System of Medicine.

Have you heard of the reform in Medicine? If not, you are behind the times. Send 3-cent stamp at once for free medical book of nearly 200 pages-"The Entire Revolution of Medicine," by Dr. J. Eugene Jordan.

The greatest boon ever given suffering humanity, no poisonous drugs used in this beautiful system, and medicines perfectly tasteless. Hundreds of dollars saved in doctors' and undertakers' bills and lives of misery through pain and suffering converted into happiness by using this system. Why destroy yourself with poisonous drugs and fill a suicicie's grave? I will be a poor excuse for the drunkard at the last great day to plead that the traffic was legalized. Send for our free book then and read it with an unprejudiced mind if you love life and would see many days.

—A Londoner who has just returned from Niagrar Falls, says that the ice scenery there has seldom been of such peculiar brillancy as at present. Prospect Park seems a veritable fairy land. The light snow froze to the trees on the islands and made them resemble a forest of marble in their pure whiteness. Then the sun shining on them makes those sparkle like myriads of diamonds. The spray from the falls ascends straight up and forms a dark cloud which hangs over the cataract. The sun shining on it causes a yellowish pink color on the falls, and, with the white robed banks and dazzling ice scenery as a backbanks and dazzling ice scenery as a back-ground, makes a wonderful spectacle. Photographers by the dozens, amateurs and professionals, are at the falls.

A New Year's Might Affair.

Jacob Harris claims that while he was walking along at the corner of Richmond and Bathurst street New Year's night, accompanied by several of his relations, Wm.

O'Hearn popped his head out of a window in his (O'Hearn's) house and accosted the party. Then he jumped out and proceeded to smash him (Harris), with the result that he was laid up for three days. This was the evidence given at the Police Court this morning by the complainant in the case of Harris vs. O'Hearn. The former had his whole family in court to prove what he said if necessary. The defendant's counsel, Mr. Love, marveled at the charge being pressed after Harris had agreed in writing to let it drop in consideration of $3 and the doctor's bill. The magistrate considered O'Hearn to pay $10, giving him a week to do it. The defendant claimed that the company shouted at him through the window.

They Appreciated Good Board.

Saturday evening the boarders and employes of the Martin House tendered a farewell supper to Mr. J. W. Martin and his family (Mr. Martin being about to leave the hotel business). After all present had partaken sumptuously of the well-laden tables, Mr. W. B. Minhinnick, who acted as clairman, in a neat speech referred very feelingly to the kindness and hospitality of the late proprietor and his family, showing the high esteem in which they were held by the boarders and employes. Miss Campbell then made the presentation consisting of a handsome dinner set. Mr. Miss Campbell then made the presentation consisting of a handsome dinner set. Mr. Martin, although completely taken by surprise, thanked the donors most sincerely for their kindness. Squire J. B. Smyth also referred to the sterling worth and character of the late proprietor and his estimable wife. The remainder of the evening was pleasantly spent in songs and speech-making and broke up shortly before midnight by singing "Auld Lang Syne" and "God Save the Queen."

Must Have Music.

A piano is an indispensable adjunct to a thoroughly-equipped kindergarten. Two new kindergartens—the Hamilton road and Queen's avenue—are ready for occupancy, but have no instruments, whereas the regulation provides that the procurement of one is compulsory before a kindergarten can be instituted. To consider this knotty question a meeting of the school trustees was held Saturday evening in the City Hall. There were present: Trustees Stephenson (chairman). Craig, Allaster, Yates, Dewer, McRobert, Turner, Tanton, Cook, McElheran, Love, Johnston, Brady and Inspector Carson. Mr. Yates explained the situation. No appropriation had been made for the pianos and it was desirable that the Board sanction the purchase of instruments for all kindergartens and also relieve several trustees from liability they assumed a year ago in getting pianos for the Simcoe and Talbot street schools. Mr. Yates moved, seconded by Mr. Craig, that the resolution requiring a piano to be purchased before a kindergartens opened be reseinded. (Carried.) It was then decided to place in the estimates for 1892-3 the cost of two new pianos for the Hamilton road and Queen's avenue kindergartens; the sume of $180 and $120 due on those in the Simcoe and Talbot street establishments and $250 for a new one at the Askin street school—in all $1,050.

