

Gord Cutler stands up for his end of the ice, but on the whole, York had problems clearing men from in front of their goal area.

Les Smith's goal at 14:32 of the final frame made the Yeomen effort respendable, but Western was just too strong to allow York to mount any kind of comeback.

"Anytime you give a team like the man all night," Hedley said, "Our defensemen weren't taking bodies."

After trying to pick the puck out from a screen of legs, arms, sticks, and slipped in his own rebound off a feed from Perry Edwards and Dennis Endrizzi.

All Mustangs in second

The second period, however, belonged to the Mustangs as they took a commanding 3-1 lead. Most of the 36 shots they hammered were from the powerhouse Westerners who were "pumped" for the match-up.

In, however, and the fact that they
