FAVORABLE INDICATIONS.

MONROE-HUNT-AYRE.

If the popularity of the leader of a political party may be guaged by the offers of voluntary assistance he receives from those who wish to become identified with him, then the new leader of the party opposed to the Government has much reason to be for the people to live should be turnproud of the enthusiasm caused by the announcements made in the ed out without mercy. Press during the past few days. If additional proofs were needed to furnish evidence of the confidence placed in him, Mr. Bennett has still more reason to be proud to-day, when we are in a position to announce the acquisition of three new recruits to the ranks of the Opposition, viz: Messrs. W. S. Monroe, Charles E. Hunt and James S. Ayre. Mr. Monroe cabled his offer of service and influence to Mr. Bennett from New York. Messrs. Hunt and Ayre made no hesitation in pledging their support to the new leader. All three of these gentlemen are so well known throughout the country that they need no introduction to the public. The high and lofty sense of duty which prompted the gentlemen above named to make sacrifices on the altar of their native land is the best testimony to their patriotism. That they should be willing to assist the leader and his party in retrieving the government of the Colony from those who now possess it is still further evidence of patriotic motives. To be associated with such men as Messrs. Monroe, Hunt and Ayre is an honor which any leader might appreciate, and we confidently assert that no matter in which district either of these will carry the standard, their election is assured. Men of the type of Monroe, Hunt and Ayre will do justice to their constituents, and their presence in an administration will stabilise and strengthen it. In congratulating Mr. Bennett on this very solid acquisition to his party, we desire also to congratulate the trio of volunteers, believing that when they make their first political appearance their reception at the hands of the electorate will fully justify their decision in declaring themselves the exponents and advocates of clean, honest government.
