Listowel.

The town school closed last week for the summer vacation.

Mrs. D. Roy was visiting friends and relatives in Atwood this week.

A plate-glass front is being put in G. Zilliax's store on Wallace street by Bamford Bros., contractors.

Haying on the town streets has begun. It is to be hoped that the thistles and weeds along the highways and byways will also be gathered in.

R. Roth, of the Listowel brewery, who harvested an unusually large crop of ice last winter, shipped five cars for export to Cleveland on Saturday, June 28, and has shipped one or two more

Rev. G. M. Franklin, late pastor of the Congregational Church in this town, recently made application to the Bishop of Huron to be admitted into the An glican Church ministry. His applica-tion has been accepted, and we under-stand he has been appointed to take charge of the Eastwood mission.

Wedding Bells.—On Dominion day Hugh B. Morphy, barrister of this town, led to Hymen's altar Magdelena Hess, daughter of Wm. Hess, tormerly of Lis-towel, but now of West Toronto Junctowel, but now of West Toronto Junction. The interesting ceremony took place at the residence of the bride's parents at the Junction, in the presence of a few friends. By the alliance the bachelors of this town lose one of their most popular members, but their loss is more than compensated for by the acquisition which Listowel makes in the recovery of one of her fairest daughters. quisition which Listowel makes in the recovery of one of her fairest daughters. May much conjugal felicity character ize the life partnership entered into by lift. Morphy and his bride. Another vedding, in which a couple of Listowel citizens were chiefly interested, also took place in Toronto recently. The contracting parties were Joseph Cavenagh, operator G. T. R., and Miss Elizabeth Zilliax. The event took place on the 25th June, and the happy pair have returned to town after visiting Mr. Cavenagh's home at Forest. enagh's home at Forest.

Stratford.

In the mile safety bicyle race at Petrolia on July 1, Dr. W. N. Robertson of this city, took first prize, a silver cup. He also took third prize in the mile open to ordinarion.

The examinations for entrance to the high schools and collegiate inststutes of the county commenced July 3rd, at St. Marys, Stratford, Mitchell, Listowel, and Milverton. The examiners are Inspector Alexander and Principal Merchant, at Stratford; Mr. Croly, at Milverton; and the high school head master at each of the other places.

least of a kind such as is usually looked for, took place. Instead of this, however, we had a street parade which fully compensated for any little disappointment which the public might have felt on the occasion. The forenoon of the day was an interesting one on the field, a large number of people witnessing the evolutions of the battalions, headed by their fine bands. Early on Saturday morning the troops were on the move for the station—regiment after regiment filing through the streets of the city, the soldierly columns of the 22nd being the last to leave the field—D School took up the rear—and the bag gage.

Wednesday evening there was a S. S. service in the Methodist church, in which all the schools in town united. Rev. Mr. Howie, of Knox Church, was the speaker of the evening, giving an address on "I'he International'S. S. Convention" which he attended as a delegate a short time ago. Suitable music was provided by the choir of the Methodist church.

A very pleasant and profitable evening was spent in connection with the strawberry festival in the Methodist church last Friday evening. The following was the program:—Chairman, Geo. Rodgers; music by the choir, "The Song of the Soldier;" reading, S. Anderson, "The Dentist's Chair;" music by the choir, "When the mists have rolled away:" reading, Rev. Sellery, "Kickers;" quartette, "Moonlight will come again," Misses Kerr, and Messrs. Cavanagh and Kerr; a very amusing Scotch

Trowbridge.

The members of the Good Templars' sters and oysters are the chief productions of the place, and under the new arrangements they will naturally find their way to Germany rather than England. Weather the social was a grand success. A large crowd was present, including a number from Listowel and Atwood, all of whom seemed to enjoy themselves. The fore part of the evening selves. The fore part of the evening was spent in amusements, such as croquet, football, &c. After all had partaken of the good things order was called by the chairman, Mr. Snell, who filled the position very acceptably. An interesting part of the program was the debate, "Resolved that Intemperance is more expensive than Fashion," which was very ably discussed by those who took part. The music was grand, both vocal and instrumental, and added greatly to the entertainment. The net proceeds of the social was $25.

verton; and the high school head master at each of the other places.

Those who had business with the U.S. consulate office in Stratford will be sorry to learn that through the exigencies of the American patronage system. R. W. Dunlap, the American consul here, vacates his position and returns to his former homein Tennessee. He will be succeeded in Stratford by Woolman J. Halloway of Indiana, who has been nominated by President Harrison for the position. Mr. Dunlay is an exceedingly courteous. friendly and obliging gentleman, who discharged his duties efficiently and satisfactorily. He and Mrs. Dunlap will carry with them to their southern home the best wishes of scores of citizens of the classic city and vicinity.

Owing to the inability of the Minister of Militia to be present on Friday June 28th, at camp, and perhaps other causes, no review of the volunteers, at least of a kind such as is usually looked for, took place. Instead of this, however, we had a street parade which fully compensated for any little disappointment which the public might have felt on the occasion. The forenoon of the day was an interesting one on the field, a large number of people witnessing the evolutions of the battalions, headed by their fine bands. Early on Saturday morning the troops were on the move for the station—regiment after regiment filing through the streets of the case of the entertainment. The net proceeds of the social was $25.

Mr. Cosens made a very earnest and appropriate reply, after which short speeches were made by Rev. Mr. Casson, James Beatty, ex-mayor, and others. Mr. Casson spoke of Mr. Cosens in the highest possible terms, also of their pleasant relationship during the year. He said that Mr. Cosens had been true to him and faithful to duty and that if he were at any future time placed in a position in which he would require a colleague he knew of no young man that he would rather have than Mr. Cosens. Mr. Beattie spoke of the pleasure and profit he had received from the ministration of Mr. Cosens and said he hoped that sometime after his ordination, Seaforth might be favored by having him as pastor. Mr. Cosens leaves Seaforth having the good will of many, and we wish him on his future charges as many and as true friends as he has in Seaforth.
