

"R. Waterman" Major.

Charles E. Levesque Lt.

In thus avoiding an important duty, the accused can be qualified of desertion according to M.M.I. Chap III, Sub 20, and that's what I am asking the Court to find him guilty of.

Moreover, on the 22nd he advised a second time that he would have to meet the enemy. He refused to advance by not showing up at his section and a second time deserted his comrades.

On Oct 9th 1943, being under enemy shelling the accused was advised more than once that he had to follow up with his section, which he did not. He then left his section without his support and so deserted forward. He also admitted he was afraid of going
