The Rev. C. H. Spurgeon.

The following extract from a private letter written by the late Dr. W. F. Humphrey, of 84 John, whose lamented demise we noticed last week, was written in London on the 18th December last : and we copy it as a memento that gentleman, as well as on account of its be ing a just tribute paid by him to the celebrate reacher of the Tabernacle :-

This morning we hunted up the great preacher of London, the Rev. C. H. Spurgeon, and heard him hold forth. It would take up too much time, and I should fail probably to give you any correct idea of his church editors. Suffice it to say, its immense size and exceeding plainness, and its simplicity of finish, we striking features. The day was very storm, and yet there were very few of the five thou sand sittings but were occupied by one of the most attentive audiences I ever saw. The test was from the Song of Solomon, 7th chap. 11-13 va. " Come my beloved let us go forth," etc. He made three general heads of the subject, (1) Self-examination with regard to what we are, individually, for Christ's cause; (2) All must be done by the help of Christ, and in entire deendence on Him; (3) All to be characteris by devotion to Christ. "There was nothing special in the that characterised any great amount of though though by no means deficient in this respect, but all strikingly marked by great simplicity as but all strikingly marked by great employers, by a full and completely great earnestness, by a full great earnest great ea of the responsibility of the position he occupies as the father of that great church. The who service is marked by the same simplicity, when he gave out that beautiful hymn, come

" My God the spring of all my joys," etc. which he read as if every line came from the he whole audience with the same spirit. Ast closed he said, 'Please sing the tune Arling n quick time, when almost simultaneously spontaneously the tune burst forth from t ands of voices, that sent such a thrill the have I heard such church music. It seemed if almost every one of the five thousand press joined, and with such earnestness and spirit really seemed to carry my thoughts to I apocalyptic company, "whose voice is like ! sound of many waters, when they chant their hallelujahs."

"I believe Mr. Spurgeon to be a thorough good man, a God-fearing man, devoted body and soul to his work, and that he is doing an in mense deal of good. May he long live to tinue his good work !"

Conclusion. Mr. EDIT'R,-Very dear to us all are the lorious tenets of that faith, which through many ages has been handed down to us by fathers-" the principles of the doctris Christ, repentance from dead works, faith ward God, the doctrine of baptisms, and of b ing on of hands, and of resurrection of the de and of eternal judgment." Such being the those, who make a direct attack upon our ent and cherished faith, must not be surprised unceremoniously handled. The Rev. Dr. Cramp has taken upon him the odium of assailing certain privileges to the the greater part of the Church of Chris ever conceived itself to be entitled. In the defence, we have been compelled to speak out more plainly than was agreeable either to out own feelings, or those of the Dr. This produced from him, not a stern array of inco rovertible facts and logical argument, but course of irrelevant personal denunciation. chief crime set forth in which, and which see mostly to have brought these maledictions up our "devoted head," is that of being a you man. The Dr. conceives that the force of guments not easily answered, is completely est mind, is brought forth the elegant " rejoinder, Tarry at Jerisho till your beard be grown." confess inability to discover the bearing of quotation upon the questions at issue. It would evidently become the school of the fishwives, not the halls of a Theological Institution. But to the argument. Six points at issue before us. 1. That Schrevelius renders baptize by a ve implying sprinkling. 2. That the ceremony of cleansing a defi person, Num. xix. 19, 21, was confined to sprint mmersed himself.

4 The impossibility of the immersion of les mentioned, Mark vii. 4.

5. That the writings of Irenaus do prohe existence of infant baptism in his day. 6 That Origen does distinctly assert an anction from the Apostles to give baptism

On these points-subjects of fair biblical historical criticism-we have taken the affine cession the Dr's. arguments in favor of the new cession the Dr's. arguments in favor of the new cession the overthrow of these, Mr. Edward did expect others, of heavier calibre, songer range, would have been brought up. 1 closing remarks" of our opponent having, ever, been made without their appearance.

But what will our readers say, when they that the Rev. J. M. Cramp, D.D., has made assertion, deliberate as it is unwarrantable, we have hop-lessly broken down. Who it is has really broken down, cannot be hid even hind such a statement as this, and it is hi worth while for the Dr. to attempt covering his retreat, from the eye of a discerning P by the erection of such a screen of very tionable morality. In taking our leave retiring foe, we would express a willi should he ever again feel disposed, to meet

Cleanses the Blood.

WITH corrupt, disordered or vitiated Blood, you are sick all over. It may burst out in Fimples, or Sores, or in some active disease, or it may merely keep you listless, depressed and good for nothing. But you cannot have good health while your blood is impure. Ayer's rarsaparilla purges out these impurities and stimulates the organs of life into vigorous action, restoring the health and expelling disease. Hence it rapidly cures a variety of complaints which are caused by impurity of the blood, such as Nerofula, or Kings' being crushed to death by the falling of a huge staking an airing on her favourite little Scotch pony, and proceeding through the tall avenue of elms at Windsor known as Queen Elizabeth's Ride, the pony being led by a gillie, and a groom Female Diseases, such an Retention, Irregularly, Suppression. During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Ex-tract of Sarsaparilla ter one dollar. Most of these tract of Sarsaparilia for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any Sarsaparilla, but often no cu-rative properties whatever. Hence bitter disap-pointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself has become synonymous with imene name itself has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla" and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obdy as shall rescue the name from the load of ob-loquy which rests uyon it. It will here be perceived that Dr. Kidder takes an extended, methodical and the rough survey of the grand field of ministerial functions. Some may read this notice with the impression that in a volume of less than five ndred pages the above numerous topics receive but a more outline treatment. But a care ful perusal of the production here presented t the notice of the reader may suffice to convinc the notice of the reader may suffice to convince him that this supposition is not well founded. Dr. Kidder is one of the best specimens of multum to more within the whole circuit of our ministerial and literary acquaintance. We speak thus from a personal acquintance with the geutleman of twenty-two years' standing. Were we to speak our whole mind respecting the excellences of this work, the present writing would swell out into the dimensions of a review, instead of a mere notice. We have nothing here of a mere notice. We have nothing here Quixotic, like the cambrous volume of Sturte-vant. This work is eminently practical. It should find its way into the hands of our own ministers. Especially should our junior ministers—those preparing for the ministry—'read, learn, and inwardly digest' Dr. Kidder's Homiletics. We hope to see it placed in the 'Course of Study' for both traveling and local preachers."
