A STUDY OF CANADAS LITTLE LON-DONS BY EDGAR WALLACE.

Se-Called Boom Towns-Many North-west Cities Have Sprung inte Importance in a Few Years-baith in the Fu-

I turned at the door to light my pipe and congratulate the lady behind the counter, on the obviously growing prosperity of the town.

"Take your pipe out, mister," she commanded; "I don't allow no smoking in this store." Then, mollified by ray evident confusion, she resumed: "Well, we reckon this is a fine city."

by nay evident confusion, she resumed: 'Well, we recken this is a fine city.' 'I murmured infine city.' 'Yell, we recken this is a fine city.' 'Yell, we recken this is a fine city.' 'Yell, we recken this is a fine city.' 'Yell said,' said the lady sharply; 'and don't put your muddy boots on that there pair of pants. City I said, and City I mean. At any rate, we shall soon be incorporated. This here Moose Jaw is as thriving and prosperous a place as there is in the West, I guess.' I guessed so, 'Too. but yentured to express my doubt as to the chance of its incorporation is so near a future as 'pretty soon.' The lady eyed me scornfully; she knew the commercial importance of her own town—nay City—Moose Jaw.
Out in the street—the straggling, loose-strung street, where the noble red man in a plug hat and moccasins trod painfully the corded sidewalks, what time his brick-faced squaw gazed in silent wonderment at gendline woollen underwear marked down to a dollar fifty—the street, with all its untidy newness, and the raw, unfinished edge of things slovenly displayed—only he who is initiated into the mysteries of colonial development, would trace indications of unusual prosperity. To the uninitiated it was a struggling line of one-storey shacks, beginning promisingly—enough with red-brick hotel and trailing off into prairie land.

There are no boom towns in Canade—if you except Dawson City—as we understand boom towns. There are towns which have sprung into the mysteries of colonial development, would that the promise of the promise o we understand boom towns. There are towns which have sprung into importance in a few years, such as Edmonton and Calgary and Regins. But these have had existence of long standing, and have only increased in ratio to the prosperity of the sur-rounding country. When Winnipeg was the Hudson Bay Company's post was the Hudson Bay Company's post Fort Garty, it occupied relatively the same position to Manitoba as it does'now. Immigration increased— it was a pitiably slow process—more and more prairie-land was broken in; the wheat crop became bigger and bigger—the needs of the urban popu-lation correspondingly increased both in quantity and variety; agriculture became a scientific pursuit necessibecame a scientific pursuit, necessitating improved machinery; the old settler, who for years had roughed it on the bare essentials of life, found

This is the way of Canada; it is also the way of the States, except that there any old street of frame-houses has its city hall and corporation. In Canada, incorporation is a prize to which every proper town aspires. It is a goal to which the newest village that was ever tacked on to a C.P.R. elevator strives. Consequently, men from the back places are inveterate liars, though this may be said in their favor, that they believe all they tell. Bragi this hay be said in their lavor, that they believe all they tell. Brag! There is no brag quite like it.

You go.
It is indeed, a thriving township, and the newspaper is a fact. The day you arrive, there have been highappenings in Bear's. Head Creek, Behold the front page of the paper.
Across four columns in black type—"Local firm gets a thousand-dollar contract. Contractor O'Grady in open competition secures order for erecting hew hotel. Successful competitor speaks with Gazette man, and expresses confidence in the future of Bear's Head Creek."
Lest it be thought that I am attempting to poke a poor form of fun at these little Londons struggling for recognition. let me say right here that I know no finer, no more inspiriting sight than is afforded by the spectacle of the almost Homeric efforts of the average Canadian township of smaller size to justify its glorious faith in the future.
"Here," says the man of the new

There are some teachers of voice culture who never take the trouble to cultivate the voice of consciousness.

In late years men mare made fortunes out of the tailings of gold mines. The mills in which the ore formerly was crusbed and the crude processes then in use allowed a large partentage of the precious metal to escape, and that loss amounted in some cases to a fortune. The stomach is just like a stamp mill in this respect, that when it is not in perfect order it allows the escape and waste of much of the precious nutriment contained in the food. That loss when continuous means the loss of man's greatest fortune — health. Science offers a remidy for this condition in Dr. Pleuce's Golden Medical Discovery. It corrects the weakness of the stomach, prevents waste and loss of nourishment, and puts the stomach, and organs of digestion and nutrition into a condition of health, which enables them to save and assimilate all the nutriment contained in the food which is eaten. In all cases of constipation the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets will speedly and permanently cure disease.

of the city, prepare the ground for future generations."

So the man of the near town site on the snake-fence, puffing at his pipe, dreaming dreams, peopling the mellow cornfields with phantom millions; erecting on this patch a sky-scrapper, on that a mammoth store, and sacrificing with some regret, but withall a stern sense of duty, the little church and the postoffice shack to make place for a ten-storied hotel. And of their faith shall they in a degree be justified. Not all of them shall be citizens of a new Chicago—a poor enough ideal, God wots!—but they shall greatly grow. They shall hit higher than they aim, because that is how the ideal works out; but in the meantime their never-ceasing In the meantime their never-ceasing fight to thrust into fame and place the town of their adoption constitutes as fine a display of true patriotism as one may well wish to see.— Edgar Wallace, in London Daily

WITH THE SAGES.

I take him to be the only rich man that lives upon what he has, owes nothing, and is contented; for there is no determinate sum of money, nor quantity of estate, that can denote a man rich, since no man is truly rich that has not so much as perfectly satiates his desire of having more; for the desire of more is want, and want is poverty.—Howe.
