink during the summer and not wait until the manager was making his case to open the Rink, and common business courtesy should be administered by Commissioner Thornton and the building inspector, and I should have been informed before my report was read of the public press, scattering broadcast a report which is a damage to my business.

Since I became the owner of Victoria Rink, over ten years ago, I have put six extra supporting posts in the centre, put a new concrete foundation under the corner posts. I have also strengthened and braced up all the main arching ribs and renewed everything that showed the least sign of rot in the main structure.

In order to insure your Worship the Mayor and Common Council that Victoria Rink is absolutely safe, its timbers sound, its structure of such a strength that there is no possible danger, I submit to you the inspections of three architects, one civil engineer and four master builders.

I have talked to other architects and master builders in the city, but owing to the drastic power given the building inspector under this Act who holds his office during the pleasure of the Common Council, a great many of them do not want to mix in.

F. E. WILLIAMS.

Those Who Investigated.
The names of the gentlemen who have reported to Mr. Williams on the building are J. W. Fraser of Moncton, architect; Charles L. Archibald of St.
John, architect and civil engineer; A.
Gray of St. John, civil engineer; A.
Fraser of Moncton, architect; John Edgar, James Sproul, Alex.
Scott and J. H. Wilkes, all of St.
John, master builders.

PETERSBORO BY-ELECTION
Ottawa, Dec. 26.—It was officially announced on Friday night that the West Petersboro by-election would be held on February 7. The seat was made vacant through the resignation of J. H. Burnham, Unionist.

Doubtless every man has had moments when he imagines he would wake up some morning and find himself famous.

INTERNATIONAL
COURT OF JUSTICE
MAY REACH DISCORD

Attempt by Friends to Save it from Extinction May Possibly Avail.

By BURNET HERSHEY.
(Copyright, 1920, By Public Ledger.)

Geneva, Dec. 26.—Desperate attempts are being made today to save the international court of justice from what its supporters here term the menace of extinction. The word extinction is perhaps too presently applied as regards the fate of the court, although the matter is by no means sailing in smooth waters here and the danger that the world will not receive the charter for a long time is a genuine one.

One thing almost certain today is that this assembly will adjourn without attaining its most cherished purpose—the creation of a world court as envisaged in Article XV of the covenant. This is what an ardent group of representatives is fighting desperately to avert and they are today searching for an understanding with the powerful opposition that has developed in the committee of jurists engaged in the revision of the Root-Phillimore draft scheme.

Opposition Serious.

The opposition is a serious one, for it aims at taking the creation of the court out of the hands of the assembly and making the whole process one for the chancelleries and parliaments of the respective nations represented in the league. Fully two-thirds of the committee of jurists favors the adoption of a plan by which the project before becoming operative, would be first submitted to all the governments to a conference of plenipotentiaries for signing the convention, which would then require the separate ratification of each parliament.

This procedure, which is being urged by conservative members of the league, appears to have frightened some of the smaller European countries into an acceptance of almost any compromise in order to save the court.
It should be remembered that in the minds of many here the court still stands out as the one tangible, practical result this assembly could have and they are therefore bending all their efforts to put it through.

Violation of Article XV.

Not only would such a step as is now contemplated by the committee violate the express stipulation of Article XV of the covenant which gives the league, and the assembly particularly, full power to create and start a court of justice, it is argued, but it would rob the assembly of the last vestige of initiative and power and reduce it to the impotency of an international debating society. This move is regarded as a part of the general political policy pursued here by a group of states desiring the assembly of its competency in matters relating to world polity. It is in direct line with everything done up to now to minimize the importance of the assembly by placing a vague interpretation on the articles of the covenant defining its powers.

It is frankly admitted that if the powers have decided to bring the court project within the orbit of their foreign offices no amount of debating in Geneva will avail and this court, intended to have been the work of the assembly of nations, will follow its predecessors along the cautious road of the old diplomacy.
