GILLETT'S PERFUMED RAZOR SOAP. READY FOR USE IN ANY QUANTITY. For making SOAP, softening water, removing old paint, disinfecting sinks, closets and drains and for many other purposes.

The Evening Chit-Chat By RUTH CAMERON

As two sturdy youngsters with their shins slung over their shoulders, tramped past me on the street the other day, three words came back to us at which my companion and myself simultaneously turned to each other, smiled and then looked thoughtful.

And these were the words: "But FATHER said—" You don't see anything to smile at or look particularly thoughtful about in that? You should have heard them. It wasn't just the words. It was the tone of pride, the air of finality, of one who feels that he is saying the last possible word on a question. The youngster in the case evidently felt that he was settling the matter.

We smiled with pleasure at the little fellow's thoroughly unshaken belief in the head of the house as close kin to the Delphic oracle. We looked thoughtful because it was borne in upon both of us what a tremendous responsibility that father and all the rest of them had to carry. A rough old fisherman, who at about middle age, had changed from one of the worst drunkards and most worthless fellows in the village into a splendid man and a Christian, told me the story last summer of what helped start the change.

He was climbing over the rocks with his little girl one morning. The tide had just gone out and left the rocks wet and slippery. The father was walking ahead and the girl following. He stepped on a slippery rock and slipped. "You must look out where you step, father," called the little girl, "cause I'm stepping right where you do."

The deeper meaning of that smile the man like a blow. "Why, mum, when it came right out on my head when I thought about it," he said, and that very day he made up his mind that he must indeed "look out where he stepped."

Sounds like Sunday school fiction, doesn't it?

But as a matter of fact it really did happen just about as I've told it. Fathers and mothers, doesn't the thought of your influence terrify you sometimes?

You've just got to look out where you step, for whether you wish it or not the little ones are surely going to step right where you do.

You can't point out one way and walk another. The law of "Do as I say, not as I do," can't ever be enforced in the home, for when people live so close together the "I do" is about one hundred times stronger than the "I say."

Fathers and mothers, are you thoughtful, your spirit toward your neighbours, your spirit toward your home, your habits, the tone of your conversation, your manners, your ambitions, your beliefs such that you are willing that your children shall "step right where you do"?

Really, it's an appalling bill of responsibility, isn't it?

What Ails You? Do you feel weak, tired, despondent, have frequent headaches, coated tongue, bitter or bad taste in morning, "heart-burn," belching of gas, acid risings in throat after eating, stomach gnaw or burn, foul breath, dizzy spells, poor or variable appetite, nausea at times and kindred symptoms?

If you have any considerable number of the above symptoms you are suffering from biliousness, torpid liver with indigestion, or dyspepsia. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made up of the most valuable medicinal principles known to medical science for the permanent cure of such abnormal conditions. It is a most efficient liver invigorator, stomach tonic, bowel regulator and nerve strengthener.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not a patent medicine of secret nostrum, a full list of its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. A glance at these will show that it contains no alcohol, or harmful habit-forming drugs. It is a fluid extract made with pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength, from the roots of native American medicinal forest plants. Fads and Fashions. A wonderful array of bordered materials is found among the new spring cottons.

Huge bone buttons are shown or some of the plainest tailored suits or rough tweed.

On the guaze and chiffon neckwear beads are still the predominating note of decoration.

The odd and clever mingling of fur cloth and velvet is a feature of this season's fashions.

Scarfs made of black and colored chenille are the latest fancy and are extremely pretty.

Embroidery in porcelain beads is to be used on lingerie dresses for children and grown-up.

Sash panels have made their appearance on street dresses as well as on the evening gowns.

Marquise cotton voile and loost meshes will be the materials for spring and summer house frocks.

The military trimming of braid and buttons is quite apparent in some of the designs for the new year.

The newest veils are of the finest cobweb meshes, with shadowy figures or odd designs in chenille dots.

Gold and silver lace will be fashioned into yokes and sleeves, but veiled with chiffon or mousseline de soie.

For outdoors there are now seen straight, flat scarfs, to be worn beneath the coats, edged with fur or marabou.

