

Thomas Wigg of the Town of Cayuga being sworn South. While attending to his father's Grocery on the Market Square in the said Town of Cayuga on the afternoon of Saturday last, the two prisoners appeared in the front of the said Grocery where many people were assembled. Seeing both of the prisoners swearing at each other about their fight which seemed pained their language ^{that they} ~~that they~~ been fighting before, they soon grappled striking each other. Neither of them fell. ^{At this time} father is a Constable and commands order or he would arrest them, putting his hand on each of them threatening to take both to jail, they separated for a few minutes. When the Constable then took from the table of the Grocery a case knife and put it up his sleeve with the point of it sticking forward to his hand, when Kelly pulled out his jack knife, and told Johnson to put his knife down. When Johnson threw a stone which struck him on the face causing blood to flow at this period Constable Hall ordered arrested both Thomas Wigg D. Thorburn, J.P.