Freight Rates and Traffic.

The Chicago Trade Bulletin of January 25 says: The demand for cars during the week was fair and shippers were able to secure them more readily, but at the same time the railroads are still quite crowded with business and delays frequently occur in making shipments. All rail rates to the seaboard were notably firm on the basis of 25c flour and grain and 30c provisions to New York. A little demand prevailed for freights through to European markets, and moderate quantities of property was accepted. Through rates to Liverpool were steady, and ranged at 41 to 47½c flour, 39½c wheat, and corn, and 52½ to 55½c provisions according to route. A fair inquiry prevailed for vessels to load and store grain and flax seed until spring, and vessel agents 5½c wheat and flax seed to Buffalo. Shippers slow to make shipments.
