glorious Christianity. Notice also in this seene that another world that night joined our world in worship. The star made a bow of obeisance.

But this scene also impresses me with the fact that the wise men of the East came to Christ. They were not fools, they were not man to Christ. They were not fools, they were not man to Christ. They were the Magi, the most splendid and magnificent men of the century. They were the maturalists and the scientists. They knew all that was known. It was the life-long business of these astrologers to saidy the stars. Twenty-two hundred and fifty vera before Christ was born the wise men knew the procession of the equinoxes and they had calculated the orbit and the return of the comets and the three wisest men of all the century came to the manger. So it has always been—the wisest men some to Christ, the brainiest men come to the manger. Who was the greatest astronomer of the world? Herschel, the Christian. Who was the greatest astronomer of the world? Herschel, the Christian. Who was the greatest astronomer of the world? Herschel, the Christian. Who was the greatest astronomer of the world? Knot this scene that it was a winter not God chose for his son's nativit.

It wing December that he was born, that this is a Christ for people, hlast; for people under cloudes people with frosted hopes; for peo, thermometer below zero. That is son he is so often found among inte. You can find him on any ning off the moors. You can see himinght coming through the dark like city. You can see him putting under the fainting head in the cabin. He remembers how the wifed around the caravansery in Betliat December night, and he is in sy with all those who in the povertie shutters clatter on a cold night.

Notice fact that, no one seems to