White coats of all lengths are worn women are turning more and more to the very long coat for afternoon wear.

Turned-over collars of white bengaline are to be used on satin blouses.

Indigestion & Dyspepsia

In all its Forms can be Cured.

It is quite a daily occurrence to hear persons say, "Oh, what a feeling of distress I have after meals, fullness of the stomach, heaviness and headache, I feel too tired to do anything. I have no heart to exert myself and at times I care for nothing. I often have a pain in the pit of my stomach, no appetite, my heart beats rapidly on the slightest exertion. I feel just as tired when rising in the morning as when retiring to bed. My sleep is often disturbed, and I often awake with a sense of suffocation and a difficulty of again going to sleep. I have to be careful of what I eat, and my life seems a veritable burden."

Now, it seems a shame and a pity for persons to be suffering like that when it is in their power to get cured by taking a Bottle of Dr. Stafford's Prescription. A sure cure for persons afflicted with stomach troubles. It can be obtained at

DR. F. STAFFORD & SON, Duckworth Street and Theatre Hill. Small size, 25 cents; postage, 5c extra; large size, 50 cents; postage, 10c extra. Mail orders must be accompanied by remittance—Oct-9, 11m.

The effect is stiff and neat and decidedly appropriate for tailored suits.

New gowns that have appeared are extraordinarily graceful in their straight, long lines of skirt, and the loose-shouldered fit of corsage.

Little ornaments or tulle, net and satin are made to adjust on plain slippers, and frequently two or three sets will be sold with one pair of slippers.

Wide velvet girdles offer a charming contrast on gowns of soft white material. Other wide belts suggest armor in glittering scales and paillettes.

Cloth-topped shoes are procurable in plain colors, gray, tan, and dull green, while tiny checks or shadow plaids are much in evidence among smartly-dressed women.

Ratins is being made into sailor collars and cuffs. These sets are worn with tailored suits with long tweed coats for mornings or with velvet suits for afternoon.

Among the notable pendants in stone are the Maori figurines, with heads set on sideways, usually cut out of jade and called "Hei Tiki," rubies or diamonds from the eyes.

New scarfs already planned to replace fur stoles are of soft, thin, breitchschwanz lined with old cachemire silk; about the neck the edge tufts over a little to show the lining.

Americans Want First Concessions.

Want the Removal of Pulp Wood Embargo - The Reciprocity Conference.

Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 7.—It is learned that one of the propositions to be made at the reciprocity conference at Washington on Saturday by the United States representatives, in order to meet the needs of the American newspaper publishers association, will be that in return for a removal of the duty on wood pulp and print paper entering the United States from Canada, the Canadian provinces, Quebec especially, should remove the prohibition of the export of pulp wood and other manufactured lumber from the crown lands to the United States.

The paper manufacturers of the United States are anxious to get their pulp wood in order to have an almost unlimited supply for their mills.

Inquiry to-night shows, however, that there is no likelihood of Quebec cancelling the prohibition of export, and the Canadian commissioners have no power in the matter.

The province of Quebec is not a party to the reciprocity negotiations. It is not represented by the Canadian commissioners, and the Canadian Government has no jurisdiction over the provinces in this regard.

Minard's Liniment Co., Limited. Gentlemen,—I have used MINARD'S LINIMENT from time to time for the past twenty years. It was recommended to me by a prominent physician of Montreal, who called it the "great Nova Scotia Liniment."

It does the doctor's work; it is particularly good in cases of Rheumatism and Sprains.

Yours truly, G. G. DUNSTAN, Chartered Accountant, Halifax, N. S., Sept. 21, 1905.

Pottsville, Pa., Jan. 6.—One anthracite workman was killed and eight others were seriously injured last night at the Hammond Colliery of the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron Company at Gladville. The men were being hoisted in a car and were pulled over the knuckle at the top of a timber slope when the hoisting engineer left his post to attend to an air compressor, also in his charge. The car was pulled one hundred feet through the site of the engine house, with the men inside it. Anthony O'Donnell, of Lost Creek, had his head squeezed off.
