MAKING MERRY.

Tenth Annual Dinner of the Western University Medicos.

Supper, Song and Speech Pleasantly Combined

In a Fow Hours of Fleasure at the Festive Board-Some of Those There -- The Toast List and Responses.

The tenth annual banquet of the medical department of the Western University last inght was as merry an occasion as the students knew how to make it, and few can excel them in the entertainment line. About 200 guests sat down to the tables in the Tecumseh House dining hall, which was gaily festooned with flags and bunting. The Union Jack and the Stars and Stripes, side by side, fittingly symbolized the international amity that ought to prevail. The gathering was thoroughly representative of the professional and business interests. It was a bright and lively affair too. The speeches were brief, pointed and well seasoned with wit, and the oratory was varied by plenty of instrumental and vocal music. Under the able direction of the leader, Mr. Fred L. Evans, the Grand Opera House Orchestragave some delightful selections during the discussion of the menu.

Mr. Peter B. Wood, as president of the banquet committee, was the chairman of the evening. To the right and left of him

Trinity Medical College, Toronto, was represented by Mr. Gordon, who praised the hospitality of the local reception committee. He made a very spirited speech. Mr. Rykert, son of J. C. Rykert, ex-M.P., replied for Toronto University and complimented London's water. Mr. Mclatyre speke for MeGill University and conveyed the greetings of his alma mater to the Western.

Song—Fred L. Evans.
Song—Ward Sutherland.

Mr. R. A. Little proposed in good form the toast of the "Graduates and Undergraduates of the Medical Department of the Western University." Dr. Hobbs referred to the success of the western graduates in Buffalo, Detroit, Duluth, Ontario, Manitoba, the Northwest, Montana, Utah, Wisconsin, Michigan, and other places. The speaker said he had applied to Albany to be registered as a practitioner in New York and sent his Toronto University diploma. It was refused. He sent his Western University diploma and it was accepted. (Cheers.)

Song—R. Macpherson.

W. G. Macdonald for the fourth-year men made a practical address and made a punning reference to The little drops of water, little drops of milk, That make the little doctors of the homeopathic lik.

E. Windsor spoke modestly for the recomising freshmen.

school is too minute in detail. There seems to be an endeavor to impress the scholars with the idea of the omnipresence of the principal. You don't know when he will appear upon the scene, therefore look out! Again, whether correct in their judgment or not, the scholars imagine that any misunderstanding with one teacher puts them on the black list, and they are more closely watched and are liable to be misjudged by the other teachers. To my mind one fruit ful source of trouble is spare periods; or, to put it plainly, idle haif-hours. Why? I would take a wiser head than mine to answer. Would it not be possible for the principal to teach a class now and then? It is done in other equally important institutes. The methods of punishment for senior scholars and the obligation to be in your seat before the bell stops reminds one of the days of the primary school. Prohaps these are advanced ideas?