The Dehorning of Cattle.

The Dehorning of Cattle.

Mr. Charles Hutchinson, county crown attorney, has received the following letter, which is pertinent to an important case now pending trial in London:

Dear Sir,—Your appeal in the Toronto Globe of Jan. 2 will undoubtedly command the attention of the humane public to the practice of dehorning cattle. The atrocious character of this infliction is manifest. One can scarcely conceive of a torture more acute, more impious, or more diabolical. As no real necessity exists for this maltreatment of cattle, the continuance of the acute, more impious, or more diabolical. As no real necessity exists for this maltreatment of cattle, the continuance of the practice should cease. If the best legal authorities have declared that cruelty to animals can only be justified when necessary (as you state in your appeal), how infernal must be the man that deliberately can premeditate the torture of an animal for the sake of slight pecuniary gain. I am persuaded that your appeal will touch the hearts of the thousands of good people; in Canada who are perhaps unaware tha such an inquisitorial cruelty even exists, and I am also persuaded that the force of a religious public opinion will cause the perpetrators to desist from this practice, the excuse for which is exceedingly specious. Allow me in this connection to quote a few sentences from Dr. Talmage's Christmas sermon, "Have you ever thought that Christ came among other things to alleviate the sufferings of the brute creation?" "Was it not appropriate that he should during the first few days and nights of his life on earth be surrounded by the dumb beasts, whose moan and plaint and bellowing have for ages been a prayer to God for the arresting of their tortures and the righting of their wrongs?" These questions I think should possess for us all a Talismanic character and incite us to more activity in behalf of the suffering brutes that claim our attention and sympathy, I am yours sincerely. HENRY DE G. ROMINSON, vice-president of the Niagara Falis (Ont.) Humane Society.

The Liquor Question.
To the Editor of the Advertises:
Your contemporary, as it has done for years, occupies its room upholding the brewery, pointing out how useful breweries are to a place and what superior people brewers usually are. I agree with the Free Press. The recent reduction of ligarest was avidently as mistake. Instead brewers usually are, I agree with the Free Press, The recent reduction of licenses was evidently a mistake. Instead of reducing from 69 to 50, we should have increased the number of saloons to 200. Nothing would do so much to civilize London, for the boys growing up, or to promote law and order, unless it would be for the city to bonus a dozen additional breweries. What is needed in a city is more work. Nothing else would create so much work for policemen and judges and jailers. for policemen and judges and jailers. Another of the claimants to fame in having "taught Patti to sing" is Signor Giuseppe Nicoloa, of Chicago, a white-haired man of 60. He knew the diva first in 1851, when he lived next door to her family in Tenth street, between Third and Second avenues, New York. She was then a girl of 9 or 10 years, and the signor accompanied her on the piano while she sang childish ballads. Then a few years later he taught her "La Sonnambula," the first opera she ever learned, and afterwards "La Traviata," "Onn Giovanni," "Lucia di Lammermoor" and "Rigoletto."

THE PLACE FOR

POWELLS

The cutting and slashing of all prices or winter goods will startle buyers of Drygoods, Millinery and Mantles. We can't afford to hold our stock one day longer than we can push the goods out. Let is be remembered that we can afford to sell awfully cheap because we are always buying and clearing lines of goods from wholesale houses at desperately low prices; and buying bankrupt stocks when we can get a good stock at a right price, this enables us to undersell houses who buy their goods in the regular way. Don't forget, please, that January will be the month you will get all lines of winter Drygoods from cost to half the cost of hundreds of many desirable lines of goods. We could not sell at half price if we did not buy bankrupt stocks and clear out job lots.

Everybody please remember that we shall clear out the following lines of good at from cost price to half price, viz.:

Ladies' Mantles, Jackets, Dolman's
